GERMANS FAVOR WORLD'S PEACE BODY

Berlin, Wednesday, Sept. 19.—(Via London, Sept. 20.)—While the text of the German reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals will not be announced before Saturday the Berlin Press and parliamentary circles concur in the prediction that the message will not contain specific declarations concerning Belgium.

The fate of that country is calling forth excessive pan-German frothing due to recurrent rumors that the government had definitely decided to abandon all intentions of permanent control in the occupied Belgian territory.

While these reports are said to have basis in the alleged "trial balloon" sent out by England, they equally carry earmarks of an obvious artificial inspiration for the purpose of supporting the annexationists' campaign.

Officials here today were absolutely non-committal on the subject of German answer outside of admitting it will be delivered to the papal delegate at Munich tomorrow. The impression prevailing in well informed quarters is that the note will leave the subject of Belgium in abeyance. This is considered wholly in keeping with the pope's present efforts at mediation, which, it is pointed out, do not call for specific peace terms of any of the belligerents.

On the subject of international arbitration the German note will express approval of the suggestion. However, in view of previous failure of such an international tribunal it is assumed the pope will come forward with proposals incorporating a scheme calculated virtually to serve as an institution of international arbitration.

Summary of the Day's War News

Early this morning the British infantry went "over the top" on a wide front east of Ypres and the Flanders offensive was on again.

The rush evidently was successful at the outset, for the capture of positions of value were reported by Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig during the forenoon, and the progress made was described as satisfactory.

The renewal of the offensive came after a long pause in which intensive preparatory work had been carried on unceasingly. The fighting in this period indicated was such as to pile up heavy casualties on both sides, while the crushing drum fire from the British guns has been admitted by the Germans to have had a destructive effect upon their positions.

Early reports did not outline definitely the extent of the front attacked.

GREAT ARMY MOVES TO CAMPS WITHOUT DELAY OR FRICTION

Washington, Sept. 20.—The influx of men for the national army continued at sixteen cantonments, but reports to the war department indicated that the greater part of the 300,000 called to the colors yesterday already have arrived.

From the time the men left home evidences of the government's extensive preparations were seen. Provided with special trains the various quotas converged toward the mobilization camps.

INDIANA MAN OF PERSHING FORCE DIES IN FRANCE

Washington, Sept. 20.—The death of two members of the American expeditionary forces is announced in dispatches to the war department. Myron Bertman, of North Vernon, Ind., captain of engineers, died Tuesday as the result of a tumor, and Edmund Squire, a butcher, died of pneumonia, Sunday.

The men were assigned to quarters in the model military cities erected by the government and were then partially equipped. The next step will be their examination by military physicians and organization into provisional companies for administrative purposes.

DROPS DEAD IN LOBBY

William S. Wells Dies Suddenly at Hotel Anthony Thursday Afternoon.

HAD BEEN AILING FOR SEVERAL MONTHS

Deceased Was Talking With a Friend When Stricken With Apoplexy.

William S. Wells, 56, insurance salesman, and a former member of the state legislature, dropped dead in the lobby of the Anthony hotel Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Death was due to an attack of apoplexy, Coroner J. E. McArdle reported, after making an investigation of the body.

Mr. Wells had been ailing for some time. He had been under the care of a physician a part of the time. He complained of pains in his side Thursday morning.

Mr. Wells had been in poor health for months and early last spring and winter was seriously ill with dropsy for weeks but in recent months had appeared improved and believed he was recovered.

A telephone call summoned Mr. Wells to the Anthony shortly after noon for a business discussion. His wife advised him to remain at home. Mr. Wells was determined to fill the engagement.

He was humming a droling tune when he entered the hotel lobby, a few minutes before 1 o'clock. He met the man with whom he had the engagement, and the two repaired to chairs at the corner of the corner of the hotel.

Suddenly Mr. Wells ceased talking. He slipped quietly to the floor. His body lay crumpled up on the heavy carpet.

His friends ran to the desk and asked that assistance be given. Several men in the lobby aided in raising the limp form to the large chair from which Mr. Wells had fallen. A physician was summoned. The doctor pronounced the body to be lifeless and advised the calling of the coroner.

Autopsy Is Held.
Autopsy by Coroner McArdle was brief. He pronounced the death due to apoplexy. The brief inquest has scarcely been completed when the ambulance of Schone & Ankenbruck was announced as waiting at the curb before the hotel.

Scores of guests in the hotel formed a circle about the body while the remains were placed upon a stretcher and removed to the ambulance. The body will be taken to the home later in the afternoon.

Well Known Man.
William S. Wells had been a well known resident of Fort Wayne for over a quarter of a century. He was a political figure of more than local reputation and had served in the sessions of the state legislature in 1903 and 1907.

Mr. Wells had been an insurance salesman in late years. A short time ago he was made district manager for an automobile insurance company. He was local organizer for the Benevolent Order of Buffalos for several years and an enthusiastic member of the United Commercial Travelers.

Mr. Wells was a machinist for the Pennsylvania railroad at Harrisburg, Pa., before he came to Fort Wayne and for some time after moving to this city.

He was a moving factor in the Potato Patriots' association and his efforts are largely credited the success of the recent celebration held in Foster park, at which time Senator James E. Watson was the principal speaker. Mr. Wells was one of the most active boosters for the food show, which is being planned in Foster park.

He was one of the men who aided in bringing about the settlement of the street car strike in Fort Wayne two years ago.

William Wells had always been active in democratic politics of Fort Wayne. He was a candidate before the recent primary for state representative.

Born in Pennsylvania.
The deceased was the son of the late

OFFICERS OF THE AMERICAN FORCE GIVEN WAR CROSS

American Headquarters in France, Wednesday, Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—Brig-Gen. George B. Duncan and Maj. Campbell King are the first American officers to receive the war cross in the French awards growing out of American participation in the recent Verdun offensive when they acted as observation officers in forward artillery posts. Whether the officers will be permitted to wear the cross has not been announced.

GOV. GOODRICH CONTINUES TO GAIN IN FIGHT

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 20.—Governor Goodrich, ill of typhoid fever, had the best night's rest he has had for some time, his physicians announced early today. He continues to improve.

The doctors in charge of Governor Goodrich at the hospital reported this morning that he shows continued steady improvement. The doctors have overcome the rigid condition of body and this is leading to further improvement, they say.

WARRANT TO ISSUE FOR MAYOR SMITH

With Tragedy.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 20.—Five separate investigations were begun today into the killing of city policemen yesterday by gunmen whom the authorities allege confessed to have been brought here from Jersey City for the primary election by one of the rival factions in the contests for leadership of the Fifth ward, known as the "Bloody Fifth," and announcement was made that a warrant for the arrest of Mayor Smith would be sworn out as the results of charges by Isador Stern, a member of the state legislature to the effect that he had forewarned the mayor of the importation of the gunmen.

Stern charged that Mayor Smith ignored his appeal for protection in the ward in the face of proof that the gunmen were responsible for the attack on the Finletter Republican club a few hours before Policemen Epley was slain and two other men badly beaten. The mayor denied that he had any knowledge that the men were to be brought here and declared he was ready for any warrant of arrest. The affair has aroused the city as probably no other of a similar nature in its history.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 20.—The state board of accounts in a report which became public today charges State Senator James Nejdil with owing Lake county a total of $17,985.95, because of alleged deficiencies in the construction of a two mile brick road in Lake county that has just been completed and accepted by the county commissioners. Nejdil is a road contractor. The report charges that Nejdil did not pave properly the street intersections as provided in the contract; that the contractor did not follow specifications in the grade; that the quantity of cement used was below the amount named in the specifications, and that a sufficient sand cushion on which the bricks were to rest was not provided.

SHERMAN ACT WAR BOTHER

Anti-Trust Law Denounced

Men Hears Measure Scored.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 20.—A vigorous denunciation of the operation of the Sherman anti-trust act as hampering the efforts of business men to aid the government in prosecution of the war was made by Alba B. Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive works, before the war convention here of American business men today.

"If there is any one thing this war has demonstrated," he said, "it is that the principle of the Sherman act will not stand the strain of war. The moment the stress of war comes in the nation we see this temple to a false god overturned. The government itself is eliminating competition and has realized that business must be conducted on a basis of reasonable profit. The only way to reach that basis is by conferences among producers.

Unpatriotic business men seeking excessive profits were blamed for the spirit of unrest among labor by Secretary of Labor Wilson, who spoke before the labor session of the convention.

"Labor has been restless," he said, "because the word has gone forth that iron and steel men are making 200 to 400 per cent profit and that shipping, mining and the other great industries are getting excessive returns. This feeling on the part of labor has been justified. In my investigation of the coal industry in the east it was shown that operators in some instances extorted $5 and $6 for coal that cost them $1.50.

"I have told labor this is no time to insist on recognition of their unions nor to force changes in labor standards, but this program endangers the future liberty of the people. I now tell you American business men it is no time to insist on profiteering as many have been doing. You should welcome price fixing because it means a logical standard of pay for labor. Labor and yourselves find a common ground that is acceptable, if not satisfactory, to insure the greatest amount of production at the least cost in cash and labor. There should be no swag to divide between capital and labor.

Economic Superiority Will Win.
In an address today before the foreign trade session before the convention, James Farrell, chairman of the national trade council and president of the United States Steel corporation, asserted that the war would be a war of economic superiority and that on the side of the United States and the allies lies the preponderance of weight in this respect. Germany, the speaker said, must be already approaching exhaustion. Mr. Farrell added that it was imperative that American business men should wholeheartedly join in solving the problem of how the resources of the United States can be best employed in the carrying on of the war.

In part Mr. Farrell said: "The United States is called upon to do its share of a tremendous task with a meagre merchant marine. No Unified Control.
"Yet, although it was apparently the intention of congress to concentrate in the shipping board all the functions relating to the American merchant marine, there is, as yet, no unified control of tonnage. Vessels are impressed for the navy and held under navy control; vessels are impressed for the army. It was only after two years of such wastage that the British government was moved to create a ministry of shipping with supreme powers over all tonnage. The

PORTLAND PAPER TAKES NEW NAME ADOPTS ENGLISH

Portland, Ore., Sept. 20.—The Oregon Deutsche Zeitung changed its name today to the Portland American. Its editor, Max Luoke, who has been under investigation by the government and other German employees, have been dismissed, according to A. M. Kern, its publisher, and hereafter it will be printed wholly in English. Kern said the changes were made because he had been notified the paper should be printed in English.

IMPORTANT POSITIONS ARE CAPTURED

British Headquarters in France and Belgium, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Field Marshal Haig's offensive which was begun at dawn this morning on the Belgian battle front is progressing with marked success, especially in the crucial sectors.

A bitter fight is in progress in the neighborhood of Inverness copse, Muns wood and Glencorse wood. If the attacks maintain the positions to which they have advanced in this section they have accomplished one of the most remarkable and most important achievements in recent months. The German infantry is making a most determined resistance to retain this vital ground and the Teuton artillery is retaliating heavily against the British big guns.

The British barrage swept the country like a broom. The Germans knew the attack was coming, but were unaware of its exact locality. There was a light rain last night, but the weather cleared this morning and the visibility is improving.

Today's offensive will be known as the battle of the Menin road. Fair weather had improved the ground, but the mud was still deep and the whole territory covered with water-filled shell holes, tangled barbed wire and

SOLDIER OF THE AMERICAN ARMY TO BE INTERNED

Port Oglethorpe, Ga., Sept. 20.—Sergeant Alfred Bonhaupt, of the Sixth United States infantry, who served with General Pershing in Mexico, has been discharged from the army, it was learned today and interned at the German prison camp here as an enemy alien. Bonhaupt's dismissal from the army followed the interpreting of a letter which he wrote his sister in Germany, in which he expressed regret that the United States had entered the war against Germany and the hope that he would not have to fight against his native land. His internment with other Germans here was ordered by the bureau of immigration.

SWEDISH ENVOY DENIES HE WAS TO GET MEDAL

Mexico City, Sept. 20.—Folk Cronholm, former attaché of the Swedish legation, in a statement to the Associated Press today denied that German Minister von Eckhardt offered or promised him a decoration in a German order, or that he received any such decoration. Cronholm also denied that he had "furnished the German minister with information gathered among the enemies of his country in Mexico."

"I am not in a position to make any statement, being that this country is contrary to the diplomatic principles of my country, as I am only an executive organ of my government and still ignorant of the statement that the same might have issued on the subject. Once in possession of an authentic text of such a statement I may be able to add some complementary remarks."

"Referring to the decoration mentioned in this connection, I hereby declare that the German minister Eckhardt has not offered me any such decoration."

THE CITY MARKET QUESTION.

There is this about the Fort Wayne city market that, no matter what arrogances it may assume and what disdain it may exhibit, there is nothing compulsive about going there to trade—nor advantage, either, so far as that is any consideration.

If there has ceased to be convenience, accommodation and material advantage in patronage of the city market, let the people go to—not the place some of the vendors by their conduct and bearing if not actually in words, but to their grocers. There they may find ready sympathy and perhaps substantial appreciation. In any event and under all circumstances it is the privilege of the harried consumer to buy where he likes. He may patronize the market if he choose and the difficult way of it suit him, or he needn't.

We are merely indulging a fancy and not putting forth a suggestion when we say that if it should come about that the ultimate consumer in this city should with anything like one accord superciliously snub the market the result might be surprising and even can be imagined as going to salutary length. That, however, is wholly the business of the ultimate consumer, who may do, as we already have said, quite what he likes about it. He may buy his green things and other provender there or he needn't. Choice is up to him for decision.

But the city and the city market together in the relation sustained mutually between them make up another story. And the story opens an interesting vista of speculation. Does it pay the city to maintain the market if it doesn't advantage the people to have the market maintained? Now there's a question that's not academic—an issue that isn't political.

Meanwhile, Mayor Hosey says that if there cannot be a square deal in the city market for the Fort Wayne public—whose property the market is—close it up, abolish it and so on. That is logical; also obviously, in the extreme necessity, the thing to do, since it costs the city money to maintain the market. We doubt, however, that anything so formal and drastic may be required. We the more incline to believe that the public of this city can deal wholesomely and effectually with the rapacities of the market. It is wholly up to them to endure or rebel. It is clear enough, we believe, to get into almost any receptive intelligence that a market without marketers is likely to become a great futility—a vast disappointment and bitterness—to those who go there to huckster.

Yet the mayor's suggestion points a way to deal with the abuse of an institution. There is nothing to compel the city to maintain a market whose benefits are not divided with the party of the first part.

The Junior Red Cross society that it is proposed to organize among the millions of boys and girls in the schools of the country is an admirable movement. President Wilson has given it a hearty endorsement. He has gone even farther than that and issued an executive proclamation to the boys and girls of America calling them to the colors. This, we believe, is the first time in the nation's history that the youth of America has been honored by distinct and special attention in a presidential proclamation. Their response to it should be hearty and general; their devotion to the cause to which they are summoned zealous and complete.

It is patent that at this time the organization of boys and girls into Junior Red Cross societies throughout the land contemplates aid that may be given the nation and government in their time of great need. But the good of it lies much deeper and will go much farther. It will establish a broad and continuing opportunity for the boys and girls who constitute Young America to become imbued with that spirit of patriotism which can express itself only worthy deeds. It is one thing to hurrah for the flag and it is another thing to serve the flag. It is one thing to expend an abstract pity upon suffering and it is another thing to relieve suffering. The Junior Red Cross will reveal to countless thousands of boys and girls not only the meaning but the duty of service and the ineffable joy of consecration and sacrifice of self to larger and better purposes of life.

While the war continues the work of the Junior necessarily will be greatly of service to the nation. After the war the good work may be pursued in channels that always are open to any who are willing to give time and effort to relieve the never ceasing distresses of humanity. The war will leave a vast and appealing field for the labor of the Red Cross and all kindred agencies. The boys and girls of the Junior Red Cross will in a short time become the men and women of the parent society and will take into that great humane organization the knowledge and training and sympathy that will come to them in the Junior society.

The war is going to inflict many poignant distresses upon the people of America. Sore bereavement will be the portion of many. Poverty and want, sickness and neglect will be the hard visitants to many others. Those who in any way suffer the greater and sharper pains of the conflict that now has involved this country in its perils and will wrench so many people with its agonies ought to have prompt help and support in whatever ways and by whatever means in the readiest way will minister to their needs and carry the tenderness and mercy of human kindness into their sorrowed lives. The Junior Red Cross will after awhile find countless doors through which want, grief and desolation have preceded them and where their sympathy and aid will find welcome and appreciation that only the heart bowed down can bestow.

THE ROAD TO DAMASCUS.

We do not know at just what place of the road to Damascus Chicago's Big Bill was stricken with the light and it doesn't greatly matter. It is of consequence mainly that the incandescence of the nation's spirit has come upon and gone into him.

Wilhelm der Grosse takes his pen in hand to write and having writ proclaims:

It is the duty of all patriotic citizens to stand by our country in times of controversy with any other nation, and to show in an unmistakable way that the American people stand behind the army and the navy which represent the majesty of our government.

The which being true and now evident to Big Bill, he counsels and enjoins to patriotic effect this wise:

Therefore I, William Hale Thompson, mayor of Chicago, call upon our citizens to show to our soldiers and sailors who are leaving for the front that our hearts, our hopes, our prayers go with them and will abide with them on the fields and on the sea, where their deeds shall shed further luster on the flag of freedom; and in the name of our two and a half million people, united in a common love for the blessings of our free government, and with assurance of our fondest hopes for the success of our arms in any conflict in which they may engage, I bid our soldiers and sailors God speed.

That was a long time coming and has come, we doubt not, through great anguish of mind and travail of spirit. And it is sufficient, not only as a proper send-off for Chicago's intrepid young soldiers and sailors, but as the convincing evidence that Mayor Thompson has seen the breaking of a great light and beheld his duty and the way of it to repatriate himself. The second city of the nation is restored to the union and the burgomeister of the "sixth German city of the world" has at length by the undoubted grace of God and the proddings of some tens of millions of Americans recovered the dignities and the spirit of his recreant citizenship. It will be some time before he shall cease to be an unloved and unlovely Big Bill, but his start is seemingly fair, for his words read right nice.

Three hundred thousand more young Americans have gone into the great camps to have soldiers made of themselves. The procedure toward actual war is a bit tedious and not what can be called a great celerity, but we're getting on with the job, though we started with nothing. By next spring your Uncle Samuel will have armies of a million and a half of trained and equipped men and a million and a half of the strongest and freshest young soldiers in the world will set up a mighty good argument for the kind of peace these soldiers have been brought together to fight for. And getting these vast levies of men is not all nor the most that this country is accomplishing. As the Milwaukee Germania Herold says in an editorial reprinted elsewhere on this page, it will be a great national service to America to get to the people of Germany an understanding of the might with which this country is coming into the war. The German people in the mass may not hold complete correspondence of opinion with the Prussian war caste and the Junkers as to the German aims of the war.

SHOWING HIS TEETH

A German-American Paper's View

(Milwaukee Germania Herold.)

Every citizen of German birth has rendered the oath of allegiance to the country of his adoption. His very pride of ancestry should remind him of the old saying: "To be German is to be faithful." In this case faithful to this country.

No man can serve two masters.

Every citizen can serve only his own country. And the outbreak of the war with Germany can alter nothing in this respect, as far as the citizen of German descent is concerned. He is in duty bound, by his oath of allegiance, to remain at his post, unhesitatingly and unflinchingly, even unto death.

How very grave! But every dark cloud, if there is such a cloud, has a silver lining.

Cannot the man of German blood render a service even to the country which is still dear to his heart by the very fulfillment of his duty as an American citizen?

America alone can and will be the decisive factor.

Only in Germany a general conviction that America can and will decide the issue does not seem to prevail. They do not know in Germany the inexhaustible resources of America; they do not know in Germany the indomitable will of our country to conquer. They perceive merely that so far we progressed slowly, but they forget the fact that the United States was utterly unprepared. Yet sufficient support can and will be given the entente powers for a preliminary check—to hold out till America's armies of millions reach Europe's soil and gain the victory.

To bring this to the consciousness of the German people the German-American can lend his aid.

Furthermore, he may impress upon the mind of the German people that they may have an honorable peace as soon as they will themselves take hold of matters in the German empire.

America alone stands firm, unbroken, fresh with inexhaustible resources. It does not fight to gain reimbursement of its war expenditures. This must be made clear to the big heads of the pan-Germans and to the Prussian Junkers. They must learn to relinquish all thoughts and dreams of world dominion.

If the German people will it, the useless shedding of blood will cease. Then America will dictate the terms of peace, which the president of the United States already has proclaimed in the following words:

"Punitive damages, the dismemberment of empires, the establishment of selfish and exclusive economic leagues, we deem inexpedient and in the end worse than futile, no proper basis for a peace of any kind, least of all for an enduring peace. That must be based upon justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind."

OF TWENTY BILLIONS BUT HALF IS REALLY TO GO INTO THE WAR

BY BASIL M. MANLY.

Appropriations by congress the present year will total more than twenty billion dollars. This stupendous sum is more than a third of the aggregate income of all the people of the United States.

Is all this wealth to be consumed in the fire and smoke of battle, as many pro-German propagandists are trying to make the people believe?

Are we simply throwing more than a third of what the American people will produce this year into the lap of the war god with no hope of return? Or is a large part of these thousands of millions simply an investment, from which we shall reap commensurate returns?

Suppose we analyze for ourselves. Look down the column for the largest single item—"Loans to Allies"—$7,000,000,000. Here are seven billions right at the start for which the responsibility of interest and capital payments rests not on us but on our allies.

And here's another big item—$1,300,000,000 in round figures for the shipping board. Where is this money going? Why, into ships—the best investment in the world for years after the war. Some of these ships are sure to be sent to the bottom, but as a whole they are not only going to pay for themselves, but managed with judgment and efficiency, will pay into the federal treasury an amount equal to their initial cost every year they are operated, even if ocean freight rates drop to one-third their present level.

Then there is $150,000,000 for the food administration. This will be used to purchase foodstuffs for resale, the federal government will therefore always have in the form of money or food the full value of every dollar. It is an investment and not an expense.

Similarly with $55,000,000 appropriated for war risk insurance, used simply as a capital fund. Under present rates and losses this capital will return to the treasury a considerable profit.

Then there are items of $35,000,000 for the Danish West Indies, $20,000,000 for a nitrate plant which can produce fertilizers in times of peace, and $5,000,000 for the Alaska railway, all simply investments, to say nothing of various amounts estimated roughly at tures, but really additions to the nation's capital.

Now we come to another kind of item—$550,000,000 for aviation. Have you ever thought what the situation would have been if the war had ended with America's aviation as it was until this appropriation was made? Let me tell you.

When peace returns the air is going to be the great new highway of commerce for passengers, letters and light packages. During the war the aviation progress has been at least as great as during ten years of peace, and it has all been made by European countries with Uncle Sam asleep at the switch, except for a few private concerns.

If we had not had a big aviation program forced on us by war, we would have come into this great new field of commerce at least ten years behind France, England, Italy and Germany. With the big sums the United States is now investing in airplane development, we are going to enter the after-war airplane competition on something like equal terms. So this airplane appropriation ought to be counted as an investment.

Then there are about a billion and a half dollars for the ordinary government departments, which must be supported in peace war.

Deducting these various items, we find while we must raise about twenty billion dollars during the present year at least half ought to be counted as investment.

Ten billion as actual war expenditure is an enormous sum; but if we consider that it is only about a fifth of our national income, it becomes apparent that we are not going broke, and that the burden is not nearly as heavy as our pro-German friends would have us believe.

VALUE OF PRESS FREEDOM.

(Cincinnati, O., Times-Star.)

The discovery of defective cartridges in the supplies furnished to General Pershing is one more incident that demonstrates the danger of establishing a bureaucratic censorship of the press. Publicity is the greatest deterrent to official delinquency. If this administration had been given the spotlight over the press which it asked for at the beginning of our part in the war, all such instances as this would be kept from the public. Secrecy of that sort would be a constant temptation to carelessness. The knowledge that official delinquency will be known serves to keep responsible officials on their toes.

thing that is chiefly discreditable to the present administration is that it attempted to force upon the country a press censorship drastic in the extreme. Such an effort was an assumption that the press is disloyal; that the administration is afraid of the light. All developments have demonstrated that the press is loyal and that there were no grounds for the administration's fear of publicity.

TRADE WITH NEUTRALS.

(New York Journal of Commerce.)

The trouble is not that American goods get into Germany after being imported to the markets of those bordering countries, but that they enable those countries to send their own products to that enemy country, which they could not otherwise do. They do not send the same kind of products; but, if we supply food and materials to them which they might provide for themselves, they are enabled to release labor from the production of these and devote it to producing munitions and other things to sell to Germany which they could not otherwise do. It is easy to see how this may work, and actually has worked, to the aid of the enemy and the profit of these neutrals. While this kind of trading was to our advantage it was defended; now that it is to our disadvantage it is discontinued and we are determined to stop it, being no longer neutral ourselves. Self-interest is quite as powerful with nations as with individuals in determining conduct. In a situation like the present it is a pretty serious matter.

Fifty Public Health Nurses Assigned to Army Cantonnments.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—Fifty public health nurses have been assigned to duty by the American Red Cross to the zones around the national army cantonnments, national guard camps and naval bases. The nurses will work under the Red Cross sanitary directors in co-operation with the local, state and federal health authorities.

Nurses have already taken up their work in civil districts around the cantonnments at Hattiesburg, Miss.; Ft. Riley, Kansas; Des Moines, Iowa; Louisville, Kentucky; Little Rock, Arkansas; Ayer, Massachusetts; Chillicothe, Ohio; Atlanta, Georgia; Newport News and Petersburg, Virginia. As visiting nurses in the rural territory and cities adjoining the camps, the Red Cross nurses assigned to public health work will endeavor to prevent the spread of tuberculosis, malaria and social diseases, and to strengthen the local infant welfare programs.

Nurses have been chosen for this service by Miss Jane A. Delano, chairman of the National Committee on Red Cross Nursing, with special reference to the public health needs of the nation as a whole. If the public health nursing service of the state in which the cantonnement is situated is strong in numbers the Red Cross has called upon nurses from that state. Otherwise, nurses have been chosen from the states from which the troops in training have been drawn. A permanent Red Cross public health service will undoubtedly be the outcome of the work now being undertaken in army districts.

Besides the special work in camp zones, Red Cross nurses in the town and country nursing service are at work throughout the country, largely in rural and mining communities. Ninety-four women are so engaged in nursing and teaching the care and feeding of infants, first aid and home dietetics, and assisting in the fight against tuberculosis. It has been estimated that 48 per cent of the troops in the civil war came from the country districts. While the percentage will not be so large in this war, the Red Cross has undertaken to see that their families and homes are kept well and safe against the day of the country soldier's return.

Uncle Harry Tells About The Silent American Army

A cold September rain beat against the window panes as the Current Events class, including Jim and Joe's mother, drew up their chairs before a cozy open fire.

"I would like to tell you this evening," began Uncle Harry, "about our great new American army."

"Do you mean the great conscript army that is being brought together, Uncle Harry?" asked Joe.

"Guess, again, Joe," replied Uncle Harry.

The little audience was plainly puzzled. Suddenly the mother of the boys spoke up.

"You mean our army, Harry," she said proudly, "don't you?"

"That's fine," replied Uncle Harry, "and I know that thousands of other boys and girls will do likewise. For our soldiers and sailors must be made to feel that the folks at home are thinking of them. And they must be taken good care of before they leave for France. Women are doing a great part of the splendid work of the commission on training camp activities, created by the war department. They are providing our soldiers, sailors and marines with wholesome amusement and recreation in club rooms, social halls, parish houses and even in their own homes. The Y. M. C. A.'s throughout the country are also doing splendid work in this respect."

"Mother says that saving and preserv-

"Yes, Alice," he replied. "I mean the vast army of American women who are proving themselves marvelously capable (both in their homes and in industry), of helping to win the war."

"Tell us all about them, Uncle Harry," exclaimed Helen.

"It's such a big subject, Helen, that I scarcely know where to begin," he replied. "In the first place it is plain that if America is to be a powerful factor in the war, we must follow the example of the European nations and not only send a well equipped and trained army into the field, but also organize our industries and the production of food in such a way that all of our resources will be brought to bear in the war."

"Much of this work can naturally be done best by our women," continued Uncle Harry. "For example, saving and preserving food in the home and what may seem but trivial, but which is none the less important, providing amusement and recreation for the soldiers and sailors in camp. And last, but by no means least, helping in Red Cross work. As for activities outside of the home, thousands of young women are doing all kinds of hard work, formerly done entirely by men, thus releasing many men for active service with the fighting forces of the country."

"I heard yesterday," said Jim and Joe's mother, "that since the entrance of the war the membership of the Red Cross has increased from several hundred thousand to more than two million."

"Yes," replied Uncle Harry, "the Red Cross is an extremely important factor in war relief, and is doing a great and noble work. Hundreds of thousands of women are engaged in preparing surgical dressings, and fitting themselves in many ways to relieve, as far as possible, the terrible suffering caused by war. Hundreds more have already gone to the battlefields in Europe with hospital units and are acting as nurses, orderlies and even motor ambulance drivers."

"Jimmy and I are going to send a lot of magazines to our soldiers in France, Uncle Harry," said Joe.

ing food is a very important part in the war, too," said Helen.

"It is," replied Uncle Harry. "Mr. Hoover, appointed by President Wilson to take charge of saving our food supply, has asked that every American woman help to save the food supply. As a result women are not only being more economical with food in their homes, but are canning and drying the perishable summer foods for use in the winter. Enough food must be produced and conserved not only to feed the American people and our armies abroad but to also supply large quantities to our allies. And the saving of our food supply depends largely upon the women of America."

"In order that there may be as little wasted effort and overlapping as possible," continued Uncle Harry, "the war activities of our women are being directed by the women's committee of the council of national defense at Washington. Dr. Anna Shaw is the chairman of this committee."

"I saw some pictures in the paper the other day of women working along a railroad with shovels just like the men do," said Jimmy.

"Yes," replied Uncle Harry, "I understand that one of our railroads has more than 2,000 young women in its employ in every variety of work that they are physically capable of doing. Our girls are also working on farms, operating elevators, running motor trucks, working in munition factories and doing all kinds of 'rough and ready' work. In Russia the women have even formed a regiment known as the battalion of death, and have displayed the utmost bravery on the battlefield."

At this point a very grave look came over the face of the boys' mother as she said:

"This war, terrible as it is, has done some wonderful things for women everywhere. It has given them an opportunity to prove beyond all doubt their ability to play a part in great undertakings just as important and decisive as the men."

KNOTTY MILITARY QUESTION.

Paris, Sept. 21.—The military authorities have had to settle a knotty question. In the case of a military policeman being killed, how should the widow's pension be allotted? The question has arisen through France having brought many native soldiers from Africa who belong to tribes where polygamy is the recognized practice. Every policeman widow will have a share in the pension, the total of which will be the same as that granted to the widow of a monogamous soldier.

HAD BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING.

MR. FRED H. BUCHOLZ.

MRS. FRED H. BUCHOLZ.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pankoke, at 927 Eckert street, was the scene of an unusually pretty home wedding this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when their daughter, Lena, became the bride of Mr. Fred H. Bucholz, a former resident of Chicago. Rev. H. C. Luehr, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, officiated at the ceremony in the presence of about thirty-five relatives and friends. Mrs. Ernest Moeller presided at the piano and played the bridal music from "Lohengrin" as Mr. Moeller sang while the bride came down stairs, preceded by two little flower maids. The children were Lillian Witte and Helen Moeller, and were dressed in white and had pink bows on their dresses, while the white baskets they carried were filled with pink flowers. The bride, who is very good looking, wore a pretty gown of white georgette crepe beaded in and with a touch of lace on the bodice and veil of tulle that was held to her hair in a cap that was beaded across her forehead with a string of pearl beads. The bride's bouquet was a shower of bride roses and swansonia, with ribbon ends that tied it. The house was charming with many white daisies, smilax and ferns. The living room archway was decked on either side with ropes of smilax and banked in front with ferns, while the kneeling stool was white and was edged with smilax. Pots of daisies stood on both sides and the piano had a large bowl of flowers, while the lights were festooned in smilax. In the dining room, where the bride's table was set for the wedding dinner, the table was bordered with strands of smilax, the electric dome above was trimmed with smilax and from the dome hung a shower of narrow ribbon, to which was fastened single daisies. Two vases of white roses, a handsomely built pyramid bride's cake and daisies on the cloth, made it exceedingly attractive. Smilax and roses decorated smaller tables. The bride and groom left in the evening for an eastern trip, during which they will visit Niagara Falls, Buffalo and other eastern points. For traveling the bride is wearing a blue suit of broadcloth with blouse of gray georgette to correspond with her gloves and shoes and the trimming on her black velvet hat. On their return home Mr. and Mrs. Bucholz will make their home with the bride's parents. Mr. Bucholz is a machinist and is employed at the General Electric works. Guests from away present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. William Witte, of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Sprien, of Roanoke.

Greener-McCormick.

The marriage of Miss Anna McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McCormick, of Lake township, and Mr. Otto Greener, of Lake township, took place Wednesday afternoon, September 19, at 3 o'clock at the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Rev. J. P. Meyer officiating. The bride looked lovely in a dress of white georgette crepe with veil and wreath and carried a large bouquet of roses. Miss Bertha Kiehn was bridesmaid and wore a dress of pale blue crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of roses. Irvin Greener, brother of the groom, was best man. After the services at the church the bride party drove to the home of the bride and a beautiful wedding dinner was served to a large company of relatives and friends. The bride and groom are popular among the young people of the community. A party composed of more than seventy-five men and boys gave them an old-fashioned "belling." Medieval Idea, But Good For Any Day

This striking silhouette from Paris shows the trend of the very latest design for dresses of every material. In one way or another, the gown is plaited, draped or hung to make the waist line, hip line and bust line all of the same circumference. The idea is medieval—but quite becoming the lines of the female figure in any country.

The exquisite creation which was photographed in Paris especially for The Sentinel, has a remarkable elongated collar of Paisley voile. And the hat is trimmed to match, just as a good hat should be.

Cake Day Draws Banner Crowd at Sentinel Cooking School

FRIDAY'S PROGRAM.

Music at 2:45—Packard Motor Drive—Courtesy Packard Motor Company. Demonstration of Salads of All Kinds—Vegetables and Fruits. Demonstration Cake Baking and Decorating.

As each day of The Sentinel Cooking School week goes by interest in Mrs. McKoin's lectures and demonstrations grows more intense. The banner attendance of the week was this afternoon when the big Elks' auditorium was filled to seating capacity. It was obvious that Mrs. McKoin's cakes, cake icing and her clever manipulation of the icing tubes was the big attraction. Mrs. McKoin has won a host of friends among the Fort Wayne ladies with her freeness and readiness to answer any questions asked and to furnish information regarding the success of her recipes.

"Most professional lecturers," said one member of the Wednesday audience, "refrain from telling all the little peculiarities and details of their wonderful recipes." Mrs. McKoin, on the other hand, manifests a desire to have every lady in the audience learn everything she has to tell. In this respect, Mrs. McKoin's lecture series are doubly valuable. This, together with her unassuming disposition, has won her scores of friends.

Mrs. McKoin's cake demonstrations covered the two varieties of cakes—the butter cake and the sponge cake where no butter is used. The white cakes were light and fluffy as feathers which substantiated Mrs. McKoin's claims as to the native wheat flour which she used. Mrs. McKoin stated that she had used the native wheat flour and selected the New Veno brand.

The Use of Baking Powder. In the course of her bread demonstration on Tuesday, Mrs. McKoin was asked by a member of the audience how to use Calumet Baking powder, and her answer caused much surprise and pleasure among the ladies in the audience.

"I have used all kinds of baking powders," answered Mrs. McKoin, "and until I learned how to use Calumet, I had difficulty. Use one level teaspoonful to a cup of flour. In the case of other baking powders, you use one heaping teaspoonful." Mrs. McKoin then told in detail her experience with baking powders, her inspection of the Calumet Baking powder plant and as the result, her partiality to this baking powder. "It is the purest baking powder on the market today," said Mrs. McKoin, "and if you make this cake, it will be perfect."

Use More Milk Products. Believe the more milk and milk products the better the cake. Mrs. McKoin's cake demonstrations have been a success from the start. The banner attendance of the week was this afternoon when the big Elks' auditorium was filled to seating capacity. It was obvious that Mrs. McKoin's cakes, cake icing and her clever manipulation of the icing tubes was the big attraction. Mrs. McKoin has won a host of friends among the Fort Wayne ladies with her freeness and readiness to answer any questions asked and to furnish information regarding the success of her recipes.

all the water is evaporated. No residue remains, which shows there is no danger in the use of this baking powder. Calumet Baking powder escapes from the food in the form of a gas," said Mrs. McKoin, "and thus serves its purpose. And now, ladies, if you make this boiling test with some of the higher-priced baking powders, a hard rocky, dangerous substance remains." Mrs. McKoin's talk on baking powder seemed to be much appreciated, as many ladies at the close of the lecture came forward to discuss the baking powder problem, and expressed delight that so reasonably priced a baking powder as Calumet can be recommended as the purest and most effective. The Calumet Baking Powder company, appreciating the interest Mrs. McKoin has shown in their product, arranged for her to use Calumet in Fort Wayne, and together with the merchants of Fort Wayne, are recognized as one of the contributors who assisted The Sentinel in making the free cooking school possible. The McDougall Kitchen Cabinet company of Frankfort, Ind., in a like spirit, assisted in making The Sentinel Cooking School possible.

Mrs. McKoin has won many different kitchen cabinets, and her preference and partiality for the McDougall cabinet prompted the manufacturers to arrange that Mrs. McKoin use a McDougall wherever she goes. When asked why she preferred the McDougall cabinet, she said: "Please don't misunderstand me to be condemning other kinds of kitchen cabinets. Any kitchen cabinet is better than none at all. But a cabinet is the purchase of a lifetime, and while buying, make a study of all kinds and buy what you think is the best. I have used so many different kinds in my many different schools, and the autocrat of the McDougall, together with its flour bin, and sugar bowl, makes it more convenient and I always was pleased when I had a McDougall in my cooking school. The McDougall always has been to me the leader in introducing new ideas, and understood more thoroughly what the needs of a kitchen cabinet should be." Mrs. McKoin in various parts of her lessons takes up the matter of different brands of food-stuffs. "I would refuse to use any food product or appliance I did not approve of," said Mrs. McKoin in talking about various brands, "and while this cooking school is being made possible by advertisers, there have been times when I have had to turn down a flour, or a butter or a milk—because they did not come up to a standard; when I could not recommend them. I am very much pleased with butter, milk, and ice cream in Fort Wayne," said Mrs. McKoin on Thursday afternoon.

Place on ice to congeal or pack in ice and salt to freeze.

the noted cook. "Use milk in every possible form. The more milk you use the less meat, and when you use milk you are not destroying animal life. Conserve the animals."

Mrs. McKoin is using the Delft Brand creamery butter, the Bash Sanitary Milk company's milk and cream, and Furnas ice cream. Fully ten gallons of the Furnas ice cream was served to the audience today and the treat was a rare one. Mrs. McKoin's famous cakes were cut and served with the ice cream.

Mrs. McKoin had various sauces to serve with the cream, using crushed He-Mi-La candies for the flavoring. The ice cream was a treat that was worth the whole afternoon's visit to the school. As the ice cream was being served Mrs. McKoin gave a talk on the Furnas ice cream that was almost technical. "I believe in brands, and in patenting trade marks. For example, I have analyzed this Furnas ice cream and know that it comes up to a certain standard. The sugar, the starch and the butterfat in Furnas ice cream makes it a valuable food. Now if I were living in Fort Wayne," said Mrs. McKoin, "I'd naturally use Furnas ice cream. It comes up to a high standard in food value and I'd be assured of this value so long as I purchased this particular brand." Mrs. McKoin told the audience of the standard set in Indiana and the Furnas Ice Cream company comes in the category of manufacturers who meet the standard requirements which call for eight per cent butterfat.

On Friday Mrs. McKoin will demonstrate her variety of vegetable and fruit salads and Saturday will be sandwich day.

RUSSIA WILL REMAIN A DEMOCRACY AND THOSE WHO OPPOSE IT WILL GO THE WAY OF KORNILOFF

New Republic is Pulling Herself Together, and the American Press is Not Giving Her Any Help on the Job Either.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

And now, behold, the Korniloff Sand Dance has come and gone and taken its place with the other faked-up spectacles that we have been told were about to overturn the Russian democracy and bring back absolutism.

Korniloff—it is only a week since this foolish vain man was pictured to us by the reactionary correspondents as marching upon Petrograd at the head of a mighty host to oust the horrible radicals and show the incapable Russians what's what. And now he, too, lies in prison with a pretty fair chance of being shot and his "innumerable host" which consisted of himself and about 16 other unfortunates is no more.

But the Russian democracy goes its way undisturbed and upon the road jaunted out for it.

This is a fair sample of the hectic dream stuff that comes daily out of Petrograd to cheer the drooping hearts of cave dwellers and dismay the friends of Russia that happen to be uninformed.

Anybody that knows Russia knew from the beginning that this chattering Korniloff person never had a chance for anything except the firing squad. You could no more establish a military dictatorship in Russia than you could sail an ice yacht in perdition. At the least prospect of any such thing the whole Russian people would arise to stamp it to death.

Outside of certain foreign embassies and colonies there is not one element in Russia that would not fight to the end against any such enterprise, no matter who engineered it.

Many American newspapers, including some that should have known better, were fooled into giving sympathy and support to this crack-brained excursion into the realms of fantasy. They had editorials expressing the opinion that Korniloff ought to win and praying that he might—printing these things between visions of the fall of the revolution and the inauguration of that One Man Power that for some reason unknown we are determined to have in Russia whether Russia will stand for it or not.

There are four bottom facts about the Russian situation, plain, certain, unchanging facts, and if the American newspapers will keep them handy and refer to them when these various pipes come forth from Petrograd about impending disaster, they can avoid misleading their readers and what is still more important, avoid tangling still further the relations between this country and Russia.

Here are the facts:
1. No matter what may come along, if there is any Russia at all the plain people will rule it.
2. These plain people understand very well the principles of democracy and are absolutely determined upon a thoroughly democratic system of government.

3. They are not ignorant, they are not irrational, they are not light-headed and they cannot be fooled by any would-be Napoleon. They know what they want in government and if Germany does not get them before they have time to pull themselves together what they want is what they are certain to have.

4. The governing power in the country is not the wealthy and the eminent, but the National Council of Workmen, Soldiers and Peasants' delegates, because this council represents the people of Russia and their will. Whoever wishes an indication as to the course Russia will pursue about anything need go no further than the council, for this, speaking for the Russian people, will always be the last word.

It is most unlucky that these facts are lost sight of in this country. The editorials and reactionary articles that American newspapers print go straight back to Russia and create there the impression that America is hostile to the Russian democracy and wants to see it go down.

Intelligent Russians know well enough that there are other peoples in the world that are hoping to see the failure of the Russian experiment, but what was hoped for from America was sympathy and understanding. Instead of sympathy and understanding a large part of the American press is handing to the Russian republic nothing but a choice assortment of hard words and the hope that it will choke.

I understand, of course, that for some of this attitude of ours two fairly adequate reasons exist.

In the first place it is tough for some of us to support a government conducted by plowmen, carpenters, blacksmiths and teamsters. But bitter as the pill may be we shall just have to swallow it in this case, brethren. Because that is the only kind of government there is or will be in Russia (unless Germany squelches it) and Russia is our ally and it is vital to us that she shall continue to hold that line. Whether she holds it or does not depends upon the will and judgment of this government of plowmen, carpenters, blacksmiths and teamsters. We shall have to take them to our hearts, therefore, no matter how much our aristocratic souls may revolt at the thought.

In the next place, some of us that really want to sympathize with all this have been disgusted by what we believe to be the failure of Russia to respond to the needs of her allies and do her share of the fighting. Six months have passed since the revolution, we say, and Russia hasn't begun to fight yet.

Hence we are pleased to say that the Russians must be flabby and deficient in fighting quality. We say their long delay is assisting the common enemy and are bumpily confident that they must have a dictator to keep them in order and so forth.

Six months—yes. Well, almost three years passed before this country got ready to fight. I don't know what right we have to throw bricks at a country that has taken only six months. The American casualties in the war so far, including those rendered on the Lusitania, are about 400. The Russian casualties to date are 7,000,000. When we have suffered in proportion we may with propriety talk of the slackers in other nations.

Russia has undergone the greatest revolution and internal convulsion in history. As rapidly as possible she is pulling herself together. The American press is not giving her any help on the job, but she is doing it anyway.

And as for assisting the common enemy, let me tell you something. There is nobody in Russia that is any yellower than the old Bill Stone gang in the United States senate. So long as our country is adorned with these specimens of the skulker and the back-sifter, we had better keep silence about similar afflictions elsewhere.

But anyway, the Korniloff pipe dream and bugaboo has passed. The spectre of civil war that the feverish correspondents saw plainly to be raising its head in Russia has put its head down again or taken to the woods. But be not disappointed. Next week will see another pipe as hysterical, as lurid and as unsubstantial as this. The next horned monster to occupy the center of the stage will probably be dissections in the cabinet or a raid on Petrograd by a flock of jabberwocks.

How to Judge a Woman by Her Hair

There is real common sense in just nothing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good preparation made expressly for shampooing. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthrox from your druggist, dissolve teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

The Function of a Pasteurizer

There is as much difference between raw milk—and pasteurized milk—as there is between a raw steak and a thoroughly broiled steak.

The Pasteurizer—The milk is subjected to various temperatures of heat in an automatic scientific machine called the pasteurizer. This varied temperature kills the millions and millions of germs that lurk in milk that comes from the most healthy dairy cows.

Physicians recommend pasteurized milk as the only safe milk that can be given to babies. That in itself is reason why you should use pasteurized milk for all purposes. It costs no more. We deliver before breakfast.

50 lb. Sack of Gold Medal Flour FREE With Every Kitchen Cabinet Sale

During this week ONLY, we are able through the courtesy of the makers of Gold Medal Flour and the manufacturers of McDougall Kitchen Cabinets, to offer every purchaser of a Kitchen Cabinet a 50-pound sack Gold Medal Flour absolutely FREE. Every housewife knows that Gold Medal Flour is the highest grade flour in the entire world. McDougall Kitchen Cabinets are in the same class. This week presents an opportunity to use both of these supreme products—and the opportunity will not come again.

Mrs. McKoin
Uses the McDougall
Kitchen Cabinet

Exclusively

Mrs. McKoin, the famous southern cook who is conducting The Sentinel Cooking School, uses the McDougall Kitchen Cabinet exclusively. She has tried practically every kitchen cabinet made, and her experience has taught her that the McDougall has more advantageous features than any other. "The McDougall," says Mrs. McKoin, "contains every worth while improvement that is used on any Kitchen Cabinet, and in addition it has numerous advantages that no other cabinet can claim. I shall be delighted to point these out to any housewife who will ask for them while our Cooking School is in progress."

The Auto Front Flexible Curtain

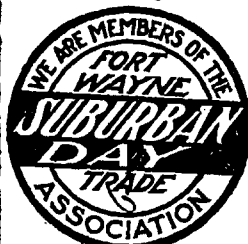

The Auto-Front Curtain, while only one of the many features of the McDougall Cabinet, is particularly noteworthy. On the touch of a catch it drops completely out of sight. It leaves no open grooves or slots to catch dirt, and gives full use of the table top at all times.

Only $1.00 Per Week Required

You can have one of these McDougall Kitchen Cabinets delivered to your home for a small cash payment. The balance of the purchase price can be paid at the rate of $1.00 per week if you so desire. Make up your mind not to go another week without a McDougall.

Eventually—Why Not Now?

They say, "Eventually Gold Medal Flour—Why Not Now?" The same thing might be said about the McDougall Cabinet, too. Why not take advantage of this offer and do both of these things NOW? With flour at its present price isn't it worth while considering this offer?

Pro Aris et Focis—Service to our church and homes. This is and always shall be the supreme purpose of the Walther League, and members of the Fort Wayne league are asked to show their loyalty on Sunday, September 23. The plans for the army and navy fund campaign have been completed, and it now remains for every Walther League of the city, every member and every Lutheran to make the campaign a success.

Briefly, the campaign will be carried out in this manner: Each Walther League has chosen a campaign manager, the necessary number of captains and teams. The church districts have been outlined and each team will be supplied with the names and addresses of the members they are to solicit. On Sunday afternoon, September 23, between the hours of 2 and 5, these teams will call upon all Lutherans and ask them to contribute to the cause. "This is the greatest opportunity to prove our motto—Pro Aris et Focis—and let us not permit it to pass unheeded," says the appeal to members.

See the cashier. He has other names, too, as "ghost," "penny pirate" and "jitney jockey" and on pay day he's called a lot of other names not so sweet sounding, from employees who have been three and a half minutes late and were docked by the cashier. Let's go up and try and get a penny

The cashier has that air that makes you believe he's doing you a heluva favor by giving you the money you've worked for.

NEW SOLDIERS LEAVE FRIDAY

First Group Goes at 6:25 O'Clock and Second Group at 10:50.
MANY WILL BID THEM GOOD-BYE
There Will Be No Formal Celebration or Parade—Those Leaving.

Although there will be no formal celebration or parade Friday when Allen county's second contingent of men for the new army leave for Camp Taylor, Ky., they will be a large number of friends and relatives who will escort them to their train and wish them God-speed on their journey. The celebration which took place several weeks ago in honor of the drafted men shows the city and county's sincere feelings in the departure of many of her favorite sons. The fact that the soldiers are to leave by separate trains would make a formal celebration difficult if not impossible.

Friends and relatives of the departing soldiers will be at the stations in large numbers to bid farewell to their friends, brothers, and sons.

The first group to go will consist of the certified men selected to go September 21 from Fort Wayne city districts Nos. 2 and 3. They will leave at 6:25 o'clock over the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad to the city district No. 1 group and the men certified for mthe county will leave at 10:50 o'clock by a special train over the Lake Erie.

HAD FORGOTTEN ALL ABOUT REGISTRATIONS

One Notary Has Held Twelve Filled Blanks Since June.

A notary public, who has been established in the east end of the city to take registrations, walked into the office of the election clerks in the city hall with twelve signed blanks in his hand Thursday.

"I had forgotten all about these," he explained to the registration clerks. "They were filed with me last June and I have neglected them since. Lucky I thought of them."

It was indeed lucky for the voters represented by the signed slips. If the blanks had been overlooked there would have been twelve men and women who could not vote in the coming city election. Registration clerks will admonish others of the thirty notaries at work on registrations to file their blanks promptly.

GOVERNMENT MAY HELP SOLVE MARKET PROBLEM

Mayor Hosey Will Seek Advice from Federal Food Men.

Mayor W. J. Hosey may aid the campaign being waged by all newspapers of Fort Wayne for lower prices on the city market by calling federal officers here to investigate the situation. The mayor will write to the agricultural department at once explaining the unfair conditions on the market.

"When I say anything to the market folks they tell me that the public can either take their goods or leave them alone," says the mayor.

"That is peace talk. We are in war and a war that demands that every bit of food be utilized. We cannot allow the market vendors to haul away their goods and destroy them unless paid a high price."

"The government is handling this war condition by aiding the establishment of large food markets in the east. The food and coal situations go hand in hand. I think the local market state will bear investigation and maybe government action."

SAME TACTICS SHOULD PREVAIL ON GRIDIRON AS USED LAST YEAR

Too Early to Predict Style of
Maroons.

Although it is early to predict the style of play which will be used by football teams, especially in the Big Ten, it is only reasonable to believe the coaches will employ the same sort of tactics as last year.

There have not been enough changes in the coaching staffs at the different institutions to warrant a change of play. Of course in some instances the style of play will be slightly affected by the caliber of materials, but in general it will be the same as last year.

Some teams have resorted to the open game ever since the forward pass rule went into effect in 1906. Others have stuck to the old style, with a slight variation in their attacks. A coach who has fleet back field men naturally will use the open style, while one with heavy and fairly fast players will employ old style tactics most of the time.

Open Game for Maroons. Minnesota, which has met with equal success in both styles of play, undoubtedly will use the famous Minnesota shift most of the time, varied by occasional forward passes. Illinois undoubtedly will rely on forward throws for its gains, and Chicago will do the same.

With Harley back at Ohio state, Coach Wiley is certain to use him in the same plays as last year, when he either forward passed the ball or ran with it from the kicker's position. Yet, at Michigan, always has had a versatile attack, and he certainly must have one this year to cope with the teams on the Wolverine schedule. Michigan has one of the hardest schedules in its history and a different attack and defense must be evolved for every game.

Speaking of the open game, kicking is certain to play an important part. Any eleven that has a kicker who can punt with accuracy and distance will utilize him to extreme advantage. Punting always has been a factor in football and this year will be no exception.

Pittsburgh Looks Strong. Although interest in this section centers around the result of the conference race, the games in other sections will not be overlooked. Pittsburgh, rated as one of the strongest teams in the country last year and coached by Glenn Warner, former mentor of the Cardinals, has not suffered much by loss of veterans and will be a strong contender for eastern honors.

Penn State at Work. Penn State, another strong eastern eleven, is hard at work, and, like other teams, will depend upon open play for success. Carlisle's Indians, known for crafty work on the chalk lined field, have been practicing since the first of the month and will be a good trial horse for any of the eastern elevens. Before the end of the month the coaches will have a good idea as to the makeup of their elevens.

SLIGHT CHANCES FOR RED SOX GLIMMER

Drop Two to Tigers; Chicago Loses But Gains.

Boston, Sept. 20.—Whatever slight chance the Red Sox had to become champions again went glimmering yesterday when the Tigers cleaned them up in a double-header 5 to 2 and 1 to 0. The champion's defense blew wide open in the first game and eight errors gave the Detroiters the pastime on a silver platter. The Red Sox took the lead but four boots in the fourth handed away four runs and the game. The second game was a pitchers' duel between Mays and Daus, with the latter winning out because Veatch whanged out a triple in the second and counted on Helman's long fly. Scores: Detroit..... 0 0 0 4 0 0 0 1—5 Boston..... 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—2 Batteries—James and Stange; Shore, Penneck and Cady.

Coveleskie in Form. New York, Sept. 20.—New York made only one hit off Stanley Coveleskie here yesterday and lost to Cleveland 2 to 0. A clean single by Malsel in the seventh spoiled Coveleskie's game. Love also pitched well but Cleveland bunched hits on him in the second and eighth. Score: Cleveland..... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 New York..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 Batteries—Coveleskie and O'Neil; Love, Small and Nunamaker.

Box Loss. Philadelphia, Sept. 20.—A wild throw by Right Fielder Leibold with two men out in the ninth inning and the score tied, gave Philadelphia the victory over Chicago 2 to 1. New uses for wood fiber and increased demand for the older products are making forest conservation a steadily increasing problem. A satisfactory substitute for absorbent cotton, cordage, ropes, burlap, rugs, carpets and many articles of clothing, are a few of the products which depend upon wood fiber or wood pulp.

THE PENNANT DOPE.

The Giants lost half a game yesterday when the Cubs defeated them while the Phillies were idle. New York still leads by 12 games. The White Sox, although defeated by the Athletics, gained half a game on the Red Sox who lost a double-header to Detroit. To clinch the pennant the Giants need but three more victories of their 13 games, even though the Phillies win all their remaining 15 games. The standing then would be:

Team.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
New York.....	94	60	.610
Philadelphia.....	82	60	.565

To win the pennant the White Sox need but four more victories of their ten contests even though the Red Sox win all their 14 contests. The standing then would be:

Team.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Chicago.....	89	55	.614
Boston.....	86	55	.607

The White Sox clinch the pennant tomorrow if things break right. If Boston loses two today and the Sox win their next two games, the race is over. In that case, even if the Red Sox win their remaining 11 games and the White Sox lose their 8, the final standing would be:

Team.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Chicago.....	97	57	.630

FRANKIE MASON SHOWS CLASS, BEATING CURTIS

Good Fight Card Opens

SENTINEL FIGHT DECISIONS.

LEN ELLENWOOD VS. YOUNG STANLEY, OF CHICAGO—DRAW. PADDY KELLY, OF ST. LOUIS, DEFEATED YOUNG O'NEAL, OF PITTSBURG.

FRANKIE MASON, OF PORT WAYNE, DEFEATED JIMMY CURTIS, OF ST. LOUIS.

(But stopped in eighth round).

Frankie Mason, of this city, showed championship class in his bout with Jimmy Curtis, of St. Louis, last night at the Majestic theater, which was stopped in the eighth round after Curtis had received a terrible punishment from Mason. Mason had the better of the bout all the way through and it was evident that a knockout was forthcoming after the sixth round when Frankie had his man groggy unless the bout was stopped. Curtis had the ability to take punishment to a degree possibly never seen in a local ring before. He stood up under a shower of rights and lefts which rocked him time again and beat his face into a pulp and kept holding on for more.

In the sixth round Mason had his opponent in a bad way and it looked then as if the fight would not go the ten rounds. In the eighth, Curtis weakened and went down for a count of three but got up on his feet. He was beaten back to the ropes, being able to make only a feeble attempt at covering up. With Curtis in a pitiable way and terribly beaten Mason was apparently unable to put over a "sleeper" and the crowd began clamoring for the referee to stop the bout, which the third man in the ring, William Moeller, did.

Despite the fact that he was distinctly outclassed, all of the fight fans and his opponent, Mason himself, gave Curtis credit for being the toughest little man to fight here in many days. He stood up under a rain of punishment to which many better boxers have succumbed. After the show a collection was taken up for Curtis in the audience and $25 was given to him.

Mason's fighting last night did not look as good as his ability to stand off and exchange blows. Mason showed his usual cleverness and ring generalship which entitles him to consideration in a class with Johnny Coulon. Mason weighed in last night at 107½ and proved himself to be the "biggest little man" ever seen here at the weight. His opponent weighed in before the fight at 111 pounds, and the crowd began clamoring for the referee to stop the bout, which the third man in the ring, William Moeller, did.

Young O'Neal, who substituted for Battling Hess, unable to fight because of a death in his family, deserves credit for the showing he made against Paddy Kelly, of St. Louis, who came here primed for the fight. Kelly probably had a slight lead over O'Neal, enough to warrant his being given a decision. In this bout O'Neal had the reach on Kelly and things were about even as far as weight was concerned.

LOCAL SPORT NOTES.

The Badger Football club will meet Friday evening at the corner of Hanna and Pontiac streets. Old players and new ones have been invited to attend the meeting. A practice will follow the meeting.

The Bull Dogs, well known in their class, will be coached by Oscar Hutzel, a former Notre Dame player, this year. The first practice of the season was held yesterday at Swinney park. Any one desiring to try out with the Bull Dogs may do so by getting in touch with the coach.

The Tiger football team challenges the Bachelors for a game to be played at Swinney park next Sunday, in what will probably be the first game of the season for the gridiron sport in Port Wayne.

A meeting of bowlers interested in the Industrial league will be held at the Metropolitan alleys tonight. Five clubs have asked for places and two more are expected tonight. These are the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company and a team from the Duple Manufacturing company.

THE SERIES INFELDING—A COMPARISON OF WHITE SOX AND GIANTS.

(By Paul Purman).

The first line of defense of a ball club is its infield.

A brilliant, quick thinking infield has saved many a ball game for a pitcher.

How do the Giants and White Sox stack up in this particular?

There is an element of chance in comparing these two infields at this time owing to an injury to Herzog which may keep him out of the game.

With Herzog out the Giants will be working under a terrific handicap. They will either be forced to move Zimmerman to second and use the veteran Lobert at third or keep Zimmerman at third and use J. Smith, an untired youngster, at the second sack. The former plan probably would be chosen by McGraw because Zimmerman is a finished second baseman, and Lobert in spite of the fact that he has lost his speed, is a cool headed veteran of long experience.

Even with Herzog in the game the White Sox have a shade the best of it in the infield.

Gandil is steadier and more dependable than Holke at first. His play this year has not been marred by that indifference which characterized it with the Indians in 1915.

Both clubs present a formidable defense at the keystone sack, considering the shortstops and second basemen together. Herzog and Fletcher perhaps appear the more brilliant, but Collins and young Rios, the real baseball find of the season, cover as much territory.

On a showdown the White Sox combination is perhaps a trifle the stronger, but all other things being equal there is little to choose.

From a defensive standpoint it is hard to choose between Zimmerman and Weaver. Both cover an immense amount of territory around third and can handle hard hit balls with ease and speed. They rank among the four great third basemen of the year, the other two being Groh and Gardner. Offensively Zimmerman has the call, but on the defensive they are about even.

Taking the infield as a whole the clubs are pretty evenly matched in case Herzog plays, Chicago having a slight advantage. If Herzog is out of the series the White Sox will look much the better.

The big question mark of the series is furnished by Herzog's condition. If he is not able to play the Giants' chances may be ruined.

Indianapolis and Toronto
Will Play Post Season Series.

Indianapolis, Sept. 20.—Milwaukee defeated Indianapolis in the final game of the season here yesterday 11 to 4, the visitors taking advantage of Vayles, a semi-professional pitcher, and a crippled lineup. Arrangements were completed yesterday whereby Indianapolis, 1917 champions of the American association, and Toronto, the flag winner in the International league, will play a post-series of seven games for the championship of class AA leagues. The first three games will be played in Toronto, starting on Tuesday, Sept. 25. Score: R.H.E. It is said that, aside from money spent for gasoline, the profits on automobile accessories bid fair to surpass those derived from the manufacture of the cars. A recent estimate places about 4,000,000 cars on United States roads and puts cost of upkeep for the year at $2,000,000,000.

CINCINNATI REDS TOO STRONG WITH WALLOPS

Runner Scores Another
Homer Over Right
Field Fence.

Cincinnati won the exhibition game with the All-Star and Central league players at League park by the close score of 12 to 6. Despite the disparity of six runs in the final score, however, Fort Wayne did some heavy clouting, the feature of which was Runner's. Local fans began to think there was a fatality about Runner and home runs when, in the first inning, the third ball was knocked over the right field fence for a circuit smash. Runner got two home runs in the same place when the White Sox players' exhibition game here and his feat yesterday was regarded as extraordinary.

The Reds were here in all their splendor, Matty, Roush, Groh, Chase and all the rest. The local fans clamored for the "Big Six" to go in and pitch near the last, but this was asking too much. Mathewson could hardly have hoped to add anything to his laurels by doing mound duty yesterday, it being very nearly conceded that his reputation has already been "made."

Five markers in the third inning put the game beyond any hopes or possibilities for the locals to recover.

The game was satisfactory to every one of the fans inasmuch as the locals were hardly expected to win and the Reds had almost their regular lineup in the game. Owing to the small attendance the games with the Boston Nationals and Chicago Cubs have been cancelled.

WOMEN RAILROADERS? HUH! HERE'S LADY BOAT CAPTAIN

CAPTAIN NUMA ELFER AND HER CREW.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 20.—Women as chauffeurs, elevator operators, car conductors and motormen are results of the world war, but there's only one woman steamboat captain and engineer.

On a trip to New Orleans from up the picturesque bayous and down the Mississippi river Mrs. Numa C. Elfer has been discovered. Her crew consisted of two negro deckhands and three able-bodied bayou sailors: Heloise Elfer, aged 12; Nance Elfer, 10; Laurel Elfer, 8; Clemens Elfer, 6, and Bruce Elfer, 4. They are Mrs. Elfer's children.

Mrs. Elfer has an engineer's license, gained while making the trips for many years with her husband, Capt. Elfer. The steamboat, Heloise, named for the eldest child, is their home. When the Elfers were married, he had saved $3,000. It was decided they would buy a packet for the flourishing river, or bayou, trade.

While Elfer handles the engines, although Mrs. Elfer can do the job as well, the wife handles the pilot wheel. To save the expense of $30 a week for licensed pilot or engineer, Mrs. Elfer stood the government examinations. Rain or shine, she makes the trips. The children were all born on the steamboat.

Imagine having to pilot a steamboat onto the river bank and tie up for half an hour or more while your infant is given its bottle!

"Living in a steamboat is just like living in a house," says Mrs. Elfer. But she plans to give up the life while the children attend a real school. Up to now she's been their teacher.

OLD SOLDIER IS HIT BY AN AUTOMOBILE

Broken Leg and Bruises
in Accident.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Antwerp, O., Sept. 20.—Frederick Zediker, an old soldier, was run down by an automobile a few days ago on the highway between Paulding and Cecil. He was thrown into the ditch by the impact with the machine and sustained a broken leg and minor bruises. The driver in the machine never slackened his speed to learn his victim's injuries, but got out of sight as quickly as possible. The injured man is about 75 years of age and should have had attention at once, but lay in the ditch about two hours before assistance arrived. No clue, as yet, has been gathered as to whether the assailant was, but if he is rounded up he should be dealt with quite severely.

Antwerp Short Notes.

The work of demolishing the building at the corner of Main and Stone streets was completed Wednesday, the frame work being the last to be taken down, and was sold to Aaron Gustin, who will use it in the erection of a barn on his farm. Much of the material in the building was sold by the wagonload, to be used as wood and kindling. Thus is another old landmark accounted for.

Miss Helen Cummings, teacher of the second grade in the Antwerp high school, gave a woodland social Tuesday afternoon to the other teachers in the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Merchant, Roy Hartup, wife and son, Ernest, of Zanesville, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. William Merchant and son, William, of Memphis, Tenn., were Antwerp visitors the forepart of the week, the guests of Dr. and Mrs. S. D. Merchant.

Fred Johnson, of the ambulance corps, stationed at Toledo, was a visitor at his home here a couple of days this week, the guest of his parents, J. L. Johnson and family.

The Thimble club was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Ed Hudson Wednesday evening last. The guests of the evening were Mrs. Edward Scooby, Mrs. Harry Ely and little son, Bob, and Mrs. L. B. Ely. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Walter Hartwell, on North Main street.

Mrs. Francis Zuber met with what might have resulted in a fatality one day the past week. She walked into the entrance to the cellar when the stairway had been removed to cement the floor, and fell to the bottom, a distance of eight feet or more, sustaining severe bruises. Fortunately she escaped without more serious injury.

Mrs. Julia Champion was a Fort Wayne visitor Tuesday, where she spent the day with friends.

Mrs. Rev. A. Gleason was a passenger to Bryan, O., Wednesday, where she will attend the annual conference of the United Brethren church.

Samuel Barchard, of Grafton, O., is renewing old acquaintance here this week.

Mrs. Thomas Barber has been taken to the Lutheran hospital at Fort Wayne for treatment.

Mrs. Ed Renshaw went to Hicksville Wednesday called there by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Burt Crouse.

W. F. Fleck has gone to Greenville, Ohio, for a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. Pierson and family.

Mrs. L. Stalter after visiting William Craft and family, and other friends, departed for her home at Logansport Tuesday.

Mrs. S. A. Gunther, of Fort Wayne, visited this week Mrs. W. J. Crawford and other friends, returning to her home Tuesday.

E. V. Gordon and family have arrived home from their summer home at Odeon, Mich. The trip was made in the family auto.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Witt were passengers over the Wabash, westward bound, Tuesday, their destination being Sidney, Ill., where they will spend the next two weeks visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Asa Burgess and daughter, Helen, left Tuesday for Kirkland, Ind., for a two weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Kirkland and family.

Rev. Fred Champion, of Maumee, O., was the guest of his mother, Mrs. Julia Champion and family.

Mrs. F. Fronville and Miss Ida Doss, of Clifton, Ill., after a visit with their cousin, Frank Lucas and family, north of town, went to Toledo Tuesday.

Mrs. Robert Hornstein, of that city, who has also been visiting here, returned home. They will be her guests for a short visit.

Miss Helen Gordon went to Fort Wayne Tuesday, from there going to Hilldale, Mich., where she will attend college this fall and winter.

Mrs. H. F. Houghton and party here returned from Deafness Wednesday, where Mrs. Samuel Taylor, her guest took the Wabash train for her home at Fort Wayne.

John Radenbaugh went to Fort Wayne, Wednesday, to visit his wife at Hope hospital, she being so far recovered to health as to be able to return home with him.

F. E. Reeb went to Fort Wayne Wednesday, where he joined his wife and they spent the day with their daughter, Mrs. F. J. Thompson and family.

Miss Genevieve Grant attended Suburban Day at Fort Wayne, Wednesday, and enjoyed the attractions provided by the enterprising merchants of that city.

HAS A HARD JOB, BUT HE IS EXPERT AT IT

Young Lawyer is Champion
Strike Preventer of

By MILTON BRONNER.
Staff Special.

Washington, Sept. 20.—If the government's contract war work is done without perilous strikes it will be due largely to a quiet young lawyer from Louisville, who came here originally on the shipping board legal staff.

He had not been here many hours before he was also drafted by Col. Isaac Littell, in charge of all big army cantonnement construction.

The thing that he found troubling both Colonel Littell and Chairman E. N. Hurley, of the shipping board, was the fear of strikes.

So Louis B. Wehle devised a new kind of mediation board in which the government and organized labor would be represented, while the firms whose plants were involved sat by and agreed to whatever was decided upon.

It was tried out in the cantonnement business when Secretary of War Baker gave it his O. K. It worked.

Then Hurly asked Wehle to devise a similar board for the more complicated shipping business involving many kinds of labor unions. It got the O. K. of Secretary of the Navy Daniels and of Hurley and was tried out. It worked. Now Wehle is devising similar board for the plants where government munitions, etc., are being made.

Wehle, 36, is a Harvard graduate, but without the Harvard accent. Instead, he has the Louisville accent, he just as soft as the Virginian, but different. His family and that of the Debbitzes and Brandises have for years furnished the Kentucky metropolis many of its lawyers, and they have usually been on the altruistic side of things.

Wehle is a kinsman of United States Supreme Court Justice Louis Dembitz Brandeis, but modestly shrinks from the reference, saying that after all he has to stand on his own feet and not shine by any reflected glory.

BAKER SEES HUMOR IN CONSERVATION

Speaker at Convention of
at Some Things.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Today's session of the convention of bakers was opened by the humorous view of food conservation taken in an address by William C. Edgar, of Minneapolis. Mr. Edgar said he recognized the need for the elimination of waste, but found matter of moment in some of the expedients of economy proposed to the public. The program for the day included: "Plans Plus Push," by Dr. S. J. Krebs, New York city; "Getting Results," by A. J. Lettsch, Cleveland, and "The Housewife's Point of View," by Helen Louise Johnson, Watertown, N. Y.

Mr. Edgar early in his remarks referred to "calories," which he said was a word much used lately.

"A dinner prepared to give the diner

the greatest number of calories at the least expense is the latest thing in fashionable conservation," said Mr. Edgar. "An excellent preparation for one of these experiences is a hearty dinner before and an excellent supper after it; otherwise one's strength will languish and a faintness as of hunger will ensue."

INDIANAPOLIS WOMAN RETURNS WITH AUTO

Detective Sergeant William Pappert located a deserted automobile in an east end garage, when making his rounds Monday. He learned that the machine belonged to Mrs. Laura Hart, Indianapolis. The woman was notified and on Wednesday came to Fort Wayne for her property. She drove the auto home.

Mrs. Hart says the machine was stolen from the street in Indianapolis and that the man is now under arrest on a charge of taking the car. The man who brought the machine to Fort Wayne for sale left his property when he was told to prove ownership of the car.

Weighing the Teams That Will Fight Out World's Series

BY J. B. SHERIDAN

WITH the pennant races coming to a close, Americans are interested in any discussion of the owners, managers and members of the teams that should win the contests in the National and American leagues. In a week or so the news of the world's championship series will be vying in public interest with the news of the American troops in France.

The soldier is the big figure in the eyes of the American people just now, but the baseball player has not been forgotten. Strange to say, there is no place where the baseball player is so much a hero as in the army. While the recruits are having their hands and heads full with intensified drill, they do not forget baseball when they have time.

At this writing it seems that the New York Giants will win the National League pennant. The Giants are eight games ahead of Philadelphia, the second team, and fourteen and one-half games ahead of St. Louis, the third team. The Giants can afford to lose half of the twenty-five games they have yet to play and can win the flag. Not in any month of the season have the Giants lost half their games. They have been winning two-thirds of their games right along. It is true that they must finish the season with a long string of twenty-three games away from home, but their nearest rival, the Phillies, must finish away from home, too. Therefore, the last month of the season sees the Giants with an eight-game lead and twenty-three games to play. It is sure as anything human can be sure that the Giants will win the National League pennant in 1917. The American League race is still open between Chicago, which has a two-game lead, and Boston. No other club has a chance.

Let us discuss the characteristics of the teams that probably will figure in the great world's championship of 1917.

The Giants are veterans. Every player on the club save Schupp, Burns and Robertson, was a major league player when McGraw got him. Robertson, Burns and Schupp had lots of minor league experience before they got to New York. McGraw is not a great handler of young players. He is impatient. He cannot wait. He finds it more profitable to pay high prices for developed material that can go out and win a pennant, than to wait for college boys to develop.

New Yorkers Poor Fans.

New York will pay $1,000,000 for a pennant, but not a cent for a club that is not in the race. New York is really a bad ball town save for a winner. It would not stand up for losing ball as Boston, St. Louis, Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland and Cincinnati stand for it, year after year. The New Yorkers are not real ball fans. They are mostly foreigners, the effervescent Jew leading. They care nothing for a good ball game. They want to see the Giants win. They love to gamble on the games. They pour out in great numbers just at game time.

Five minutes before play is called sees empty stands at the Polo grounds. Then the elevated and the subways gape, and by the time umpires call "Play," 20,000 gesticulating, gibbering people are in the seats. They talk and yell and bet as long as New York is in front. The moment someone tells them (they pay little attention to the score) that the Giants are two runs behind, they leave the park. When the game is finished, the huge crowds pour into the subways and on to the elevated and disappear as quickly as they appeared. Most of the people do not know what the score was. They don't know the simpler and finer points of the game. All they know is that New York won or lost, and maybe some of the more intelligent of them, that Holke made a triple or that Kauff made a fine catch.

You must have a winner in New York. They won't go out to see you if you have not got a pennant contender. It won't do that you shall be a good second or third. You must be first or fighting for first place.

So McGraw, a wise man, gives them their winner as often as he can. He has succeeded pretty regularly, too.

Traded Like a Jackknife.

To that desirable $1,000,000 end, McGraw who finished away down in 1915-16, bought a lot of stars in 1917. He got Zimmerman from Chicago and Holke from the International League. In the previous year he got Kauff, the star of the Federal League; Rariden, a good catcher, and Anderson, a good pitcher. He grabbed Sallee and Perritt from the decaying St. Louis club, which at that time had to have money. He got Herzog and Benton from Cincinnati. When McGraw lined up his team to win the flag in 1917 he had just four players of his own development, Schupp, Fletcher, Burns and

Robertson, and all of these had extended minor league experience before McGraw ever saw them. So he did not perform the miracle, Connie Mack performed when he picked Plank, Bender, Combs, Barry, Collins and McInnis out of college, and with a little help from others, won pennant after pennant with them. But McGraw has gained his end, won a pennant, which is, all told, more profitable than going out and losing money for five or six years trying to organize a team that may win a flag.

McGraw got a queer lot of temperaments when he organized his pennant winners. Zimmerman, Herzog, Fletcher, Kauff and Robertson were all famous for their peculiarities of conduct. Zimmerman had put in some seven seasons under five different managers at Chicago and could not get along with either managers or umpires. Chance, Evers, Bresnahan, O'Day and Tinker all failed to make the ebullient Heinie behave. Herzog could not get along with McGraw, Stallings and again McGraw, and had been traded back and forth like a jack knife.

Herzog had trouble getting along with himself when he managed Cincinnati and he surely failed to agree with any of some thirty-five players he employed during his two years with the Reds. Kauff had jumped many teams because he could not get along with managers and fellow-players and was so swollen with his success in the Federal League that he had become intolerable. Sallee was notoriously temperamental and had "jumped" the St. Louis club several times when he was with it. Perritt was also a famous malcontent and a double contract jumper, from the Cardinals to the Federals and from the Federals to the Giants in 1915.

Benton was a wild lad in his devious days with Cincinnati. His passion for wildly careering about the roads on a motorcycle almost led to his death and greatly detracted from his value to his club. The catchers, McCarty, Gibson and Rariden, were all sober, steady, regular fellows. So was Holke, the young first baseman.

Fletcher, the shortstop, is regarded as temperamental, too, but not to such an extent as the others. Burns is steady as a clock and a truly great ballplayer. Robertson, the young right fielder, was a peculiar sort of chap, one who was liable to do strange things at any moment. Schupp, who is as near to being a McGraw-made player as any man ever managed by the nimble-witted manager, is also looked upon as safe and sound.

Value of Odds and Ends.

With this rare aggregation of prima donnas, McGraw started out to win a pennant and a world's championship. He has succeeded at last, so far as winning his pennant goes. Winning the world's championship is another thing, but we are inclined to think that he will do that, too.

There can be no sort of doubt about the merits of the odds and ends picked up. Sallee, Perritt and Benton were famed pitchers before John J. induced them to go to the Giants. Anderson was a star pitcher in the Federal League. He leads the National League pitchers in point of runs earned, but the figures are deceptive, for Anderson is not by any means as good or as effective a pitcher as Sallee, Perritt or Schupp. Nor even as Tesreau.

Rariden was a good catcher with Boston and with the Federal League, a made man before McGraw ever saw him. Gibson was a veteran of veterans. Then McGraw had McCarty, who was a star with Brooklyn before New York got him in trade for Merkle. McCarty was worth ten Merkle's, but Brooklyn was in the pennant race in 1916, and Daubert was seriously injured. Brooklyn simply had to have a first baseman and Merkle was the only available man. So McGraw stuck Brooklyn up for McCarty.

It was a good trade at the time for Brooklyn, too, for Merkle played strongly and helped the Dodgers win the pennant. When Daubert came back Brooklyn had no use for Merkle. Luck, however, broke right for Charley Ebbetts, Vic Sauer broke his leg in the spring of 1917 and Chicago had to have a first sacker. Ebbetts got $13,000 for Merkle, who had been superseded on two clubs.

We have seen where McGraw organized a team of odds and ends, sewed them together and won a championship. He kept the uncertain Zimmerman in good humor by having the press boost him as the best third baseman in the world, which Zim is not, and by having the other players refer to him in all things. Zim has played a fine game for New York, but he is far from being the best third baseman in the business. He can hit and run pretty well, but he is not what is known as a "ground ball player." He will make the wrong play with great frequency and he is liable to throw the ball away any time he gets a fast play at any base. All the same, he is a pretty good man.

Holding Up the Players.

McGraw got great ball out of Herzog by making him captain of the team. Herzog is a great ballplayer, though he is not hitting this year. But there is grit and force and power in the man and the way he takes some of those weak-kneed New York pitchers, lifts them by the ears and holds their faces to the foe, is really wonderful. I have seen Herzog pick up Anderson, Tesreau and Schupp, when they were wavering, and by sheer force of character pull them through the game. Even if he is not hitting, Herzog is a great ballplayer. He advances men every time he goes up with a runner on, he can run bases, he can field any infield position and he fights all the time. His greatest asset is the way in which he backs up pitchers. The pitcher who cannot work with Herzog back of him must be a weak one, indeed.

Fletcher always has played good ball for McGraw and is doing well this year. He could not hit very much when he first came into the National League, but he has grown big and heavy since that time, and he has been hitting hard for the past three seasons. Fletcher is a great shortstop, big, strong, fast, a good arm. He comes in, bounding like a reed and he can cover ground forty ways from Sunday. Fletcher is not far from being the best shortstop in the game, though the minuteness of Maranville and the flash of Bancroft, have got these players more notice than given the Illinoisan. Fletcher can hit, run and field. He is a tremendous shortstop.

Holke at first is the spot on the team. He is a good fielder, but not a good hitter, though he surprised the world by leading both the International League and National League in 1916. He manages to bat .270 or so with the Giants. That means that he would hit some 240 with a club composed of weak batters. Holke bats in seventh place for the Giants. Six mighty sluggers precede him and break the hearts of the pitchers before they get to the first baseman. But Holke will render a good account of himself in the field, and with that team of sluggers will not be entirely useless at the bat.

Greatest National Player.

McGraw will have a good outfield, no matter how the game goes. He made one of the merry mistakes of his career when he let Roush get away, but he wanted to assist Mathewson and Roush at the time did not look at all as good as Kauff or Robertson. Roush came after he joined the Reds, and is now probably the greatest ballplayer in the National League, another Harry Hooper, but about 100 points a stronger hitter.

In George Burns, McGraw has a wonderful ballplayer. Burns has not been featured in the New York papers because he is not as showy as Robertson or Roush. Burns is, on the other hand, just a quiet sort of fellow, who does all sorts of good work, and who gets no credit for what he does. Burns is, next to Cobb, about the best man playing ball. He is a first-class lead-off man and batter, runs the bases splendidly, can field and throw. He handles ground balls like a shortstop, can catch and play infield. He plays 156 games year in and year out. His conduct is perfect. Put George Burns on a team with Cobb and there is no telling where he would stop. He is truly one great ball player, one of the very best of all time.

Kauff has improved a great deal and is a very good hitter. He is a fair sort of fielder but an inaccurate thrower. Kauff's arm is strong enough but he has always had trouble getting the ball to the mark. Kauff is a good ballplayer and will not be out of place on a championship club. But he is not at all so good a ballplayer as Burns or Roush.

Robertson should be as great a player as Cobb. He is faster than Cobb ever was, can hit the ball harder and farther, can throw and field, but he has a temperment. And that ends it. Robertson's wonderful flash of speed in 1916 fooled McGraw into choosing him over Roush, who is much the better ballplayer. Robertson played some ball in 1916 that was enough to make any manager like him. He looked like a better man than Cobb. He got married during the winter of 1917 and that is supposed to have lowered his effectiveness. They always say that marriage hurts a ballplayer. Yet Cobb got married in midseason and it did not effect his batting average. Many of the stars have been married while at their best. Mickey Welch, the famous pitcher of the world's champion Giants of 1889 had some ten children. So it is down the line.

Bad Breaks Ruin Him.

The fact is that Robertson is merely temperamental. If he gets away well he will play a great game. If things break bad for him he will not go so well. Things broke bad for Robertson in 1917, and he has been the disappointment of the Giants. Every one else came through. Robertson did not. But McGraw's infield and outfield is good enough to win from any club the Giants meet.

The loss of McCarty has been a sore blow to the Giants and will be a sorer one still in the world's series. This fellow is one of the best hitters, catchers or anything else, in either league. He is game and a pretty good receiver and thrower. When he broke his leg in May, McCarty became a dead loss to the club. Had he been in the game the Giants would be eighteen not eight games ahead of their nearest competitor.

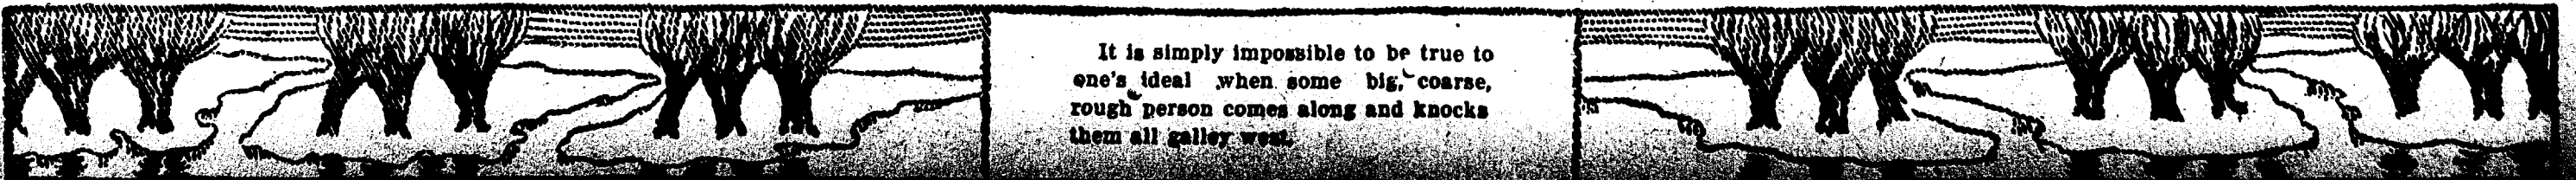

Gibson, a 42-year-old boy, broke a finger and will hardly be in the series either. So the catching will be up to Rariden, who is a good receiver and a pretty good hitter, but who is not exactly world's series sort. If the Chicago White Sox should win the American League pennant, and oppose the Giants in the world's series, Rariden will have his work cut out opposing a great catcher like Schalk.

Should Boston win the American League pennant, Rariden will hold his own with any catcher that may be produced by the present champions.

It is most unlikely that the New York pitching staff will do anything but acquit itself in most creditable fashion in the world's series. While there is not one great pitcher among the nine men that draw pay from the New York team, there are several first-class men, some of them very reliable, and all of them likely to pitch at least one great game at any time.

Schupp, who is regarded as the star of the staff, is a nice young pitcher, but far from a great one. He has one great asset, fine control of a good curve ball. He can curve that ball on the corners of the plate, an inch in or an inch out, at his pleasure. This makes him a very troublesome pitcher. For he is liable to bend a strike over at any time and then he is liable to keep the ball just far enough away from the batter to make it hard to meet it fairly. Then if the batter lets the ball alone it is liable to curve over for a strike.

Schupp has no great speed, his curve is not a wonder, but he can make that curve sit up and do tricks. He keeps the batter worrying lest it be over or a hair's breadth outside. The batters, of course, are beginning to let Schupp's fast one alone and to lay for his curve ball. He has got enough speed to hold his own, but Schupp is not, by any means, the remarkable pitcher that his early record of eight straight wins and no defeats, and something like ten of twelve games won in the first two months of the season would lead one to imagine. He is just a nice young pitcher, with a well-controlled curve ball, a pitcher something like Carl Weilman was, only with a little more speed and "stuff."

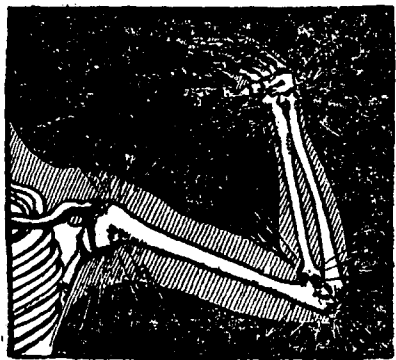

It is simply impossible to be true to one's ideal when some big, coarse, rough person comes along and knocks them all galley west.

He wants every rheumatic victim to know how he was cured. Read what he says:

"I Had Sharp Pains Like Lightning Flashes Shooting Through My Joints." "In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by muscular and inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried every remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case."

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be the long-sought-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today. MARK H. JACKSON, No. 67D, Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.

Delft Brand Butter Has a Five-Fold Value in Cooking

First—It's 8 per cent. volatile fat—which is the secret of its delightful flavor; gives to every dish cooked that toothsome palate pleasing touch without which no food is 100 per cent. satisfying and nourishing.

Second—The high energy value of butter makes the meal serve the needs of the family more completely—adds the necessary driving force to the muscle-building qualities of meats and other strong protein foods.

Third—The liberal use of Delft Brand Butter in cooking permits the use of cheaper foods without sacrificing nutritive value or palatability. It cuts the grocer and butter bills materially.

Fourth—Delft Butter is the only commercial fat which enables the life giving, growth providing power of the meal—so necessary to the proper development of children.

Fifth—Meals cooked with butter are more easily digested than those cooked with other fats, because, whether in natural state or cooked, butter fat is always the most easily digested of all fats.

methods of this body, which have been the product of British experience with a merchant marine many times larger than ours, may be profitably imitated by the United States shipping board.

Latin-American Trade.
We may realize practical pan-Americanism by steadfast recognition in principle and practice of the economic ties between the United States and other American republics. Our country must continue to offer a market for considerable part of the products of Latin-America and must see to it that a good transportation is provided for the conveyance of that merchandise. The export administrative board has a great opportunity in constructive work in fostering trade with Latin-America. Once it is realized throughout Latin-America that the United States recognizes as a primary principle of its war policy the duty of supplying the needs of its southern neighbors and of maintaining uninterrupted the means of transportation a surer basis will be supplied for pan-American relations.

shattered troops. The German defenses were composed largely of concrete redoubts. The Germans poured a wicked stream of bullets into the ranks of the advancing troops from concrete redoubts. Every little elevation and all the woods were choked with rapid-fire guns. The British encountered hard fighting at many places, but their magnificent artillery work has done much to make the first stage of their drive easier.

London, Sept. 20.—The British forces on the Belgian front attacked the German positions at 5:40 o'clock this morning east of Ypres. Field Marshal Haig reports that the British advance was made and that the British already have captured some valuable positions.

The British official statement announcing that Field Marshal Haig had taken the offensive this morning says: "We attacked at 5:40 this morning on a wide front east of Ypres. Satisfactory progress is reported. Our troops already have captured some valuable positions."

Field Marshal Haig's selection of the battle front to the east of Ypres in Belgium as the scene of his latest offensive against the Germans indicates that it is a continuance of the expressed purpose of the British commander in chief to force the armies of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria from the western coast of Belgium and to cut off the German submarine and air plane bases on the north sea from Zebrugge to Newport, including Ostend.

The British drive apparently is being made in the direction of Roulers and Courtrai, from which Belgian towns, according to recent dispatches from the Daily Mail, the German military authorities have been evacuating the civil population.

That the British offensive had been in preparation for several days was made known in recent dispatches of the German general headquarters staff. The Germans reported the British were maintaining a violent and destructive fire against the Teuton positions, the bombardment frequently reaching the intensity of drum fire.

TURKS IN AUSTRIAN LINE.

FRENCH SUBMARINE LOSSES.

Paris, Sept. 20.—Two French merchantmen of more than 1,600 tons and two vessels of less than that tonnage were sunk by Teuton submarines or mines in the week ending September 19, according to an official statement given out today by the French admiralty. In this period 980 vessels arrived and 894 cleared at French ports. Two French ships were unsuccessfully attacked.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

but a clue seems to have been furnished by Berlin, which yesterday reported the drum fire to be pounding the line from Houtholst wood, some five miles south of Dixmude, to the river Lys, a distance of about fifteen miles. This would indicate the main force of the drive was directed toward Roulers and Courtrai, with the probable object of driving a wedge further into the German Flanders front and eventually forcing a German abandonment of the Belgian coast, with its valuable submarine and aerial bases. The civilian population is recently reported to have been removed from towns in the German rear along a wide stretch along this front, including the two cities named.

The Flanders operations were opened this year with the blowing up of the Messines ridge on June 27 and the capture of the Wytschaete salient by the British and was continued with the opening of the present great offensive by a combined attack of British and French troops on July 31. Progress on a notable scale continued to be made during a considerable part of August, but in the latter part of that month and during September, until now, the infantry fighting has largely been confined to local drives and extensive trench raids.

From the French front today only artillery activity is reported. The statement covered only last night's operation and the early reports today did not indicate whether the French in Flanders had joined in the renewed drive there.

Reports that continue to come from the Flanders battle front during the day indicated the advance was proceeding with notable success, ground having been gained which if the British succeeded in holding, would constitute one of the most notable achievements in months.

The unofficial dispatches show the main drive was exerted between the Ypres-Roulers railway and Houtholst, on a front of some four and a half miles astride the Ypres-Menin road. It was in this crucial sector that the gains were most marked. The battle of Menin road, as the dispatch describes it, is being fought over muddy ground and in the face of a wicked machine gun fire from the Germans, although the British guns had wiped out countless defenses and the British barrage was of the most effective character. This attack, however, is being made under improved weather conditions instead of during a rainstorm with the weather constantly growing worse as on so many previous occasions.

KAISER IS SILENT UPON QUESTION OF BELGIUM'S LIBERTY

A NEW PEACE PLOT.

London, Sept. 20.—The attempt made by the German press and officials to create a misconception of what is believed to be another peace maneuver, again is given prominence in the morning papers, which are of the unanimous opinion that there can be no peace until Prussian militarism is crushed. The Daily Mail, under the caption, "The Hun Peace Plot," declared that the friends of peace are the allied armies of the government, which are striving to remove the cause of all this misery, unrestrained bloodshed by destroying Germany's military autonomy.

The Mail rebukes the pacifists, saying, "President Wilson has shown how these people can be handled. He is the most scrupulous of democrats, but he knows that liberty at such moments as this has the most to fear from its pretended friends. Peace agitation in the United States is no longer tolerated and editors of journals printed in the German language are no longer permitted to cry fretfully for peace with dishonor."

The Times says: "While the well disciplined German press affects to maintain an agitated discussion as to whether the forthcoming reply to the papal peace note does or does not contain an offer to evacuate Belgium upon terms which would leave her in the perpetual servitude of her oppressors, the answer of the allies to any proposals of the kind treats Germany at the same time from both sides of the Atlantic."

The Times quotes the Atlantic City speech of Secretary Lane, and adds that the war will end, as Secretary Lane says, "when Germany knows that she must give hostages for good behavior in the future."

The Express asserts that "the U-boats figures issued last night are the best commentary on Germany's desire for peace," adding "they are the worst on record for Germany."

Continuing, the Express says: "No peace can ever terms can have any value unless they terminate the independence of another German attempt to wreck the world."

Uniform Method of Treating Milk to Be Demanded for Fort Wayne.

An ordinance demanding a uniform treatment for pasteurization of milk in Fort Wayne is being framed for the city council. Members of that body have declared themselves as favoring such a law and passage of the measure is assured.

The ordinance will set out that milk to be properly pasteurized must be heated to a temperature of 145 degrees for thirty seconds. This code will insure like treatment for all milk products which are advertised as being pasteurized.

Automatic arrangements for controlling the temperature of pasteurization and a recording thermometer to register temperature of the milk will have to be installed by a few dairies who do not now have such apparatus, when the proposed law is carried into effect.

The recording sheets, telling of treatment of the milk, must be carefully filed so that the city health officers may have access to the papers at any time. Inspections will be made often.

The impending law is due to the activities of the city health department which has been informed that a part of the treated milk in Fort Wayne has not been properly pasteurized.

Power for Gravel Pit.

Henry Braun, who operates a gravel pit south of the city, on the Indianapolis road, petitioned Wednesday for the extension of city light lines to his pit. He would use the current for motor power. He was told that it would cost nearly $5,000 to have the electric power carried to his pit. He is willing to stand the expense and the board of works is considering the matter.

IN LOBBY

James B. Wells, who died at Harrisburg, Pa., on Wednesday, was a well known Pennsylvania employee. He was born at Altoona, Pa., May 21, 1861, and was fifty-six years old at the time of his death.

The family moved to Harrisburg, Pa., when William was a small boy. He lived in that city until coming to Fort Wayne. He was a student in Harvard college one term. When out of college he accepted a position as athletic director of the Y. M. C. A. at Pittsburg, Pa., which position he held but a short time before entering the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

Wife and Daughter Survive.

The widow and daughter, Florence, both living at home, 1326 Park avenue, are survivors of the immediate family of Mr. Wells. There are three brothers, Alfred, Harry and John C. Wells, all living in Pennsylvania.

Protest Made Against the Abuse of Sweden's Con- fidence and Trust.

Stockholm, Sept. 20.—It was announced at the Swedish ministry of foreign affairs today that after the publication by the Washington state department of the code telegrams forwarded by Count von Luxburg, the German minister to Argentina, through the Swedish legation at Buenos Aires, the Swedish government, on Sept. 19, asked, through the intermediary of the Swedish minister at Berlin, whether it was true that the German representative at Buenos Aires had dispatched, and the minister of foreign affairs at Berlin had received the telegrams in question.

When the reply was received the Swedish minister at Berlin on September 15 was instructed by the Swedish government to hand to the German government a strong protest in consequence of these incidents and to lay stress upon the fact that it had been confirmed beyond doubt that German officials very seriously had abused the confidence of Sweden.

The communication made by the German minister at Stockholm to the Swedish minister of foreign affairs mentioned in the Swedish official statement of September 17 had no connection with the protest made by the Swedish government.

The city fire department No. 1 made a run to the Albert Swift farm on the Leo road, near Robinson park, Thursday morning, where a barn and several small buildings were destroyed.

The loss was heavy, owing to the fact that the fall crops were stored in the barn. The firemen were able to save the Swift residence. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

THE MARKETS

WEATHER HAS BULLISH INFLUENCE ON CORN

Unfavorable Reports Give Strong Opening, But Re- action Comes.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Unfavorable weather had a bullish effect today on the corn market. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as last night finish to 1/4c higher at $1.19 1/2 to $1.19 3/4 December, and $1.16 to $1.16 1/4 May, were followed by moderate further gains and then something of a reaction.

Oats bulged with corn. Some of the buying was ascribed to seaboard interests. Wheat receipts continue relatively liberal in the northwest and scanty in Chicago.

Higher quotations on hogs strengthened provisions.

The close on corn was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/4c advance, with December $1.19 to $1.19 1/2 and May $1.16 to $1.16 1/4.

TELL THEM DAILY

The business man, the public stenographer, the architect, the moving man, the chiroprapist and the carpenter who advertise in the classified columns of The Sentinel all know how important it is to keep their business announcements before Fort Wayne people every day in the week, month after month. They know that Fort Wayne people use these columns like they use the City Directory or the telephone book, "looking up" what they want to buy in the carefully indexed "For Sale" classification, and using the "Services Offered" column in the same way when they want to get in touch with reliable professional people. Whatever you do can profitably be told every day in The Sentinel.

LOCAL MARKETS

SIXTEEN LOADS OF HAY DAY'S RECEIPTS

One Dollar Drop from Wednesday's Top Price—The Local Market.

Hay receipts were again heavy, sixteen loads being weighed at the city scales, bringing $16 to $18, one dollar less than the top price on Wednesday. Two loads of corn brought $1.90 and $1.96, and seven loads of oats from 60 cents to 65 cents.

Unwillingness of the farmer to deliver grain at the official price has been given as the reason for a threatened shortage in flour, if millers could not get wheat they could not make flour, and if the mills could not make flour the trade could get none to sell. The Wall Street Journal says that the explanation is simplicity itself. Consumers of flour now should do their part as expected and rush to buy, everything in sight. In no other way can the public live up to its reputation of being an easy mark.

Clarksburg, W. Mr. Howard said he had reports from other counties of the central West Virginia field concerning the close of mines which their owners declare they were unable to operate profitably at the government rate.

WARNING—The

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Bldg. streets, Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious names will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Bloodless" writes: "I sign after my name 'bloodless' because that seems to be my condition. I am pale, thin and chilly all the time. My appetite is fickle, but even when I eat a great deal I do not gain in weight."

Answer: I would advise plenty of exercise and a persistent use of three-grain hypo-nutrient tablets to increase your blood and flesh. They tend to improve digestion and the proper absorption of nourishment. A gain of a pound or two a week is not unusual.

Mrs. P. G. writes: "I hesitate to ask advice as my case is so unusual. In a word, I am tired and worn out all the time. Rest does not refresh me. I have been married over a year and formerly did not know what it was to be tired or nervous. Sometimes I feel hysterical. I fear I will become a nuisance to my husband if this continues."

Answer: Your nervous system has been deranged and a persistent use of three-grain hypo-nutrient tablets regularly for several months.

NOTE: For many years Dr. Baker has been giving free advice and prescriptions to millions of people through the press and advice that five grain hypo-nutrient tablets is the reliable remedy for relieving illness and distress more than any single individual in the world's history. He has written him expressions of gratitude and confidence.

Dr. Lewis Baker, Dear Sir:—In reading your good advice to others I have found relief. I enclose stamps, and please send me your "Great Guide Book, Health and Happiness" and I thank you for advice to others which so helped me. May your good work go on. You will get better returns than money in helping so many who suffer and often cannot have a doctor, as there is no money to pay one. One of your many well-wishers, MISS C. H. WHITE, 150 Free Street, Portland, Me.

THE REUNION OF THE ELEVENTH INDIANA BATTERY, which was held Thursday, was well attended in spite of the fact that the veteran battery has dwindled down during the past year. A number of machines, donated by citizens and county officials, were used to take the soldiers to the home of Charles Roy at the Collierville road, where the reunion was held. Many who could not leave at this time were met at stop 20 on the Huntertown interurban.

A new railway station costing $2,500,000 has recently been completed at Macon, Ga.

MILITARY NEWS

GARDEN SUPERVISOR CALLED TO COLORS

Fred W. Gray Leaves With Second Contingent for Camp Taylor.

Fred W. Gray, who has been in charge of the work of the food relief committee in Fort Wayne and official supervisor of the city garden movement here, left Thursday for his home in Terre Haute, preparatory to going to Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., Friday. Gray could have postponed his leaving for the army until October 3 or later, but preferred to get in earlier and stand a chance for advancement because of his previous military training.

Mr. Gray has been here since June in the interest of the local gardening project. He was employed in similar work for a short time prior to coming here at Indianapolis. Gray is a graduate of the Purdue university school of agriculture. His work here has elicited favorable comment from all parts of the state. Under his direction much valuable produce has been raised on vacant lots in the city which have never before been under cultivation. The city garden plan was thoroughly organized and put on systematic basis by Gray during his stay here and much benefit was gained by city gardeners through his scientific knowledge.

Gray served as a member of the Purdue battery of the Indiana national guard in the Mexican border campaign and is eminently qualified for army service.

The work of the food relief committee of which Frank Hilgeman is chairman, will now be in charge of M. Costello, a practical farmer and gardener, who has been assisting Gray with the campaign here.

FORT WAYNE UNIT

Railway Engineers May be Organized in Regulars.

If the plans of Major Thomas F. Ryan, in charge of the local recruiting station, materialize, Fort Wayne will have a company of its own in the regular army in the near future. Major Ryan, with the assistance of Allen Miller, a Pennsylvania engineer, who was a student officer at the training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison, have under way the organization of a unit for the engineer corps. The major has a list of two hundred names of those willing to work in this branch of the service. The orders of the war department directing the organization of such a unit directs that only a company of one hundred men can be recruited for the reason that the twenty-first engineers is nearly organized now, and an over enrollment would necessitate a re-distribution.

Twenty-one new recruits were signed up at the Fort Wayne recruiting station Wednesday for service in the regular army. These men were sent Wednesday evening to Fort Thomas, Ky. Among them were two men for the cavalry, several for the engineer corps, medical department, infantry and quartermasters' corps. Two colored men also were accepted for service in the new stevedore regiment.

FEWER CUSTOMERS AND FARMERS ON MARKET

Tomatoes Were Offered for $1.50 to $1.65—Other Prices.

There were not as many customers nor as many farmers on city market Thursday morning as usual. There may have been two reasons, however. The season is getting late and the agitation because of the high prices prevailing on the market is causing farmers to hesitate to bring in their produce and vegetables and also causing buyers to stay away. It has been cheaper to buy from local grocers.

String and wax beans ran from 10 to 12½ cents a pound and from $2.00 to $2.50 a bushel. Many of them were put in some were indifferent in quality. One farmer who offered a basket of twenty pounds for $2 of the fine cut stem beans said: "People think we ask high prices for them, but if they knew the work of cutting them in addition to the raising of them, they might not think so. And when I came to a bargain in beans he had the best one in sight both as to price and quality."

Tomatoes were mostly only fair in quality and ran from $1.50 to $1.65 a bushel, but the high price prevailed. Butter sold for 48 to 49 cents a pound. Eggs ran the scale from 40 to 47 cents, everyone declaring them as "strictly fresh." Potatoes were not very plentiful and sold from $1.40 to $1.50 a bushel. Pickles, the best shown, were 40 to 70 cents a hundred. Cabbage was two cents a pound.

"There is talk of closing the market up, I hear," said a woman who has had a big patronage of city customers for several years. "If we were to sell lower than the grocers we would hear a kick from them, so what shall we do?"

MITCHELL WINS NARROWLY. New York, Sept. 20.—Mayor John Purroy Mitchell won the republican majority nomination in yesterday's primary by a plurality of approximately 1,100 over William M. Bennett. With only two days missing out of 2,060 Mayor Mitchell's vote was 35,446 and Bennett's 35,527.

F. J. MORSCHES OFFERS USE OF HIS AUTO

Second Advertising Trip Planned by Local Naval Officer.

F. J. Morsches, 229 Masterson avenue, has volunteered the use of his car for the advertising trip which will be made by the local recruiting officer, Augustus G. Kaftan, Friday. The trip, which is the second to be made this week for the purpose of advertising naval recruiting, will entail visits to Kendallville, Garrett, Auburn, Huntertown, Swan, Avilla, Lisbon and the other neighboring towns.

Mr. Morsches said in offering the use of his car that he wished to do something, and that he was not eligible for other kinds of service. The car for the first trip was furnished by I. M. Hallenstein, of West Berry street. The local recruiting officer received instructions from the state recruiting headquarters at Indianapolis Thursday saying machinist mates for the aviation corps would no longer be accepted. Cooks and bakers may be accepted for regular service only as enrollment has been discontinued in naval reserve.

Enlistments as apprentice seamen are now desired most by the navy according to the local officer.

RED CROSS RESPONDS TO APPEAL FOR HELP

To Use Mite Box Donations to Buy Material for Comfort Pillows.

The Red Cross headquarters presented a busy appearance Thursday with every one plying herself to help get out the 500 comfort pillows in the next ten days. All other work has been dropped during this period and a concentrated effort is being made to get these out as rapidly as possible. The money which is donated to the mite-box has been used in the general fund but for the next few days it will be used to buy material for these pillows. The people of Fort Wayne have not been helping as they should and the work of the leaders, who have promised these pillows within ten days, will be greatly aided if those desiring to help would do so.

SOAP-BOX SEDITION DUE FOR A MUZZLE

A Nation-Wide Attack on Treason Urged by Defense Society.

New York, Sept. 20.—"Soap-box sedition" was denounced by speakers at a luncheon of the American Defense society here and resolutions passed for a nation-wide campaign to "suppress treasonable orators and to suspend all treasonable newspapers, whether in German, English or other languages." The resolutions declared "that a widespread campaign of disloyalty is being waged in the United States by pro-German, friends of Irish freedom, socialists, pacifists, anarchists, I. W. W.'s and all the forces of treason."

James M. Beck, one of the speakers, in asserting that it was vital that these forces should be combated, said that "On the part of uncounted thousands of American people there is a spirit of almost apathetic interest which makes fertile soil for the growth of the noxious weed of sedition." The society voted to hold a mass meeting here on the subject.

BABYHOOD SCOURGE SPREADS IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Sept. 20.—There are 119 cases of infantile paralysis under observation in Chicago today, according to Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson, who said the disease showed "unmistakable signs of spreading." The commissioner said that 50 per cent of the children afflicted with the ailment have died. In the past four days twenty children have died from the disease.

OTHERS TO JOIN IN SUBURBAN DAY PLANS

Room for More Members to Boost Suburban Day Events.

HOW TO JOIN ASSOCIATION.

Those merchants, hotels, motion picture houses, bakers, manufacturers, tailors, photographers, realtors, automobile dealers, garages, and others who wish to join in the Suburban Day Trade movement, should apply in person or by phone (3098) at the association headquarters, 300-301 People's Trust building. Membership is available to all who are willing to co-operate unselfishly to make Fort Wayne a greater city of real, warm-hearted people, by cultivating and exhibiting those social and business qualities which attract and hold worthwhile friendships.

There is still room for a number of real live-live members in the list of boosters of the Fort Wayne Suburban Trade Day plan. The way to join, together with the qualifications, is outlined above. The good beginning which was made Wednesday is but the beginning of greater things for the future, a fact realized by all who are interested in the movement. The greater success of Suburban Trade Day is based on a constant development of the popularity of the Fort Wayne stores and the places of entertainment to which the outside people are invited.

Many of the people who came to the city yesterday were from Ohio towns, a large percentage being from the neighborhoods of Van Wert, Payne, Conroy, Willshire, Antwerp, Paulding and Oakwood.

Perfect weather conditions and splendid facilities for travel added materially to the success of the first Suburban Day. It was found that many made early purchases of Christmas remembrances, chiefly for the boys at the front or in the training camps.

Early preparations for the second Suburban Day are now in progress, and with the development of the idea, greater things are promised down through the weeks and months to come.

WOMAN'S QUESTION GOT THEIR NERVE

Rhum Players Reported to Police and One is in Wrong.

"Are you men gambling?" was always the greeting interrogation when a woman, of the reforming type, entered the cigar store, managed by Frank Hill, at the corner of Lewis and Calhoun streets.

"No we are not gambling," was always the brief answer by Hill and no effort was made to give a soothing effect to the words.

The woman frankly admitted to the circle of her conscientious friends that the card playing, in a corner of the cigar store, did not appear right to her although she knows not the difference between a royal flush and two pairs with a disconcerting six. Each week brought one or more untimely and jarring visits by the woman. The abrupt approach of the questioned ruined the sense of isolation for the card players. In desperation Hill appealed to Police Chief Lenz, a week ago.

"How can I keep that woman out of here?" Hill wanted to know. "We are playing only for amusement, but she has my nerve."

Chief Lenz told Hill that the law placed no barriers between card players and scrutinizing women.

Then the chief began to ponder over the situation and finally arrived at the conclusion that maybe a woman's intuition is to be trusted. A watch was kept at the cigar store.

The name of Frank Hill appeared on the police blotter, Thursday morning. He is charged with operating a gambling house in which cards are played for money. He is at liberty under bond for trial on next Thursday.

Police claim that they have proof that Hill was allowing a rum game to be operated in his place and that he took mulet in the sum of five cents per game.

More to Follow. Police will make a careful investigation of the case of Thaddeus Skeer, 15, and Carl Axt, 16, who pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing an automobile tire, in city court, Thursday. The boys told that they removed a tire from an automobile in front of the Palace theater, earlier in the week and that they hid the tire in the basement of the Metropolitan restaurant.

The boys testified that Skeer had once before given an automobile tire to Anthony Tonsonea, jitney line operator, and that they had told him of the theft, of the second tire. Police think that this may not be the first offense of the lads.

Both boys were fined $1 and costs and sentenced to 120 days at the state farm by Judge H. W. Kerr upon the petit larceny charge. Parents of Carl Axt, who were in court and who shed tears when the sentence was read, will appeal his case. They put up $300 bond for the boy's release until time for a second trial.

Other Police Court Cases. Charles Barrett was fined $20 and costs on an intoxication charge. John Smith and Steven Ray were released.

WOMAN AGENT MEETING.

Friday at 1:30 p. m. the chairman of the various women clubs throughout the country will meet in the assembly room of the court house to plan for the employing of a woman agent to direct the work of the women in the county. This meeting was postponed from Wednesday. The plan is to have the woman agent take the same place among the women as the county agent has among the men and women.

Germany Has No Peace Terms to State to Pope

KAISER IS SILENT UPON QUESTION OF BELGIUM'S LIBERTY

Pan-Germanism in Frothy State Over Talk of Yielding Conquered Neighbor Her Soil.

GERMANS FAVOR WORLD'S PEACE BODY

Berlin, Wednesday, Sept. 19.—(Via London, Sept. 20.)—While the text of the German reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals will not be announced before Saturday the Berlin Press and parliamentary circles concur in the prediction that the message will not contain specific declarations concerning Belgium.

The fate of that country is calling forth excessive pan-German frothing due to recurrent rumors that the government had definitely decided to abandon all intentions of permanent control in the occupied Belgian territory.

While these reports are said to have basis in the alleged "trial balloon" sent out by England, they equally carry earmarks of an obvious artificial inspiration for the purpose of supporting the annexationists' campaign.

Officials here today were absolutely non-communative on the subject of German answer outside of admitting it will be delivered to the papal legate at Munich tomorrow. The impression prevailing in well informed quarters is that the note will leave the subject of Belgium in abeyance. This is considered wholly in keeping with the pope's present efforts at mediation, which, it is pointed out, do not call for specific peace terms of any of the belligerents.

On the subject of international arbitration the German note will express approval of the suggestion. However, in view of the previous failure of such an international tribunal it is assumed the pope will come forward with proposals incorporating a scheme calculated virtually to serve as an institution of international arbitration.

Summary of the Day's War News

Early this morning the British infantry went over the top on a wide front east of Ypres and the Flanders offensive was on again.

The rush evidently was successful at the outset, for the capture of positions of value were reported by Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig during the forenoon, and the progress made was described as satisfactory.

The renewal of the offensive came after a long pause in which intensive preparatory work had been carried on unceasingly. The fighting in this period indicated was such as to pile up heavy casualties on both sides, while the crushing drum fire from the British guns has been admitted by the Germans to have had a destructive effect upon their positions.

Early reports did not outline definitely the extent of the front attacked.

GREAT ARMY MOVES TO CAMPS WITHOUT DELAY OR FRICTION

Washington, Sept. 20.—The influx of men for the national army continued at sixteen cantonments, but reports to the war department indicated that the greater part of the 300,000 called to the colors yesterday already have arrived.

From the time the men left home evidence of the government's extensive preparations were seen. Provided with special trains the various quotas converged towards the mobilization points over a clear right of way. At many railroad stations, mercy organizations were on hand to furnish lunches to the men. The work of receiving the prospective soldiers at the cantonments was accomplished smoothly and swiftly.

The men were assigned to quarters in the model military cities erected by the government and were then partially equipped. The next step will be their examination by military physicians and organization into provisional companies for administrative purposes.

DROPS DEAD IN LOBBY

William S. Wells Dies Suddenly at Hotel Anthony Thursday Afternoon.

HAD BEEN AILING FOR SEVERAL MONTHS

Deceased Was Talking With a Friend When Stricken With Apoplexy.

William S. Wells, 56, insurance salesman, and a former member of the state legislature, dropped dead in the lobby of the Anthony hotel Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Death was due to an attack of apoplexy, Coroner J. E. McArdle reported, after making an investigation of the body.

Mr. Wells had been ailing for some time. He had been under the care of a physician a part of the time. He complained of pains in his side Thursday morning.

Mr. Wells had been in poor health for months and early last spring and winter was seriously ill with dropsy and weeks but in recent months had appeared improved and believed he was recovered.

A telephone call summoned Mr. Wells to the Anthony shortly after noon for a business discussion. His wife advised him to remain at home. Mr. Wells was determined to fill the engagement.

He was humming a droling tune when he entered the hotel lobby, a few minutes before 1 o'clock. He met the man with whom he had the engagement, and the two repaired to chairs at the corner of the corner of the lobby.

Suddenly Mr. Wells ceased talking. He slipped quietly to the floor. His body lay crumpled up on the heavy carpet.

His friends ran to the desk and asked that assistance be given. Several men in the lobby aided in raising the limp form to the large chair from which Mr. Wells had fallen. A physician was summoned. The doctor pronounced the body to be lifeless and advised the calling of the coroner.

Autopsy Is Held.

Autopsy by Coroner McArdle was brief. He pronounced the death due to apoplexy. The brief inquest had scarcely been completed when the ambulance of Schone & Ankenbruck was announced as waiting at the curb before the hotel.

Scores of guests in the hotel formed a circle about the body while the remains were placed upon a stretcher and removed to the ambulance. The body will be taken to the home later in the afternoon.

Well Known Man.

William S. Wells had been a well known resident of Fort Wayne for over a quarter of a century. He was a political figure of more than local reputation and had served in the sessions of the state legislature in 1903 and 1907.

Mr. Wells had been an insurance salesman in late years. A short time ago he was made district manager for an automobile insurance company. He was a local organizer for the Benevolent Order of Buffalos for several years and an enthusiastic member of the United Commercial Travelers.

Mr. Wells was a machinist for the Pennsylvania railroad at Harrisburg, Pa., before he came to Fort Wayne and for some time after moving to this city.

He was a moving factor in the Potato Patriots' association and to his efforts is largely credited the success of the recent celebration held in Foster park, at which time Senator James E. Watson was the principal speaker.

Mr. Wells was one of the most active boosters for the food show, which is being planned in Foster park.

He was one of the men who aided in bringing about the settlement of the street car strike in Fort Wayne two years ago.

William Wells had always been active in democratic politics of Fort Wayne. He was a candidate before the recent primary for state representative.

Born in Pennsylvania.

The deceased was the son of the late

OFFICERS OF THE AMERICAN FORCE GIVEN WAR CROSS

American Headquarters in France, Wednesday, Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—Brig. Gen. George B. Duncan and Maj. Campbell King are the first American officers to receive the war cross in the French awards growing out of American participation in the recent Verdun offensive when they acted as observation officers in forward artillery posts. Whether the officers will be permitted to accept the decoration is not known.

GOV. GOODRICH CONTINUES TO GAIN IN FIGHT

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 20.—Governor Goodrich, ill of typhoid fever, had the best night's rest he has had for some time, his physicians announced early today. He continues to improve.

The doctors in charge of Governor Goodrich at the hospital reported this morning that he shows continued steady improvement. The doctors have overcome the rigid condition of body and this is leading to further improvement, they say.

THE SLEEPER IS AWAKENED

City Profoundly Stirred by Gunmen Murders in Political Fight.

City's Executive May Be Held in Connection With Tragedy.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 20.—Five separate investigations were begun today into the killing of city policemen yesterday by gunmen whom the authorities allege confessed to have been brought here from Jersey City for the primary election by one of the rival factions in the contests for leadership of the Fifth ward, known as the "Bloody Fifth," and announcement was made that a warrant for the arrest of Mayor Smith would be sworn out as the results of charges by Isador Stern, a member of the state legislature to the effect that he had forewarned the mayor of the importation of the gunmen.

Stern charged that Mayor Smith ignored his appeal for protection in the ward in the face of proof that the gunmen were responsible for the attack on the Finletter Republican club a few hours before Policeman Eppley was slain and two other men badly beaten. The mayor denied that he had any knowledge that the men were to be brought here and declared he was ready for any warrant of arrest. The affair has aroused the city as probably no other of a similar nature in its history.

STATE SENATOR IS TO BE WRUNG OUT

James Nejd Said to Have Beaten Lake County on Big Paving Job.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 20.—The state board of accounts in a report which became public today charges State Senator James Nejd with owing Lake county a total of $17,968.95, because of alleged deficiencies in the construction of a two mile brick road in Lake county that has just been completed and accepted by the county commissioners. Nejd is a road contractor. The report charges that Nejd did not pave properly the street intersections as provided in the contract; that the contractor did not follow specifications in the grade; that the quantity of cement used was below the amount named in the specifications, and that a sufficient sand cushion on which the bricks were to rest was not provided.

SHERMAN ACT WAR BOTHER

Anti-Trust Law Denounced by Business Men as a Grave Handicap.

War Council of Business Men Hears Measure Scored.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 20.—A vigorous denunciation of the operation of the Sherman anti-trust act as hampering the efforts of business men to aid the government in prosecution of the war was made by Alma B. Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive works, before the war convention here of American business men today.

"If there is any one thing this war has demonstrated," he said, "it is that the principle of the Sherman act will not stand the strain of war. The moment the stress of war comes in the nation we see this temple to a false god overturned. The government itself is eliminating competition and has realized that business must be conducted on a basis of reasonable profit. The only way to reach that basis is by conferences among producers.

Contentious Profiters.

Unpatriotic business men seeking excessive profits were blamed for the spirit of unrest among labor by Secretary of Labor Wilson, who spoke before the labor section of the country.

"Labor has been restless," he said, "because the world has gone forth that iron and steel men are making 200 to 400 per cent profit and that shipping, mining and the other great industries are getting excessive returns. This feeling on the part of labor has been justified. In my investigation of the coal industry in the east it was shown that operators in some instances extorted $5 and $6 for coal that cost them $1.50.

"I have told labor this is no time to insist on recognition of their union nor to force changes in labor standards, but this program endangers the future liberty of the people. I now tell you American business men it is no time to insist on profiteering as many have been doing. You should welcome price fixing because it means a logical standard of pay for labor. Let labor and yourselves find a common ground that is acceptable, if not satisfactory, to insure the greatest amount of production at the least cost in cash and labor. There should be no swag to divide between capital and labor."

Economic Superiority Will Win.

In an address today before the foreign trade session before the convention, James Farrell, chairman of the national trade council and president of the United States Steel corporation, asserted that the war would be a war of economic superiority and that on the side of the United States and the allies lies the preponderance of weight in this respect. Germany, the speaker said, must be already approaching exhaustion. Mr. Farrell added that it was imperative that American business men should wholeheartedly join in solving the problem of how the resources of the United States can be best employed in the carrying on of the war. In part Mr. Farrell said: "The United States is called upon to do its share of a tremendous task with a meagre merchant marine.

No Unified Control.

"Yet, although it was apparently the intention of congress to concentrate in the shipping board all the functions relating to the American merchant marine, there is, as yet, no unified control of tonnage. Vessels are impressed for the navy and held under navy control; vessels are impressed for the army. It was only after two years of such wasteage that the British government was moved to create a ministry of shipping with supreme powers over all tonnage. The

SOLDIER OF THE AMERICAN ARMY TO BE INTERNED

Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., Sept. 20.—Sergeant Alfred Bonhaupt, of the Sixth United States infantry, who served with General Pershing in Mexico, has been discharged from the army, it was learned today and interned at the German prison camp here as an enemy alien. Bonhaupt's dismissal from the army followed the interpreting of a letter which he wrote his sister in Germany, in which he expressed regret that the United States had entered the war against Germany and the hope that he would not have to fight against his native land.

His internment with other Germans here was ordered by the bureau of immigration.

PORTLAND PAPER TAKES NEW NAME ADOPTS ENGLISH

Portland, Ore., Sept. 20.—The Oregon Deutsche Zeitung changed its name today to the Portland American. Its editor, Max Lucke, who has been under investigation by the government and other German employees, have been dismissed, according to A. M. Kern, its publisher, and hereafter it will be printed wholly in English. Kern said the changes were made because he had been notified the paper would be suppressed if it attempted to continue publication in German.

HAIG LAUNCHES ANOTHER SMASH ON BELGIAN LINE

British Commander Starts New Offensive in Drive to Clean Out Germany's Air and U-Boat Nests.

IMPORTANT POSITIONS ARE CAPTURED

British Headquarters in France and Belgium, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Field Marshal Haig's offensive which was begun at dawn this morning on the Belgian battle front is progressing with marked success, especially in the crucial sectors.

A bitter fight is in progress in the neighborhood of Inverness copse, Muns wood and Glencorse wood. If the attacks maintain the positions to which they have advanced in this section they have accomplished one of the most remarkable and most important achievements in recent months. The German infantry is making a most determined resistance to retain this vital ground and the Tonton artillery is retaliating heavily against the British big guns.

The British barrage swept the country like a broom. The Germans knew the attack was coming, but were unaware of its exact locality. There was a light rain last night, but the weather cleared this morning and the visibility is improving.

Today's offensive will be known as the battle of the Menin road. Fair weather had improved the ground, but the mud was still deep and the whole territory covered with water-filled shell holes, tangled barbed wire and

SWEDISH ENVOY DENIES HE WAS TO GET MEDAL

Mexico City, Sept. 20.—Folk Cronholm, former attache of the Swedish legation, in a statement to the Associated Press today denied that German Minister von Eckhardt offered or promised him a decoration in a German order, or that he received any such decoration. Cronholm also denied that he had "furnished the German minister with information gathered amongst the enemies of his country in Mexico."

Previous to this statement Cronholm had maintained silence regarding the dispatch made public by Secretary Lansing in which Minister von Eckhardt recommended Cronholm for a decoration. The statement follows:

"I am not in a position to make any statement, being that this country is contrary to the diplomatic principles of my country, as I am only an executive organ of my government and still ignorant of the statement that the same might have issued on the subject. Once in possession of an authentic text of such a statement I may be able to add some complementary remarks."

"Referring to the decoration mentioned in this connection, I hereby declare that the German minister, Mr. Eckhardt, has not offered me any decoration, nor has he promised me such and neither have I received any."

Take an Unexpected Drop at Bluffton.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 20.—Soft coal prices dropped a dollar on the ton in Bluffton this morning. Dealers believe the new price is just about the retail mark the government will fix and any lower would mean dealers would lose considerable money, they say. One dealer said this morning it was not a question of price, but a question of getting the coal and it was his belief that the city will face a real famine before the winter progresses far. Under the new schedule slack coal is quoted at $3.50 a ton and lump from $5.00 to $7.00. These prices are for delivery and at the bin it is fifty cents cheaper on the ton. Hard coal prices remain the same.

MRS. SHANABARGER DEAD.

Well Known Woman of Noble County Dies at Kendallville.

Churubusco, Ind., Sept. 20.—Mrs. Mary Ann Shanabarger, of Green township, Noble county, passed away yesterday at her home here of paralysis, after an illness with hardening of the arteries. She was born in Wayne county, Ohio. Funeral services Saturday morning.

HURT BY AUTO.

Decatur, Ind., Sept. 20.—Little Anna Culechin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Culechin, tumbled from the running board of her father's automobile as he was stopping for her to get off and go on her way to school at the corner of Madison and Second streets. Anna was taken to the office of a physician immediately, suffering greatly from shock and bruises. However the physician found no broken bones, which was very fortunate, as the manner in which she fell, left her parents to think that such had been the case. The left arm and leg were badly bruised.

OFF TO FRANCE.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 20.—Another Kendallville young man has joined the colors and expects to be sailing for France soon. He is Joseph Summersgill, who has been a member of the Fort Wayne & Northwestern Interurban. He is one of the oldest employees of the road and has been regarded as a valuable man. He left Tuesday evening for Fort Thomas, Ky., where he will take his final examination prior to departing for Long Island, where he expects to sail for France with the engineering corps. His many friends wish him success.

ENTERTAIN CONSCRIPTS.

Hartford City, Ind., Sept. 20.—The thirty-nine local men who will leave here Friday noon were guests of honor Wednesday at the annual reunion of the Blackford County Veterans' association. The meeting of the veterans was one of the most impressive ever held. Many speeches were made bidding the boys Godspeed and advising them to be men, whatever happened while they were in the army. A big dinner was prepared for the occasion by the W. R. C.

NOT SERIOUSLY HURT.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 20.—Paul G. Weber, of Huntington, who was injured Monday evening at the officers' training camp at Fort Harrison, was reported today not to be seriously injured, but the exact extent of his injury can not be stated. Weber was struck by a pick in the hands of another student officer, when he stepped backward without warning. The post hospital announced Tuesday night that Weber was seriously injured, and made practically the same statement Wednesday.

HAS QUIT DRINKING.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 20.—Back home and vowing never to take another drink, Nate Steffen says he is again a happy man. He has succeeded in coaxing both of his children to come and live with him again, saying that he will never treat them again as he has in the past. In a statement to the Banner he says: "It is all my fault. It is nothing but a whole lot of troubles and I quit drinking for the rest of my life. I started for the west, being pretty well out. Then I took sick and am dretuned."

GENEVA TAX RATE.

Decatur, Ind., Sept. 20.—The Geneva rate was certified to the county auditor yesterday, completing the list for the county. The Geneva rate for next year will be $4.91, a close rival for Decatur rate has been now definitely fixed at $5.12 for next year, just one cent lower than this year's rate. The announcement made a few days ago that the rate would be $5.02 was wrong, the poor fund levy being omitted and an increase of one cent in the macadam fund being made.

WED AT HILLSDALE.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 20.—It became known yesterday that Harold Travis, son of John Travis, of Ossian, and Inio Ressler, daughter of Mrs. George Patcher, also of Ossian, went to Hillsdale last Saturday and were married. They are being congratulated today by their hosts of friends in Ossian and vicinity. There will be a shower given to the bride tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Patcher. Travis is among the drafted men and one of the ten extra men called to report Thursday to the conscription board.

GIVEN FAREWELL.

Van Wert, O., Sept. 20.—A farewell demonstration was given here yesterday morning in honor of the departing soldiers. A parade was held in which Company D of Van Wert participated, and 1,500 people took part in the exercises. Company D expects to leave in the near future for Birmingham, Ala.

RIGHT SMART LITTLE JOB IS AWAITING HIM

All He Has to Do is to Put Sweden in Right With United States.

(Staff Special.)

Washington, Sept. 20.—When he gets back here from his summer home, Wilhelm August Ferdinand Ekengren is going to be the busy little Swedish diplomat. In the first place, while he was enjoying a perfectly nice vacation the American government heartlessly revealed that the Swedish minister to Argentina had forgotten his neutrality. He had forwarded to Berlin for the German legation in Buenos Aires some cablegrams advocating German ruthlessness to Argentine ships and characterizing the head of Argentine's foreign department as "notorious." It is true Secretary of State Lansing has said our government has the friendliest feelings in the world for the Swedish people, but Mr. Ekengren is going to feel Lansing's pulse. He will want to know why that accent on the Swedish people, leaving things to be inferred as to our country's feelings about the Swedish government.

Also—and this is highly important—he will want to find out whether America, uniting with Great Britain and France, is going hereafter to refuse ambassadors from neutral countries the right to send from here cables in code. So far the state department has failed to reveal its policy.

Ekengren is an old hand in this country. He was vice consul in New York as far back as 1909 and then again in 1902. Before that he had served as consul in various French cities and after that had a tour of duty in the foreign office at home.

He came back here in 1906 as secretary of the Swedish legation and was advanced to counselor in 1910. Five years ago he was made minister from Sweden to the United States.

He is the kind of man concerning whom few anecdotes are told. While he belongs to the swell Washington clubs, he does not often appear there. He is more of a student than an outdoor man and has not the pine tree stature of his countrymen.

WHITLEY COUNTY BOYS ARE GIVEN FAREWELL

Forty-Seven Conscripts Leave Thursday Morning for Camp Taylor.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 20.—When the 47 Whitley county conscripts left Columbia City Thursday morning for Camp Taylor, Ky., they were placed in charge of two of their fellows, Firmer Born and Sidney Ort. The conscripts were addressed on the court house steps by Hon. David V. Whitehead, before train time, and presented each with a box of toilet articles donated by the Commercial club.

Columbia City Brief Notes. Jesse Demoney, formerly engaged in the undertaking business as a junior member of the firm of Whitley and Demoney, and lately engaged in the piano business in the Buegert jewelry store, has launched into the business for himself, occupying his present quarters.

Frank Hedges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hedges, and Miss Hilda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Cooper, of Thernbeck township, were wedded at Thernbeck morning at 2 o'clock at the parsonage of Rev. H. G. Herentzen, Church of God minister, and following their wedding trip to western cities, will reside for the time being on the farm of the groom's parents.

Leonard VanVoorst and wife are parents of a baby daughter.

Aden Schannep, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Schannep, of near South Whitley, thought to have run away from home to avoid examination for the draft in the first call, and certified for service as an army deserter, enlisted several weeks ago at San Antonio, Texas, in the aviation school, on a date before the time set for his examination here before the draft board. No word had been received from Schannep by his parents until this week. Schannep, in his letter, says he expects soon to be sent to France. He is taking two lessons a week in aviation.

Dennis Calvin and Will Hindman, who farm Mr. Calvin's seventeen acre onion patch west of town, have more than 7,000 bushels now in crates, and their total harvest will exceed 10,000 bushels.

Elmer Pence, writing his mother, Mrs. J. W. Pence, from Sunningdale, England, where he is recovering from injuries received when a German shell struck his Canadian ambulance, while doing service in the Canadian army, along the western front in Europe, says he is still unable to walk, but gradually recovering. He is eighteen miles from London, and feels safe from air raids. He writes he saw one fellow, a friend, who received thirteen perforations in the bowels, and lay eighteen hours before being picked up by stretcher bearers. The king and queen went through the hospital camp a few days before Mr. Pence wrote his letter.

Harry Tannehill has purchased a lot from Will Rittenhouse, on North Washington street, and will erect a home there soon for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Tannehill.

Mrs. John Schmidt and husband attended the funeral Wednesday of the former's brother, Peter Hiner, of Allen county, who died a few days ago from a stroke of paralysis.

A plate glass in the Whitney & Stickler undertaking establishment was broken Tuesday evening when Mrs. L. J. Lauer, while attempting to drive from the Coleman & Lauer garage, failed to make the proper turn and landed her machine against the Whitney & Stickler front.

Several hundred people attended the sale held Tuesday afternoon on the Charles Goss farm, northwest of the city, the total amount realized being $9,009.58. One boar, sired by Giant Buster, champion boar of Indiana in 1915, sold for $122.50.

Phil Farren has sold his interest in the Farren & Yontz dry cleaning establishment to August Kelly, another tailor of this city, and the new firm of Yontz & Kelly will operate in the stand of the latter.

A. M. Johnston has sold his 100 acre farm in Ohio county, Kentucky, to James C. Adair, of Fort Wayne, the consideration being $8,000. Mr. Johnston taking a residence and store building in Lancaster, Ind., as part payment.

The Moose band will give a special concert Thursday evening, the concert season having been closed some time ago.

AT THE PALACE

LINCOLN OF THE U. S. A.

Lincoln, the immortal, dramatized in one of the intensely human scenes that were so vital a portion of his life in the dark days just before his murder, is the keynote of the patriotic dramatic sketch, "Lincoln of the U. S. A." to be presented for the remainder of the week at the New Palace by Ralph Thomas Ketterling. It is a pulse quickening story of a young girl's appeal to the war president for the life of her son.

The Empire Comedy Four with Joe Jenny in songs and comedy that have made them famous wherever vaudeville is known; Marie Russell, the Kentucky Belle, in songs and stories; Rosalie Ascher, a little bundle of joy in song, dance and talk, and the farceurs, The Strength Brothers, in their absurd equilibrium stunts, are others on this bill.

Tameo Kajiama, the marvelous Jap who enjoys the distinction of being the only act ever held over at the New Palace beyond his original engagement, is to remain until Saturday night in response to popular demand. Kajiama is the mental giant, whose ability to co-ordinate and organize his mental functions to control simultaneously a half dozen motor impulses. O'Diva, the exquisite mermaid from Samoa with her Pacific ocean sea lions, also is to remain at the New Palace the remainder of the week. On Friday night she will hold a diving contest for women and girls on the conclusion of her regular act and on Saturday afternoon the kiddies are to enjoy an opportunity to go upon the stage and meet the sea lions in play.

AT THE MAJESTIC

The Girl Who Plays Pollyanna. Little girls who cannot keep still are the perfectly normal ones. At least such is the belief of Helen Hayes, who will appear as the Glad-girl in "Pollyanna," at the Majestic tonight only.

A serene, well poised young woman of seventeen, Miss Hayes, as twelve-year-old Pollyanna, becomes a simple, lovable, very human child who just has to dance on tip-toes. She cannot keep still; the way she wriggles and squirms and twists about when compelled to sit down puts elderly nerves quite on edge.

But by contrast she exhibits delightful poise and repose when she gets to the later phase of Pollyanna, as a "young lady" of seventeen, with the dainty dresses and manner of refined womanhood.

Miss Hayes has studied children the world over to grasp childish peculiarities and learn insight into a growing child's very heart and soul. She is a tiny wisp of loveliness, with eloquent eyes. Often in shopping she has to buy twelve-year-old sizes for herself.

For one so young Miss Hayes has had a great deal of stage experience. Her home is in Washington, D. C., and it was in 1910, when she was 10, that Lou Fields saw her in an amateur performance at the Belasco theater in that city. He was so impressed by her acting that he sought her mother, and engaged the talented little miss for one of his big attractions. She remained with Mr. Field for three seasons, appearing at the Herald Square theater and at the Broadway theater, New York, and made a reputation that has become nation-wide as a most remarkable child actress.

Then she joined the "Prince Chap" company, playing one of the kiddies in the first act. The season that John Drew appeared in "The Prodigal Husband," he secured little Miss Hayes to play the child, and although the part was a difficult one, she made one of the hits in a cast of notable players. Klav and Bringer and George C. Tyler have the clever young lady under a long time contract.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1917.

THE CITY MARKET QUESTION.

There is this about the Fort Wayne city market that, no matter what arrogances it may assume and what disdain it may exhibit, there is nothing compulsive about going there to trade—nor advantage, either, so far as that is any consideration.

If there has ceased to be conveniences, accommodation and material advantage in patronage of the city market, let the people go to—not the place some of the vendors by their conduct and bearing if not actually in words, but to their grocers. There they may find ready sympathy and perhaps substantial appreciation. In any event and under all circumstances it is the privilege of the harried consumer to buy where he likes. He may patronize the market if he choose and the difficult way of it suit him, or he needn't.

We are merely indulging a fancy and not putting forth a suggestion when we say that if it should come about that the ultimate consumer in this city should with anything like one accord superciliously snub the market the result might be surprising and even can be imagined as going to salutary length. That, however, is wholly the business of the ultimate consumer, who may do, as we already have said, quite what he likes about it. He may buy his green things and other provender there or he needn't. Choice is up to him for decision.

But the city and the city market together in the relation sustained mutually between them make up another story. And the story opens an interesting vista of speculation. Does it pay the city to maintain the market if it doesn't advantage the people to have the market maintained? Now there's a question that's not academic—an issue that isn't political.

Meanwhile, Mayor Hosey says that if there cannot be a square deal in the city market for the Fort Wayne public—whose property the market is—close it up, abolish it and so on. That is logical; also obviously, in the extreme necessity, the thing to do, since it costs the city money to maintain the market. We doubt, however, that anything so formal and drastic may be required. We the more incline to believe that the public of this city can deal wholesomely and effectually with the rapacities of the market. It is wholly up to them to endure or rebel. It is clear enough, we believe, to get into almost any receptive intelligence that a market without marketers is likely to become a great futility—a vast disappointment and bitterness—to those who go there to huckster.

Yet the mayor's suggestion points a way to deal with the abuse of an institution. There is nothing to compel the city to maintain a market whose benefits are not divided with the party of the first part.

The Junior Red Cross society that it is proposed to organize among the millions of boys and girls in the schools of the country is an admirable movement. President Wilson has given it a hearty endorsement. He has gone even farther than that and issued an executive proclamation to the boys and girls of America calling them to the colors. This, we believe, is the first time in the nation's history that the youth of America has been honored by distinct and special attention in a presidential proclamation. Their response to it should be hearty and general; their devotion to the cause to which they are summoned zealous and complete.

It is patent that at this time the organization of boys and girls into Junior Red Cross societies throughout the land contemplates aid that may be given the nation and government in their time of great need. But the good of it lies much deeper and will go much farther. It will establish a broad and continuing opportunity for the boys and girls who constitute Young America to become imbued with that spirit of patriotism which can express itself only worthy deeds. It is one thing to hurrah for the flag and it is another thing to serve the flag. It is one thing to expend an abstract pity upon suffering and it is another thing to relieve suffering. The Junior Red Cross will reveal to countless thousands of boys and girls not only the meaning but the duty of service and the ineffable joy of consecration and sacrifice of self to larger and better purposes of life.

While the war continues the work of the Junior necessarily will be greatly of service to the nation. After the war the good work may be pursued in channels that always are open to any who are willing to give time and effort to relieve the never ceasing distresses of humanity. The war will leave a vast and appealing field for the labor of the Red Cross and all kindred agencies. The boys and girls of the Junior Red Cross will in a short time become the men and women of the parent society and will take into that great humane organization the knowledge and training and sympathy that will come to them in the Junior society.

The war is going to inflict many poignant distresses upon the people of America. Sore bereavement will be the portion of many. Poverty and want, sickness and neglect will be the hard visitants to many others. Those who in any way suffer the greater and sharper pains of the conflict that now has involved this country in its perils and will wrench so many people with its agonies ought to have prompt help and support in whatever ways and by whatever means in the readiest way will minister to their needs and carry the tenderness and mercy of human kindness into their sorrowed lives. The Junior Red Cross will after awhile find countless doors through which want, grief and desolation have preceded them and where their sympathy and aid will find welcome and appreciation that only the heart bowed down can bestow.

THE ROAD TO DAMASCUS.

We do not know at just what place of the road to Damascus Chicago's Big Bill is stricken with the light and it doesn't greatly matter. It is of consequence mainly that the incandescence of the nation's spirit has come upon and gone into him.

Wilhelm der Grosse takes his pen in hand to write and having writ proclaims:

It is the duty of all patriotic citizens to stand by our country in times of controversy with any other nation, and to show in an unmistakable way that the American people stand behind the army and the navy which represent the majesty of our government.

The which being true and now evident to Big Bill, he counsels and enjoins to patriotic effect this wise:

Therefore I, William Hale Thompson, mayor of Chicago, call upon our citizens to show to our soldiers and sailors who are leaving for the front that our hearts, our hopes, our prayers go with them and will abide with them on the fields and on the sea, where their deeds shall shed further luster on the flag of freedom; and in the name of our two and a half million people, united in a common love for the blessings of our free government, and with assurance of our fondest hopes for the success of our arms in any conflict in which they may engage, I bid our soldiers and sailors God speed.

That was a long time coming and has come, we doubt not, through great anguish of mind and travail of spirit. And it is sufficient, not only as a proper send-off for Chicago's intrepid young soldiers and sailors, but as the convincing evidence that Mayor Thompson has seen the breaking of a great light and beheld his duty and the way of it to repatriate himself. The second city of the nation is restored to the union and the burgomeister of the "sixth German city of the world" has at length by the undoubted grace of God and the proddings of some tens of millions of Americans recovered the dignities and the spirit of his recreant citizenship. It will be some time before he shall cease to be an unloved and unlovely Big Bill, but his start is seemingly fair, for his words read right nice.

Three hundred thousand more young Americans have gone into the great camps to have soldiers made of themselves. The procedure toward actual war is a bit tedious and not what can be called a great celerity, but we're getting on with the job, though we started with nothing. By next spring your Uncle Samuel will have armies of a million and a half of trained and equipped men and a million and a half of the strongest and freshest young soldiers in the world will set up a mighty good argument for the kind of peace these soldiers have been brought together to fight for. And getting these vast levies of men is not all nor the most that this country is accomplishing. As the Milwaukee Germania Herold says in an editorial reprinted elsewhere on this page, it will be a great national service to America to get to the people of Germany an understanding of the might with which this country is coming into the war. The German people in the mass may not hold complete correspondence of opinion with the Prussian war caste and the Junkers as to the German aims of the war.

Russia hasn't had her Kerensky long, but she is having him a deal of a lot.

(Sherwood Anderson seems to have been guilty of the above. Perhaps Sherwood was drunk. Anyhow our readers may wish to meditate upon the motto and meaning of modern (Cass street, Chicago, only) poetry. Dear Harriet, pass the tea.)

We Seem to Have Heard This One.

An alien who wished to become an American citizen was given a blank to fill out. It began: "Name? Born? Business?" After considerable effort the applicant filled out the blank spaces, and handed his effort to the official, who read the following: "Name? Jacob Pinsky. Born? Yes, sure, Business? Lkkl.

Zero in Applause.

Mrs. Orator—Did the people give you applause? Mr. Orator—Applause? Say, they made about as much noise as a mosquito stamping on a feather.

M. M. This reminds us, naturally, of the story that went like this: Mrs. Orator—Did the people give you a hand? Mr. Orator—Now! They gave me a fist.

SHOWING HIS TEETH

A German-American Paper's View

(Milwaukee Germania Herold.)

Every citizen of German birth has rendered the oath of allegiance to the country of his adoption. His very pride of ancestry should remind him of the old saying: "To be German is to be faithful." In this case faithful to this country.

No man can serve two masters.

Every citizen can serve only his own country. And the outbreak of the war with Germany can alter nothing in this respect, as far as the citizen of German descent is concerned. He is in duty bound, by his oath of allegiance, to remain at his post, unhesitatingly and unflinchingly, even unto death.

How very grave! But every dark cloud, if there is such a cloud, has a silver lining.

Cannot the man of German blood render a service even to the country which is still dear to his heart by the very fulfillment of his duty as an American citizen?

America alone can and will be the decisive factor.

Only in Germany a general conviction that America can and will decide the issue does not seem to prevail. They do not know in Germany the inexhaustible resources of America; they do not know in Germany the indomitable will of our country to conquer. They perceive merely that so far we progressed slowly, but they forget the fact that the United States was utterly unprepared. Yet sufficient support can and will be given the entente powers for a preliminary check—to hold out till America's armies of millions reach Europe's soil and gain the victory.

To bring this to the consciousness of the German people the German-American may lend his aid.

Furthermore, he may impress upon the mind of the German people that they may have an honorable peace as soon as they will themselves take hold of matters in the German empire.

America alone stands firm, unbroken, fresh with inexhaustible resources. It does not fight to gain reimbursement of its war expenditures. This must be made clear to the big heads of the pan-Germans and to the Prussian Junkers. They must learn to relinquish all thoughts and dreams of world dominion.

If the German people will it, the useless shedding of blood will cease. Then America will dictate the terms of peace, which the president of the United States already has proclaimed in the following words:

"Punitive damages, the dismemberment of empires, the establishment of selfish and exclusive economic leagues, we deem inexpedient and in the end worse than futile, no proper basis for a peace of any kind, least of all for an enduring peace. That must be based upon justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind."

OF TWENTY BILLIONS BUT HALF IS REALLY TO GO INTO THE WAR

BY BASIL M. MANLY.

Appropriations by congress the present year will total more than twenty billion dollars. This stupendous sum is more than a third of the aggregate income of all the people of the United States.

Is all this wealth to be consumed in the fire and smoke of battle, as many pro-German propagandists are trying to make the people believe?

Are we simply throwing more than a third of what the American people will produce this year into the lap of the war god with no hope of return?

Or is a large part of these thousands of millions simply an investment, from which we shall reap commensurate returns?

Suppose we analyze for ourselves. Look down the column for the largest single item—"Loans to Allies"—$7,000,000,000. Here are seven billions right at the start for which the responsibility of interest and capital payments rests not on us but on our allies.

And here's another big item—$1,200,000,000 in round figures for the shipping board. Where is this money going? Why, into ships—the best investment in the world for years after the war. Some of these ships are sure to be sent to the bottom, but as a whole they are not only going to pay for themselves, but managed with judgment and efficiency, will pay into the federal treasury an amount equal to their initial cost every year they are operated, even if ocean freight rates drop to one-third their present level.

Then there is $100,000,000 for the food administration. This will be used to purchase foodstuffs for resale. The federal government will therefore always have in the form of money a food the full value of every dollar. It is an investment and not an expense.

Similarly with $50,000,000 appropriated for war risk insurance, used simply as a capital fund. Under present rates and losses this capital will return to the treasury a considerable profit.

Then there are items of $25,000,000 for the Danish West Indies, $20,000,000 for a nitrate plant which can produce fertilizer in times of peace, and $3,000,000 for the Alaska railway, all simply investments, to say nothing of various amounts estimated roughly at $100,000,000 expended in enlarging the government's arsenals and other plants—in no sense current expenditures, but really additions to the nation's capital.

Now we come to another kind of item—$650,000,000 for aviation. Have you ever thought what the situation would have been if the war had ended with America's aviation as it was until this appropriation was made? Let me tell you.

When peace returns the air is going to be the great new highway of commerce for passengers, letters and light packages. During the war the aviation progress has been at least as great as during ten years of peace and it has all been made by European countries with Uncle Sam asleep at the switch, except for a few private concerns.

If we had not had a big aviation program forced on us by war, we would have come into this great new field of commerce at least ten years behind France, England, Italy and Germany.

With the big sums the United States is now investing in airplane development, we are going to enter the after-war airplane competition on something like equal terms. So this airplane appropriation ought to be counted as an investment.

Then there are about a billion and a half dollars for the ordinary government departments, which must be supported in peace or war.

Deducting these various items, we find while we must raise about twenty billion dollars during the present year at least half ought to be counted as an investment.

Ten billion as actual war expenditures is an enormous sum; but if we consider that it is only about a fifth of our national income, it becomes apparent that we are not going broke, and that the burden is not nearly as heavy as our pro-German friends would have us believe.

VALUE OF PRESS FREEDOM.

(Cincinnati, O., Times-Star.)

The discovery of defective cartridges in the supplies furnished to General Pershing is one more incident that demonstrates the danger of establishing a bureaucratic censorship of the press. Publicity is the greatest deterrent to official delinquency. If this administration had been given the control over the press which it asked for at the beginning of our part in the war, all such instances as this would be kept from the public. Secrecy of that sort would be a constant temptation to carelessness.

The knowledge that official delinquency will be known serves to keep responsible officials on the alert. This is true regardless of the political complexion of the administration that happens to be in power. The thing that is chiefly discreditable to the present administration is that it attempted to force upon the country a press censorship drastic in the extreme. Such an effort was an assumption that the press is disloyal or that the administration is afraid of the light. All developments have demonstrated that the press is loyal and that there were no grounds for the administration's fear of publicity.

TRADE WITH NEUTRALS.

The trouble is not that American goods get into Germany after being imported to the markets of those bordering countries, but that they enable those countries to send their own products to that enemy country, which they could not otherwise do. They do not send the same kind of products; but, if we supply food and materials to them which they might provide for themselves, they are enabled to release labor from the production of these and devote it to producing munitions and other things to sell to Germany which they could not otherwise do. It is easy to see how this may work, and actually has worked, to the aid of the enemy and the profit of these neutrals.

While this kind of trading was to our advantage it was defended; now that it is to our disadvantage it is discontinued and we are determined to stop it, being no longer neutral ourselves. Self-interest is quite as powerful with nations as with individuals in determining conduct. In a situation like the present it is a pretty serious matter.

Last night about 8:30 o'clock as Will Hawk and W. J. Newingham were driving north on Fairfield avenue they collided with a bicyclist who was riding very rapidly. The west bound Pittsburgh fast train No. 9 met with a serious accident at 10:30 o'clock last night. The train, which is due here at 8 o'clock in the evening, came into the Fort Wayne station one hour and twenty minutes late. Engine 114, with Engineer William Turner at the throttle, and Reuben O. Chase as fireman, took the train at this point and it is supposed they were endeavoring to make up a portion of the lost time. At any rate the train fairly flew over the rails until Hobart was reached, where the engine left the track at a switch and bumped along on the ties a considerable distance when it completely reversed its position, turning with the pilot toward the coaches. Engineer Turner was painfully hurt and fireman Chase, who jumped, was knocked senseless, and has remained in an unconscious condition since. He is now at the St. Joseph hospital. He is reported in a serious condition.

WILL LOOK AFTER THE SANITARY CONDITIONS

Fifty Public Health Nurses Assigned to Army Cantonnments.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—Fifty public health nurses have been assigned to duty by the American Red Cross to the zones around the national army cantonnments, national guard camps and naval bases. The nurses will work under the Red Cross sanitary directors in co-operation with the local, state and federal health authorities.

Nurses have already taken up their work in civil districts around the cantonnments at Hattiesburg, Miss.; Ft. Riley, Kansas; Des Moines, Iowa; Louisville, Kentucky; Little Rock, Arkansas; Ayer, Massachusetts; Chillicothe, Ohio; Atlanta, Georgia; Newport News and Petersburg, Virginia.

As visiting nurses in the rural territory and cities adjoining the camps, the Red Cross nurses assigned to public health work will endeavor to prevent the spread of tuberculosis, malaria and other diseases, and to strengthen the local infant welfare programs.

Nurses have been chosen for this service by Miss Jane A. Delano, chairman of the National Committee on Red Cross Nursing, with special reference to the public health needs of the nation as a whole. If the public health nursing service of the state in which the cantonnement is situated is strong in numbers the Red Cross has called upon nurses from that state. Otherwise, nurses have been chosen from the states from which the troops in training have been drawn. A permanent Red Cross public health service will undoubtedly be the outcome of the work now being undertaken in army districts.

Besides the special work in camp zones, Red Cross nurses in the town and country nursing service are at work throughout the country, largely in rural and mining communities. Ninety-four women are so engaged in nursing and teaching the care and feeding of infants, first aid and home dietetics, and assisting in the fight against tuberculosis. It has been estimated that 48 per cent of the union troops in the civil war came from the country districts. While the percentage will not be so large in this war, the Red Cross has undertaken to see that their families and homes are kept well and safe against the day of the country soldier's return.

Uncle Harry Tells About The Silent American Army

A cold September rain beat against the window panes as the Current Events class, including Jim and Joe's mother, grew up their chairs before a cozy open fire.

"I would like to tell you this evening," began Uncle Harry, "about our great new American army."

"Do you mean the great conscript army that is being brought together, Uncle Harry?" asked Joe.

"Guess, again, Joe," replied Uncle Harry.

The little audience was plainly puzzled. Suddenly the mother of the boys spoke up.

"You mean our army, Harry," she said proudly, "don't you?"

"That's fine," replied Uncle Harry, "and I know that thousands of other boys and girls will do likewise. For our soldiers and sailor boys must be made to feel that the folks at home are thinking of them. And they must be taken good care of before they leave for France. Women are doing a great part of the splendid work of the commission on training camp activities, created by the war department. They are providing our soldiers, sailors and marines with wholesome amusement and recreation in club rooms, social halls, parish houses and even in their own homes. The Y. M. C. A.'s throughout the country are also doing splendid work in this respect."

"Mother says that saving and preserv-

"Yes, Alice," he replied. "I mean the vast army of American women who are proving themselves marvelously capable (both in their homes and in industry), of helping to win the war."

"Tell us all about them, Uncle Harry," exclaimed Helen.

"It's such a big subject, Helen, that I scarcely know where to begin," he replied. "In the first place it is plain that if America is to be a powerful factor in the war, we must follow the example of the European nations and not only send a well equipped and trained army into the field, but also organize our industries and the production of food in such a way that all of our resources will be brought to bear in the war."

"Much of this work can naturally be done best by our women," continued Uncle Harry. "For example, saving and preserving food in the home and what may seem but trivial, but which is none the less important, providing amusement and recreation for the soldiers and sailors in camp. And last, but by no means least, helping in Red Cross work. As for activities outside of the home, thousands of young women are doing all kinds of hard work, formerly done entirely by men, thus releasing many men for active service with the fighting forces of the country."

"I heard yesterday," said Jim and Joe's mother, "that since America entered the war the membership of the Red Cross has increased from several hundred thousand to more than two million."

"Yes," replied Uncle Harry, "the Red Cross is an extremely important factor in war relief, and is doing a great and noble work. Hundreds of thousands of women are engaged in preparing surgical dressings, and fitting themselves in many ways to relieve, as far as possible, the terrible suffering caused by war. Hundreds more have already gone to the battlefields in Europe with hospital units and are acting as nurses, orderlies and even motor ambulance drivers."

"Jimmy and I are going to send a lot of magazines to our soldiers in France, Uncle Harry," said Joe.

ing food is a very important part in the war, too," said Helen.

"It is," replied Uncle Harry. "Mr. Hoover, appointed by President Wilson to take charge of saving our food supply, has asked that every American woman help to save the food supply. As a result women are not only being more economical with food in their homes, but are canning and drying the perishable summer foods for use in the winter. Enough food must be produced and conserved not only to feed the American people and our armies abroad but to also supply large quantities to our allies. And the saving of our food supply depends largely upon the women of America."

"In order that there may be as little wasted effort and overlapping as possible," continued Uncle Harry, "the war activities of our women are being directed by the women's committee of the council of national defense at Washington. Dr. Anna Shaw is the chairman of this committee."

"I saw some pictures in the paper the other day of women working along a railroad with shovels just like the men do," said Jimmy.

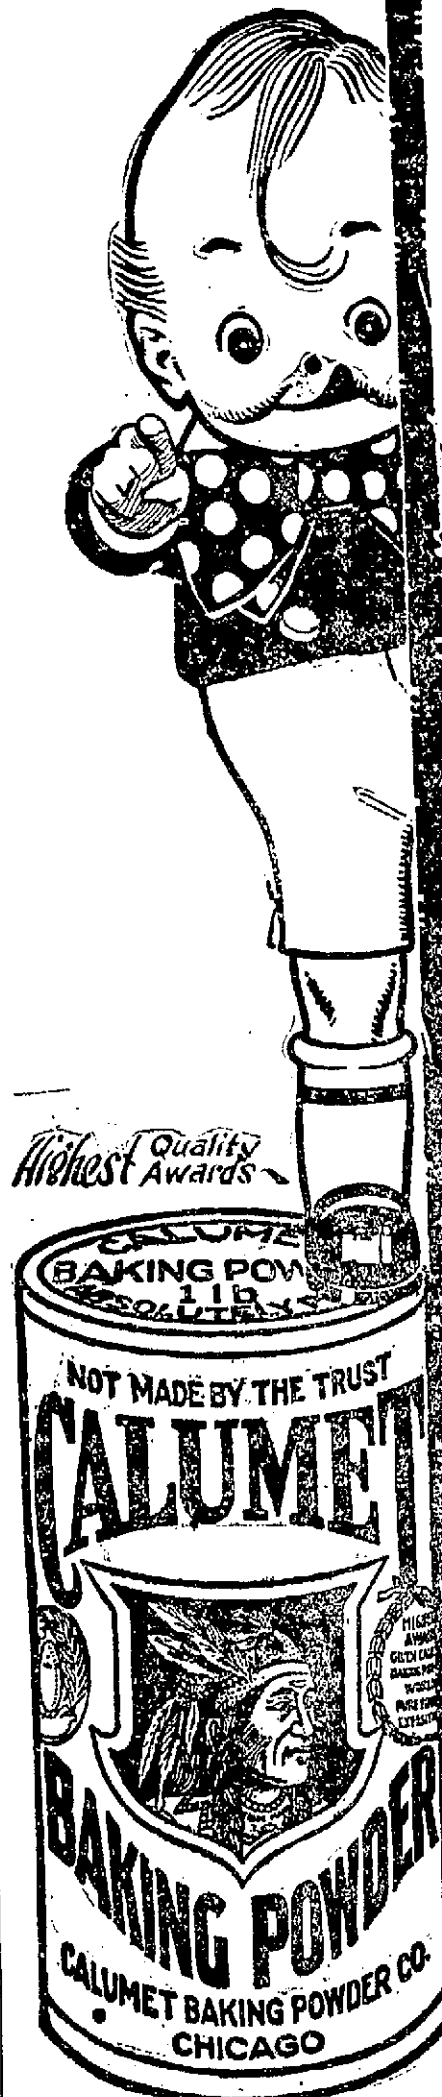

"Yes," replied Uncle Harry, "I understand that one of our railroads has more than 2,000 young women in its employ in every variety of work that they are physically capable of doing. Our girls are also working on farms, operating elevators, running motor trucks, working in munition factories and doing all kinds of 'rough and ready' work. In Russia the women have even formed a regiment known as the battalion of death, and have displayed the utmost bravery on the battlefield."

At this point a very grave look came over the face of the boys' mother as she said:

"This war, terrible as it is, has done some wonderful things for women everywhere. It has given them an opportunity to prove beyond all doubt their ability to play a part in great undertakings just as important and decisive as the men."

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Halls' Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

KNOTTY MILITARY QUESTION.

Paris, Sept. 21.—The military authorities have had to settle a knotty question. In the case of a military polygamist being killed, how should the widow's pension be allotted? The question has arisen through France having brought many native soldiers from Africa who belong to tribes where polygamy is the recognized practice. Every polygamist widow will have a share in the pension, the total of which will be the same as that granted to the widow of a monogamous soldier.

HAD BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING.

MR. FRED H. BUCHOLZ.

MRS. FRED H. BUCHOLZ.

This week is a busy one for Miss Mildred Bowser, for of her numerous friends and relatives several are showing her special favor in these few days preceding her wedding. Today Miss Bowser's sister, Mrs. Leland F. Johnson, gave a luncheon at 1 o'clock for which the appointments were pink with aster as the chief decoration and a pink rose corsage for Miss Bowser. The ladies who were present to enjoy this charming attention to the coming bride were her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Edward O'Rourke, and daughters, Miss Helen O'Rourke and Mrs. Charles Hughes, several relatives of Miss Bowser, including her mother, Mrs. S. F. Bowser, Mrs. A. Z. Polhaus, Mrs. Daniel Milligan, Mrs. Harry Bowser, Mrs. Albert Bowser, Mrs. Frank McKay, Mrs. S. B. Reichtel, Mrs. I. L. Walker, Mrs. Jules Simon and two out of town guests, Miss Howland, of Omaha, and Miss Warnings, of Petersburg, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Small, of South Clinton street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Faith V. Small, to Mr. Andrew Hake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hake, of Hoagland. The wedding will take place in St. Patrick's church on October 16, with Rev. Father Delaney officiating.

Mrs. Herman Mackwitz invited a few neighboring friends to bring their sharp scissors and snip for the comfort bags for the Red Cross at her home in Webster street this afternoon. The "comforts" are to be used on stretchers in case of injuries. That statement is certainly an appealing one.

Mr. and Mrs. James Byall Harper have issued cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Helen Rowan, to Mr. Chauncey Ruthven McAnlis, which took place on Monday, September the seventeenth. Mr. and Mrs. McAnlis will be at home after the first of November in Ithaca, N. Y.

Miss Agnes Zehender, of 930 Lake avenue, was hostess for a party of charming appointment Wednesday evening. The decorations included many ferns and beautiful garden flowers tastefully arranged about the rooms. Music and progressive bunco were the features of the evening. Red and white was used in the table decorations, the centerpiece being a large wicker basket filled with red dahlias. Medieval Idea, But Good For Any Day

This striking silhouette from Paris shows the trend of the very latest design for dresses of every material. In one way or another, the gown is plaited, draped or hung to make the waist line, hip line and bust line all of the same circumference. The idea is medieval—but quite becoming the lines of the female figure in any country. The exquisite creation which was photographed in Paris especially for The Sentinel, has a remarkable elongated collar of Paisley voile. And the hat is trimmed to match, just as a good hat should be.

Cake Day Draws Banner Crowd at Sentinel Cooking School

FRIDAY'S PROGRAM.

Music at 2:45—Packard Motor Driven Player—Courtesy Packard and Music Company.
Demonstration of Salads of All Kinds—Vegetables and Fruits.
Demonstration Cake Baking and Decorating.

As each day of The Sentinel Cooking School week goes by interest in Mrs. McKoin's lectures and demonstrations grows more intense. The banner attendance of the week was this afternoon when the big Elks' auditorium was filled to seating capacity. It was obvious that Mrs. McKoin's cakes, cake icing and her clever manipulation of the icing tubes was the big attraction. Mrs. McKoin has won a host of friends among the Fort Wayne ladies with her freeness and readiness to answer any questions asked and retains no information regarding the success of her recipes.

"Most professional lecturers," said one member of the Wednesday audience, "refrain from telling all the little peculiarities and details of their wonderful recipes." Mrs. McKoin, on the other hand, manifests a desire to have every lady in the audience learn everything she has to tell. In this respect, Mrs. McKoin's lecture series are doubly valuable. This, together with her unassuming disposition, has won her scores of friends.

Mrs. McKoin's cake demonstrations covered the two varieties of cakes—the butter cake and the sponge cake where no butter is used. The white cakes were light and fluffy as feathers which substantiated Mrs. McKoin's claims as to the native wheat flour which she used. Mrs. McKoin stated she preferred the native soft wheat flour and selected the New Veno brand.

The Use of Baking Powder. In the course of her broad demonstration on Tuesday, Mrs. McKoin was asked by a member of the audience how to use Calumet Baking powder, and her answer caused murmurs of surprise and pleasure among the ladies in the audience.

"I have used all kinds of baking powders," answered Mrs. McKoin, "and until I learned how to use Calumet, I had difficulty. Use one level teaspoonful to a cup of flour. In the case of other baking powders, you use one heaping teaspoonful." Mrs. McKoin then told in detail her experience with baking powders, her inspection of the Calumet Baking powder plant and as the result, her partiality to this baking powder. "It is the purest baking powder on the market today," said Mrs. McKoin, "and if you make this simple test you will agree. Boil a teaspoonful of Calumet Baking powder in a cup of water and boil until all the water is evaporated. No residue remains, which shows there is no danger in the use of this baking powder. Calumet Baking powder escapes from the food in the form of a gas," said Mrs. McKoin, "and thus serves its purpose. And now, ladies, if you make this boiling test with some of the higher-priced baking powders, a hard rocky, dangerous substance remains." Mrs. McKoin's talk on baking powder seemed to be much appreciated, as many ladies at the close of the lecture came forward to discuss the baking powder problem, and expressed delight that so reasonably priced a baking powder as Calumet can be recommended as the purest and most effective. The Calumet Baking Powder company, appreciating the interest Mrs. McKoin has shown in their product, arranged for her to use Calumet in Fort Wayne, and together with the merchants of Fort Wayne, are recognized as one of the contributors who assisted The Sentinel in making the free cooking school possible. The McDougall Kitchen Cabinet company of Frankfort, Ind., in a like spirit, assisted in making The Sentinel Cooking School possible. Mrs. McKoin in her past lecture work used many different kitchen cabinets, and her preference and partiality for the McDougall cabinet prompted the manufacturers to arrange that Mrs. McKoin use a McDougall wherever she goes. When asked why she preferred the McDougall cabinet, she said: "Please don't misunderstand me, to be condemning other kinds of kitchen cabinets. Any kitchen cabinet is better than none at all. But a cabinet is the purchase of a lifetime, and while buying, make a study of all kinds and buy what you think is the best. I have used so many different kinds in my many different schools and the autograph of the McDougall, together with its flour bin, and sugar bowl, makes it more convenient and I always was pleased when I had a McDougall in my cooking school. The McDougall always seemed to me to be the leader in introducing new ideas, and understood more thoroughly what the needs of a kitchen cabinet should be." Mrs. McKoin in various parts of her lessons takes up the matter of different brands of food-stuffs. "I would refuse to use any food product or appliance I did not approve of," said Mrs. McKoin in talking about various brands, "and while this cooking school is being made possible by advertisers, there have been times when I have had to turn down a flour, or a butter or a milk—because they did not come up to a standard where I could recommend them. I am very much pleased with butter, milk, and ice cream in Fort Wayne," said Mrs. McKoin on Thursday afternoon.

Use More Milk Products.

"I believe the more milk and milk products we use during this present food crisis the better we are off," said Mrs. McKoin.

The noted cook. "Use milk in every possible form. The more milk you use the less meat, and when you use milk you are not destroying animal life. Conserve the animals."

Mrs. McKoin is using the Delft Brand creamery butter, the Bash Santary Milk company's milk and cream, and Furnas ice cream. Fully ten gallons of the Furnas ice cream was served to the audience today and the treat was a rare one. Mrs. McKoin's famous cakes were cut and served with the ice cream.

Mrs. McKoin had various sauces to serve with the cream, using crushed He-Mi-La candies for the flavoring. The ice cream was a treat that was worth the whole afternoon's visit to the school. As the ice cream was being served Mrs. McKoin gave a talk on the Furnas ice cream that was almost technical. "I believe in brands, and in patronizing trade marks. For example, I have analyzed this Furnas ice cream and know that it comes up to a certain standard. The sugar, the starch and the butterfat in Furnas ice cream makes it a valuable food. Now if I were living in Fort Wayne," said Mrs. McKoin, "I'd naturally use Furnas ice cream. It comes up to a high standard in food value and I'd be assured of this value so long as I purchased this particular brand." Mrs. McKoin told the audience of the standard set in Indiana and the Furnas Ice Cream company comes in the category of manufacturers who meet the standard requirements which call for eight per cent butterfat.

On Friday Mrs. McKoin will demonstrate her variety of vegetable and fruit salads and Saturday will be sandwich day.

RUSSIA WILL REMAIN A DEMOCRACY AND THOSE WHO OPPOSE IT WILL GO THE WAY OF KORNILOFF

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
And now, behold, the Korniloff Sand Dance has come and gone and taken its place with the other faked-up spectacles that we have been told were about to overturn the Russian democracy and bring back absolutism.
Korniloff—it is only a week since this foolish vain man was pictured to us by the reactionary correspondents as marching upon Petrograd at the head of a mighty host to oust the horrible Russians what's what. And now he, too, lies in prison with a pretty fair chance of being shot and his "innumerable host" which consisted of himself and about 16 other fatalities is no more.
But the Russian democracy goes its way undisturbed and upon the road mapped out for it.

This is a fair sample of the hectic dream stuff that comes daily out of Petrograd to cheer the drooping hearts of cave dwellers and dismay the friends of Russia, that happen to be uninformed.
Anybody that knows Russia knew from the beginning that this chattering Korniloff person never had a chance for anything except the firing squad. You could no more establish a military dictatorship in Russia than you could sail an ice yacht in perdition. At the least prospect of any such thing the whole Russian people would arise to stamp it to death.
Outside of certain foreign embassies and colonies there is not one element in Russia that would not fight to the end against any such enterprise, no matter who engineered it.
Many American newspapers, including some that should have known better, were fooled into giving sympathy and support to this crack-brained excursion into the realms of fantasy. They had editorials expressing the opinion that Korniloff ought to win and praying that he might—printing these things between visions of the fall of the revolution and the inauguration of that One Man Power that for some reason unknown we are determined to have in Russia whether Russia will stand for it or not.
There are four bottom facts about the Russian situation, plain, certain, unchanging facts, and if the American newspapers will keep them handy and refer to them when these various pipes come forth from Petrograd about impending disaster, they can avoid misleading their readers and what is still more important, avoid tangling still further the relations between this country and Russia.
Here are the facts:
1. No matter what may come along, if there is any Russia at all the plain people will rule it.
2. These plain people understand very well the principles of democracy and are absolutely determined upon a thoroughly democratic system of government.
3. They are not ignorant, they are not irrational, they are not light-headed and they cannot be fooled by any would-be Napoleon. They know what they want in government and if Germany does not get them before they have time to pull themselves together what they want is what they are certain to have.
4. The governing power in the country is not the wealthy and the eminent, but the National Council of Workmen's, Soldiers' and Peasants' delegates, because this council represents the people of Russia and their will. Whoever wishes an indication as to the course Russia will pursue about anything need go no further than the council, for this, speaking for the Russian people, will always be the last word.

It is most unlucky that these facts are lost sight of in this country. The editorials and reactionary articles that American newspapers print go straight back to Russia and create there the impression that America is hostile to the Russian democracy and wants to see it go down.
Intelligent Russians know well enough that there are other peoples in the world that are hoping to see the failure of the Russian experiment, but what was hoped for from America was sympathy and understanding. Instead of sympathy and understanding a large part of the American press is handing to the Russian republic nothing but a choice assortment of hard words and the hope that it will choke.
I understand, of course, that for some of this attitude of ours two fairly adequate reasons exist.

In the first place it is tough for some of us to support a government conducted by plowmen, carpenters, blacksmiths and teamsters. But bitter as the pill may be we shall just have to swallow it in this case, brethren. Because that is the only kind of government there is or will be in Russia (unless Germany squelches it) and Russia is our ally and it is vital to us that she shall continue to hold that line. Whether she holds it or does not depends upon the will and judgment of this government of plowmen, carpenters, blacksmiths and teamsters. We shall have to take them to our hearts, therefore, no matter how much our aristocratic souls may revolt at the thought.
In the next place, some of us that really want to sympathize with all this have been disgusted by what we believe to be the failure of Russia to respond to the needs of her allies and do her share of the fighting. Six months have passed since the revolution, we say, and Russia hasn't begun to fight yet.
Hence we are pleased to say that the Russians must be flabby and deficient in fighting quality. We say their long delay is assisting the common enemy and are bumpily confident that they must have a dictator to keep them in order and so forth.
Six months—yes. Well, almost three years passed before this country got ready to fight. I don't know what right we have to throw bricks at a country that has taken only six months. The American casualties in the war so far, including those murdered on the Lusitania, are about 7,000. The Russian casualties to date are 2,000,000. When we have suffered in proportion we may with propriety talk of the slackers in other nations.
Russia has undergone the greatest revolution and internal convulsion in history. As rapidly as possible she is pulling herself together. The American press is not giving her any help on the job, but she is doing it anyway.
And as for assisting the common enemy, let me tell you something.
There is nobody in Russia that is any yellower than the old Bill Stoen gang in the United States senate. So long as our country is adorned with these specimens of the skulker and the back-firer we had better keep silence about similar afflictions elsewhere.
But anyway, the Korniloff pipe dream and bugaboo has passed. The spectre of civil war that the feverish correspondents saw plainly to be raising its head in Russia has put its head down again or taken to the woods. But we need not be disappointed. Next week we see another pipe as hysterical, as lurid and as unsubstantial as this. The next horned monster to occupy the center of the stage will probably be dissensions in the cabinet or a raid on Petrograd by a flock of jabberwocks.

In Peace and War

In time of peace a nation develops as its railroads expand.

The very life of commerce and trade — agriculture, mines, factories — is dependent upon transportation facilities.

In time of war the railroads must not only take care of this normal traffic but must in addition be ready for every emergency in the transporting of troops, guns and supplies.

The New York Central Lines

with their 12,000 miles of railway and nearly 200,000 employees thus have an important place in the life of our nation in the time of peace—doubly so in time of war.

It is the aim and purpose of the New York Central Lines to serve the government and the people faithfully and well.

How to Judge a Woman by Her Hair

There is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good preparation made expressly for shampooing. You can enjoy the very best by getting some camellia from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

50 lb. Sack of Gold Medal Flour FREE With Every Kitchen Cabinet Sale

During this week ONLY, we are able through the courtesy of the makers of Gold Medal Flour and the manufacturers of McDougall Kitchen Cabinets, to offer every purchaser of a Kitchen Cabinet a 50-pound sack Gold Medal Flour absolutely FREE. Every housewife knows that Gold Medal Flour is the highest grade flour in the entire world. McDougall Kitchen Cabinets are in the same class. This week presents an opportunity to use both of these supreme products—and the opportunity will not come again.

Mrs. McKoin
Uses the
Kitchen Cabinet
Exclusively

Mrs. McKoin, the famous southern cook who is conducting The Sentinel Cooking School, uses the McDougall Kitchen Cabinet exclusively. She has tried practically every kitchen cabinet made, and her experience has taught her that the McDougall has more advantageous features than any other. "The McDougall," says Mrs. McKoin, "contains every worth while improvement that is used on any Kitchen Cabinet, and in addition it has numerous advantages that no other cabinet can claim. I shall be delighted to point these out to any housewife who will ask for them while our Cooking School is in progress."

The Auto Front Flexible Curtain Only $1.00 Per Week Required Eventually---Why Not Now?

The Auto-Front Curtain, while only one of the many features of the McDougall Kitchen Cabinet, is particularly noteworthy. On the touch of a catch it drops completely out of sight. It leaves no open grooves or slots to catch dirt, and gives full use of the table top at all times.

You can have one of these McDougall Kitchen Cabinets delivered to your home for a small cash payment. The balance of the purchase price can be paid at the rate of $1.00 per week if you so desire. Make up your mind not to go another week without a McDougall.

They say, "Eventually Gold Medal Flour—Why Not Now?" The same thing might be said about the McDougall Cabinet, too. Why not take advantage of this offer and do both of these things NOW? With flour at its present price isn't it worth while considering this offer?

There is as much difference between raw milk—and pasteurized milk—as there is between a raw steak and a thoroughly broiled steak.

The Pasteurizer—The milk is subjected to various temperatures of heat in an automatic scientific machine called the pasteurizer. This varied temperature kills the millions and millions of germs that lurk in milk that comes from the most healthy dairy cows.

Physicians recommend pasteurized milk as the only safe milk that can be given to babies. That in itself is reason why you should use pasteurized milk for all purposes. It costs no more. We deliver before breakfast.

AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL.. By Gene Ahern

THE CASHIER.

See the cashier. He has other names, too, as "ghost," "penny pirate" and "jitney jockey" and on pay day he's called a lot of other names not so sweet sounding, from employees who have been three and a half minutes late and were docked by the cashier. Let's go up and try and get a penny or two from the cashier. No, let's go down and try and make the river run backward.

The cashier has that air that makes you believe he's doing you a heluva favor by giving you the money you've worked for.

Look how he passes it out. Examines each coin to see that none are stuck together. And if the coin is faded and worn smooth he doesn't examine it so closely. You can do that afterward.

Maybe some day he'll make a mistake and put an extra five in somebody's envelope. Yeh, maybe eggs will be given instead of trading stamps this winter.

You will want The Sentinel mailed to you when on your vacation. Phone 173.

NEW SOLDIERS LEAVE FRIDAY

There Will Be No Formal Celebration or Parade—Those Leaving.

Although there will be no formal celebration or parade Friday when Allen county's second contingent of men for the new national army leave for Camp Taylor, Ky., there will be a large number of friends and relatives who will escort them to their trains and wish them God-speed on their journey. The celebration which took place several weeks ago in honor of the drafted men shows the city and county's sincere feelings in the departure of many of their favorite sons. The fact that the soldiers are to leave by separate trains would make a formal celebration difficult if not impossible. Friends and relatives of the departing soldiers will be at the stations in large numbers to bid farewell to their friends, brothers, and sons.

The first group to go will consist of the certified men selected to go September 21 from Fort Wayne city districts Nos. 2 and 3. They will leave at 6:25 o'clock over the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad. The city district No. 1 group and the men certified for military service will leave at 10:50 o'clock by a special train over the Lake Erie.

HAD FORGOTTEN ALL ABOUT REGISTRATIONS

One Notary Has Held Twelve Filled Blanks Since June.

A notary public, who has been established in the east end of the city to aid vote registrations, walked into the office of the election clerk in the city hall with twelve signed blanks in his hand Thursday.

"I had forgotten all about these," he explained to the registration clerk. "They were filed with me last June and I have neglected them since. Lucky I thought of them."

It was indeed lucky for the voters represented by the signed slips. If the blanks had been overlooked there would have been twelve men and women who could not vote in the coming city election. Registration clerks will admonish others of the thirty notaries at work on registrations to file their blanks promptly.

Places where vote registrations may be made on Thursday evening are: Edison Confectionery, 2804 Calhoun. E. H. Miller drug store, 2123 Calhoun. Hoham drug store, 1706 Calhoun. All day and evening, every day: Phil Kochinger drug store, 901 E. Washington. Jacob Bill drug store, 1401 E. Creighton. Lakeside Pharmacy, 707 Columbia avenue. J. C. Hutzell drug store, 1402 W. Main. During the day time, every day: Dreder Drug Co., 526 Calhoun.

WESTERN FARMERS WASTE MUCH WHEAT

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—Specialists in western wheat districts estimate that twenty million bushels of wheat and proportionate quantities of other cereals are annually wasted in harvesting and threshing. The department of agriculture in a statement issued today urges farmers to give special attention to the adjustment of threshing machines and to make certain that none of the grain is lost with the straw and chaff. Care should also be taken to harvest all grain in the corners and on the edges of fields, the department advises and when bound or headless grain is stacked the stacks should be built so as to shed water.

COMPANY B NOW IN HATTIESBURG

Every Man Arrived Safe at the Mississippi Camp.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
"We arrived all safe at Camp Hattiesburg, Wednesday. Every man was in his place," writes Robert Edmunds, formerly of The Sentinel staff, who is a member of the Fort Wayne signal corps company.

"Company B is like a needle in a haystack here. There are khaki uniforms and long gray buildings as far as the eye can see. Everything is comfortable and there is the promise of plenty to eat. We expect to be busy men."

Company B, the local signal corps unit, left Fort Benjamin Harrison, where they had been taken from Fort Wayne, on Wednesday. There are now seventy-six men in the company. The soldiers were fitted in full uniform and fully equipped before they left the Indiana camp.

"Every man is well and feeling fit as we look about our new home," writes Edmunds.

These two unions have a combined membership of 8,000, and their walkout would be followed by a strike of 2,000 members of the marine cooks' union, it is declared.

GOVERNMENT MAY HELP SOLVE MARKET PROBLEM

Mayor Hoesy Will Seek Advice from Federal Food Men.

Mayor W. J. Hoesy may aid the campaign being waged by all newspapers of Fort Wayne for lower prices on the city market by calling federal officers here to investigate the situation. The mayor will write to the agricultural department at once explaining the unfair conditions on the market.

"When I say anything to the market folks they tell me that the public can either take their goods or leave them alone," says the mayor.

"That is peace talk. We are in war and a war that demands that every bit of food be utilized. We cannot allow the market vendors to haul away their goods and destroy them unless paid a high price."

"The government is handling this war condition by aiding the establishment of large food markets in the east. The food and coal situations go hand in hand. I think the local market state will bear investigation and maybe government prosecution."

The plaintiff says he was forced to leave the car and pay another fare to reach his destination.

REPLIES NOT YET IN HAND

REPORT OF KAISER'S ANSWER AN ERROR

Replies of Germany and Austria Not Expected for Some Days.

Rome, Wednesday, Sept. 19.—Cardinal Gasparri, the papal secretary of state, tonight declared to the Associated Press that the reply of the Central powers to Pope Benedict's peace proposals had not yet been received at the Vatican.

This is taken to prove that the statement recently published to the effect that the reply had left Berlin on Saturday is untrue, as otherwise, even admitting a delay of one day in Switzerland, the document should have arrived at Rome Tuesday night or this morning.

Cardinal Gasparri believes that the reply of the Central powers was held up when Emperor William went to Italia and that it is not likely that it will reach the Vatican until next week.

The reply of the entente allies to the pope's peace proposals must necessarily arrive after that of the central powers because Great Britain before the completion of the entente note asked for some information of the Vatican which in turn applied for it to the central powers, which notified the holy see that the explanations asked for would be contained in their own reply to the papal note. On these explanations therefore the answer of the entente allies, or at least that of Great Britain, will depend.

SAME TACTICS SHOULD PREVAIL ON GRIDIRON AS USED LAST YEAR

Too Early to Predict Style of Play—Open Game for Maroons.

Although it is early to predict the style of play which will be used by football teams, especially in the Big Ten, it is only reasonable to believe the coaches will employ the same sort of tactics as last year.

There have not been enough changes in the coaching staffs at the different institutions to warrant a change of play. Of course in some instances the style of play will be slightly affected by the caliber of materials, but in general it will be the same as last year.

Some teams have resorted to the open game ever since the forward pass rule went into effect in 1906. Others have stuck to the old style, with a slight variation in their attacks. A coach who has been back field men naturally will use the open style, while one with heavy and fairly fast players will employ old style tactics most of the time.

Open Game for Maroons. Minnesota, which has met with equal success in both styles of play, undoubtedly will use the famous Minnesota shift most of the time, varied by occasional forward passes. Illinois undoubtedly will rely on forward throws for its gains, and Chicago will do the same.

With Harley back at Ohio state, Coach Wilce is certain to use him in the same plays as last year, when he either forward passed the ball or ran with it from the kicker's position. Vost, at Michigan, always has had a versatile attack, and he certainly must have one this year to cope with the teams on the Wolverine schedule. Michigan has one of the hardest schedules in its history and a different attack and defense must be evolved for every game.

Speaking of the open game, kicking is certain to play an important part. Any eleven that has a kicker who can punt with accuracy and distance will utilize him to extreme advantage. Punting always has been a factor in football and this year will be no exception.

Pittsburg Looks Strong. Although interest in this section centers around the result of the conference race, the games in other sections will not be overlooked. Pittsburg, rated as one of the strongest teams in the country last year and coached by Glenn Warner, former mentor of the Carlisle Indians, has prospects of duplicating last year's record.

Warner always has been a firm believer in playing games instead of sending his team through scrimmages practice. For this reason he has slated a game with West Virginia at Morgantown to be played on Sept. 22. Last year's eleven has not suffered much by loss of veterans and will be a strong contender for eastern honors.

Penn State at Work. Penn State, another strong eastern eleven, is hard at work, and, like other teams, will depend upon open play for success. Carlisle's Indians, known for crafty work on the chalk lined field, have been practicing since the first of the month and will be a good trial horse for any of the eastern eleven. Before the end of the month the coaches will have a good idea as to the makeup of their eleven.

SLIGHT CHANCES FOR RED SOX GLIMMER Drop Two to Tigers; Chicago Loses But Gains.

Boston, Sept. 20.—Whatever slight chance the Red Sox had to become champions again went glimmering yesterday when the Tigers cleaned them up in a double-header 5 to 3 and 1 to 0. The champion's defense blew wide open in the first game and eight errors gave the Detroiters the pastime on a silver platter. The Red Sox took the lead but four errors in the fourth handed away four runs and the game. The second game was a pitchers' duel between Mays and Daus, with the latter winning out because Yeach whanged out a triple in the second and counted on Heilmann's long fly. Scores: Detroit..... 0 0 0 4 0 0 0 1—5 Boston..... 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—2 Batteries—James and Stange; Shore, Penneck and Cady.

Coveleskie in Form. New York, Sept. 20.—New York made only one hit off Stanley Coveleskie here yesterday and lost to Cleveland 2 to 0. A clean single by Malsel in the seventh spoiled Coveleskie's game. Love also pitched well but Cleveland bunched hits on him in the second and eighth. Score: Cleveland..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—2 New York..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 Batteries—Coveleskie and O'Neil; Love, Small and Nunamaker.

Twenty-one for Walter. Washington, Sept. 20.—Walter Johnson won his twenty-first game of the season yesterday when Washington defeated the Browns 6 to 4. Score: St. Louis..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 3 0—4 Washington..... 1 1 0 1 2 0 1 0—6 Batteries—Groen and Severid; Johnson and Almsmith.

Box Loss. Philadelphia, Sept. 20.—A wild throw by Right Fielder Leitbold with two men out in the ninth inning and the score tied, gave Philadelphia the victory over Chicago 2 to 1. Score: Chicago..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—1 Philadelphia..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—2 Batteries—Cleotis and Schalk; Johnson and McGraw.

New uses for wood fiber and increased demand for the older products are making forest conservation a steadily increasing problem. THE PENNANT DOPE.

The Giants lost half a game yesterday when the Cubs defeated them while the Phillies were idle. New York still leads by 12 games. The White Sox, although defeated by the Athletics, gained half a game on the Red Sox who lost a double-header to Detroit. To clinch the pennant the Giants need but three more victories of their 13 games, even though the Phillies win all their remaining 15 games. The standing then would be:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
New York	94	29	.616
Philadelphia	92	30	.605

To win the pennant the White Sox need but four more victories of their ten contests even though the Red Sox win all their 14 contests. The standing then would be:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Chicago	59	55	.513
Boston	58	55	.511

The White Sox can clinch the pennant tomorrow if things break right. If Boston loses two today and the Sox win their next two games, the race is over. In that case, even if the Red Sox win their remaining 11 games and the White Sox lose their 8, the final standing would be:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Chicago	57	57	.500

FRANKIE MASON SHOWS CLASS, BEATING CURTIS

Good Fight Card Opens Local Boxing for Season.

SENTINEL FIGHT DECISIONS.

FRANKIE MASON, OF FORT WAYNE, DEFEATED JIMMY CURTIS, OF ST. LOUIS. (Fought stopped in eighth round).

Frankie Mason, of this city, showed championship class in his bout with Jimmy Curtis, of St. Louis, last night at the Majestic theater, which was stopped in the eighth round after Curtis had received terrible punishment from Mason. Mason had the better of the bout all the way through and it was evident that a knockout was forthcoming after the sixth round when Frankie had his man groggy unless the bout was stopped. Curtis had the ability to take punishment to a degree possibly never seen in a local ring before. He stood up under a shower of rights and lefts which rocked him time again and beat his face into a pulp and kept holding on for more.

In the sixth round Mason had his opponent in a bad way and it looked then as if the fight would not go the ten rounds. In the eighth Curtis weakened and went down for a count of three but got up on his feet. He was beaten back to the ropes, being able to make only a feeble attempt at covering up. With Curtis in a pitiable way and terribly beaten Mason was apparently unable to put over a "sleeper" and the crowd began clamoring for the referee to stop the bout, which the third man did when William Moeller did. Despite the fact that he was distinctly outclassed, all of the fight fans and his opponent, Mason himself, gave Curtis credit for being the toughest little man to fight here in many days. He stood up under a rain of punishment to which many better boxers have succumbed. After the show a collection was taken up for Curtis in the audience and $25 was given to him.

Mason's lightning last night did not look as good as his ability to stand off and exchange blows. Mason showed his usual clever headwork and ring generalship which entitles him to consideration in a class with Johnny Coulon. Mason weighed in last night at 107½ and proved himself to be the "biggest little man" ever seen here at the weight. His opponent weighed in before the fight at 111 pounds. In the first preliminary Len Ellenwood and Young Stanley, of Chicago, gave the spectators some real thrills. The bout was even. Ellenwood forced the fighting but he did not display the cleverness of the Windy City boy, whose footwork was exceptionally good. Frequent clinching featured the bout. Stanley ceded the local boy several pounds and together with this Ellenwood also had the greater reach. Both boxers finished the fight in good condition, neither showing many marks from the battle. Ellenwood received a pretty gush over his left eye in the early rounds which Stanley played for later in the fight but was unable to damage further.

Young O'Neal, who substituted for Battling Hess, unable to fight because of a death in his family, deserves credit for the showing he made against Paddy Kelly, of St. Louis, who came here primed for the fight. Kelly probably had a slight lead over O'Neal, enough to warrant his being given a decision. In this bout O'Neal had the reach on Kelly and things were about even as far as weight was concerned.

The Tiger football team challenges the Bachelors for a game to be played at Swinney park next Sunday, in what will probably be the first game of the season for the gridiron sport in Fort Wayne.

A meeting of bowlers interested in the Industrial league will be held at the Metropolitan allies tonight. Five clubs have asked for places and two more are expected tonight. These are the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company and a team from the Duda Manufacturing company.

THE SERIES INFELDING—A COMPARISON OF WHITE SOX AND GIANTS.

(By Paul Purman).

The first line of defense of a ball club is its infield.

A brilliant, quick thinking infield has saved many a ball game for a pitcher. How do the Giants and White Sox stack up in this particular?

There is an element of chance in comparing these two infields at this time owing to an injury to Herzog which may keep him out of the game. With Herzog out the Giants will be working under a terrific handicap. They will either be forced to move Zimmerman to second and use the veteran Lobert at third or keep Zimmerman at third and use J. Smith, an untried youngster, at the second sack. The former plan probably would be chosen by McGraw because Zimmerman is a finished second baseman, and Lobert in spite of the fact that he has lost his speed, is a cool headed veteran of long experience.

Even with Herzog in the game the White Sox have a shade the best of it in the infield.

Gandil is steeper and more dependable than Holke at first. His play this year has not been marred by that indifference which characterized it with the Indians in 1916.

Both clubs present a formidable defense at the keystone sack, considering the shortstops and second basemen together. Herzog and Fletcher perhaps appear the more brilliant, but Collins and young Risberg, the real baseball find of the season, cover as much territory.

On a showdown the White Sox combination is perhaps a trifle the stronger, but

"HOME RUN" BAKER QUILTS BASEBALL

Suspended Yankee Star Says He is Through With Game.

New York, Sept. 20.—J. Franklin Baker, leading batsman of the New York team for the last two years, announced today he had retired from organized baseball. He reported at the Polo grounds on Tuesday, prepared to play, but was told his suspension would continue until the season ended. He has taken this as the club's final answer and is preparing to leave for his home at Trappe, Md. Mr. Baker's contract, which calls for close to $10,000, has another year to run.

BIG TEN FOOTBALL.

Fals Team, Zuppke Predicts. Urbana, Ill., Sept. 20.—"We will have a fair team when Kansas opens up here on Oct. 6," Coach Zuppke said last night. Three squads were put through the most spirited grueling thus far. Runquist, last year's varsity left tackle, appeared on the field and showed up well in his first practice. Enis and Wiese, freshmen guards, also were out for the first time. Halas, outfielder on the varsity baseball team last year, has not shown up for football practice.

Minnesota.

Minneapolis, Sept. 20.—Last calls to candidates for the University of Minnesota football team were sent out yesterday by Coach H. L. Williams. The men are asked to report at Northrup field tomorrow afternoon for the first official practice of the season. While school does not open until Oct. 10, Dr. Williams is anxious to get his material lined up and in shape for the Gophers' first game, which is scheduled for Oct. 11, with the University of Montana.

It is reported that Montana may not be able to play here on that date. If not, arrangements probably will be made for a game with the University of North Dakota or South Dakota State college.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 20.—Addition of two members and division of the squad into two teams were the developments in the Notre Dame football camp yesterday. Tex Allison and Leonard Baban cap-

CINCINNATI REDS TOO STRONG WITH WALLOPS

Runner Scores Another Homer Over Right Field Fence.

Cincinnati won the exhibition game with the All-Star and Central league players at League park by the close score of 12 to 6. Despite the disparity of six runs in the final score, however, Fort Wayne did some heavy clotting, the feature of which was Runner's. Local fans began to think there was a fatality about Runner and home runs when, in the first inning, the third ball was knocked over the right field fence for a circuit smash. Runner got two home runs in the same place when the White Sox played their exhibition game here and his feat yesterday was regarded as extraordinary.

The Reds were here in all their splendor, Matty, Roush, Groh, Chase and all the rest. The local fans clamored for the "Big Six" to go in and pitch near the bat, but this was asking too much as Mathewson could hardly have hoped to add anything to his laurels by doing mound duty yesterday, it being very nearly conceded that his reputation has already been "made."

Five markers in the third inning put the game beyond any hopes or possibilities for the locals to recover.

The game was satisfactory to every one of the fans inasmuch as the locals were hardly expected to win and the Reds had almost their regular lineup in the game. Owing to the small attendance the games with the Boston Nationals and Chicago Cubs have been cancelled.

THEY'LL BE GLAD TO HEAR THIS IN CINC.

ASSOCIATION WINNERS DEFEATED IN FINAL

Indianapolis and Toronto Will Play Post Season Series.

Indianapolis, Sept. 20.—Milwaukee defeated Indianapolis in the final game of the season here yesterday 11 to 4, the visitors taking advantage of Voyles, a semi-professional pitcher, and a crippled lineup. Arrangements were completed yesterday whereby Indianapolis, 1917 champions of the American association, and Toronto, the flag winner in the International league, will play a post-series of seven games for the championship of class AA leagues. The first three games will be played in Toronto, starting on Tuesday, Sept. 25. Saints Lose.

Columbus, Sept. 20.—After taking a seven run lead in the first three innings St. Paul allowed the advantage to filter away and lost to Columbus by a score of 8 to 3. Had the Saints won they would have finished in second place in the American association race which ended yesterday. Score: R.H.E. It is said that, aside from money spent for gasoline, the profits on automobile accessories bid fair to surpass those derived from the manufacture of the cars. A recent estimate places about 4,000,000 cars on United States roads and puts cost of upkeep for the year at $3,080,000,000.

One of the forty-five copies printed for private distribution, of Robert Louis Stevenson's memoirs of himself, was sold recently in London for £12. It is a quarto printed from the original manuscript. A first edition of the "New Arabian Nights" also changed hands for four times that sum.

WOMEN RAILROADERS? HUH! HERE'S LADY BOAT CAPTAIN

CAPTAIN NUMA ELFER AND HER CREW.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 20.—Women as chauffeurs, elevator operators, car conductors and motormen are results of the world war, but there's only one woman steamboat captain and engineer.

On a trip to New Orleans from up the picturesque bayou and down the Mississippi river Mrs. Numa C. Elfer has been discovered. Her crew consisted of two negro deckhands and these as able-bodied bayou sailors: Heloise Elfer, aged 12; Namee Elfer, 10; Laurel Elfer, 8; Clemens Elfer, 6, and Bruce Elfer, 4. They are Mrs. Elfer's children.

Mrs. Elfer has an engineer's license, gained while making the trips for many years with her husband, Capt. Elfer. The steamboat, Heloise, named for the eldest child, is their home.

When the Elfers were married, he had saved $3,000. It was decided they would buy a packet for the flourishing river, or bayou, trade.

While Elfer handles the engines, although Mrs. Elfer can do the job as well, the wife handles the pilot wheel. To save the expense of $30 a week for licensed pilot or engineer, Mrs. Elfer stood the government examinations. Rain or shine, she makes the trips.

The children were all born on the steamboat.

Imagine having to pilot a steamboat onto the river bank and tie up for half an hour or more while your infant is given its bottle!

"Living in a steamboat is just like living in a house," said Mrs. Elfer. But she plans to give up the life while the children attend a real school. Up to now she's been their teacher.

OLD SOLDIER IS HIT BY AN AUTOMOBILE

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Antwerp, O., Sept. 20.—Frederick Zediker, an old soldier, was run down by an automobile a few days ago on the highway between Paulding and Cecil. He was thrown into the ditch by the impact with the machine and sustained a broken leg and minor bruises. The driver in the machine never slackened his speed to learn his victim's injuries, but got out of sight as quickly as possible. The injured man is about 75 years of age and should have had attention at once, but lay in the ditch about two hours before assistance arrived. No clue, as yet, has been gathered as to who his assailant was, but if he is rounded up he should be dealt with quite severely.

Antwerp Short Notes.

The work of demolishing the building at the corner of Main and Stone streets was completed Wednesday, the frame work being the last to be taken down, and was sold to Aaron Gustin, who will use it in the erection of a barn on his farm. Much of the material in the building was sold by the wagonload, to be used as wood and kindling. This is another old landmark accounted for.

Miss Helen Cummings, teacher of the second grade in the Antwerp high school, gave a woodland social Tuesday afternoon to the other teachers in the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Merchant, Roy Hartup, wife and son, Ernest of Zanesville, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. William Merchant and son, William, of Memphis, Tenn., were Antwerp visitors the forepart of the week, the guests of Dr. and Mrs. S. D. Merchant.

Fred Johnson, of the ambulance corps, stationed at Toledo, was a visitor at his home here a couple of days this week, the guest of his parents, J. L. Johnson and family.

Young Lawyer is Champion
Strike Preventer of

By MILTON BRONNER.
Star Special.

Washington, Sept. 20.—If the government's contract war work is done without perilous strikes it will be due largely to a quiet young lawyer from Louisville, who came here originally on the shipping board legal staff.

He had not been here many hours before he was also drafted by Col. Isaac Littell, in charge of all big army cantonnement construction.

The thing that he found troubling both Colonel Littell and Chairman E. N. Hurley, of the shipping board, was the fear of strikes.

So Louis B. Wehle devised a new kind of mediation board in which the government and organized labor would be represented, while the firms whose plants were involved sat by and agreed to whatever was decided upon.

It was tried out in the cantonnement business when Secretary of War Baker gave it his O. K. It worked.

Then Hurley asked Wehle to devise a similar board for the more complicated shipping business involving many kinds of labor unions. It got the O. K. of Secretary of the Navy Daniels and of Hurley and was tried out. It worked. Now Wehle is devising similar board for the plants where government munitions, etc., are being made.

BAKER SEES HUMOR IN CONSERVATION

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Today's session of the convention of bakers was opened by the humorous view of food conservation taken in an address by William C. Edgar, of Minneapolis. Mr. Edgar said he recognized the need for the elimination of waste, but found matter of merriment in some of the expedients of economy proposed to the public.

The program for the day included: "Plane Plus Push," by Dr. S. J. Krebs, New York city; "Getting Results," by A. J. Leitich, Cleveland, and "The Housewife's Point of View," by Helen Louise Johnson, Watertown, N. Y.

Mr. Edgar early in his remarks referred to "calories," which he said was a word much used lately.

"A dinner prepared to give the diner

the greatest number of calories at the least expense is the latest thing in fashionable conservation," said Mr. Edgar. "An excellent preparation for one of these experiences is a hearty dinner before and an excellent supper after it; otherwise one's strength will languish and a faintness as of hunger will ensue."

INDIANAPOLIS WOMAN RETURNS WITH AUTO

Detective Sergeant William Pappert located a deserted automobile in an east end garage, when making his rounds Monday. He learned that the machine belonged to Mrs. Laura Hart, Indianapolis. The woman was notified and on Wednesday came to Fort Wayne for her property. She drove the auto home.

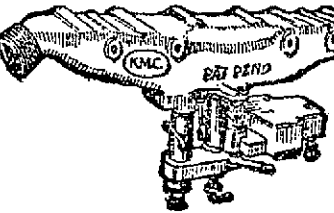

Mrs. Hart says the machine was stolen from the street in Indianapolis and that the man is now under arrest on a charge of taking the car. The man who brought the machine to Fort Wayne for sale left his property when he was told to prove ownership of the car.

Weighing the Teams That Will Fight Out World's Series

BY J. B. SHERIDAN

WITH the pennant races coming to a close, Americans are interested in any discussion of the owners, managers and members of the teams that should win the contests in the National and American leagues. In a week or so the news of the world's championship series will be vying in public interest with the news of the American troops in France.

The soldier is the big figure in the eyes of the American people just now, but the baseball player has not been forgotten. Strange to say, there is no place where the baseball player is so much a hero as in the army. While the recruits are having their hands and heads full with intensified drill, they do not forget baseball when they have time.

At this writing it seems that the New York Giants will win the National League pennant. The Giants are eight games ahead of Philadelphia, the second team, and fourteen and one-half games ahead of St. Louis, the third team. The Giants can afford to lose half of the twenty-five games they have yet to play and can win the flag. Not in any month of the season have the Giants lost half their games. They have been winning two-thirds of their games right along. It is true that they must finish the season with a long string of twenty-three games away from home, but their nearest rival, the Phillies, must finish away from home, too. Therefore, the last month of the season sees the Giants with an eight-game lead and twenty-three games to play. It is sure as anything human can be sure that the Giants will win the National League pennant in 1917. The American League race is still open between Chicago, which has a two-game lead, and Boston. No other club has a chance.

Let us discuss the characteristics of the teams that probably will figure in the great world's championship of 1917.

The Giants are veterans. Every player on the club save Schupp, Burns and Robertson, was a major league player when McGraw got him. Robertson, Burns and Schupp had lots of minor league experience before they got to New York. McGraw is not a great handler of young players. He is impatient. He cannot wait. He finds it more profitable to pay high prices for developed material that can go out and win a pennant, than to wait for college boys to develop.

New Yorkers Poor Fans.

New Yorkers will pay $1,000,000 for a pennant, but not a cent for a club that is not in the race. New York is really a bad ball town save for a winner. It would not stand up for losing ball as Boston, St. Louis, Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland and Cincinnati stand for it, year after year. The New Yorkers are not real ball fans. They are mostly foreigners, the effervescent Jew leading. They care nothing for a good ball game. They want to see the Giants win. They love to gamble on the games. They pour out in great numbers just at game time.

Five minutes before play is called sees empty stands at the Polo grounds. Then the elevated and the subways gape, and by the time umpires call "Play," 20,000 gesticulating, gibbering people are in the seats. They talk and yell and bet as long as New York is in front. The moment someone tells them (they pay little attention to the score) that the Giants are two runs behind, they leave the park. When the game is finished, the huge crowds pour into the subways and on to the elevated and disappear as quickly as they appeared. Most of the people do not know what the score was. They don't know the simpler and finer points of the game. All they know is that New York won or lost, and maybe some of the more intelligent of them, that Holke made a triple or that Kauff made a fine catch.

You must have a winner in New York. They won't go out to see you if you have not got a pennant contender. It won't do that you shall be a good second or third. You must be first or fighting for first place.

So McGraw, a wise man, gives them their winner as often as he can. He has succeeded pretty regularly, too.

Traded Like a Jackknife.

To that desirable $1,000,000 end, McGraw who finished away down in 1915-16, bought a lot of stars in 1917. He got Zimmerman from Chicago and Holke from the International League. In the previous year he got Kauff, the star of the Federal League; Rariden, a good catcher, and Anderson, a good pitcher. He grabbed Sallee and Perritt from the decaying St. Louis club, which at that time had to have money. He got Herzog and Benton from Cincinnati. When McGraw lined up his team to win the flag in 1917 he had just four players of his own development, Schupp, Fletcher, Burns and

Robertson, and all of these had extended minor league experience before McGraw ever saw them. So he did not perform the miracle, Connie Mack performed when he picked Plank, Bender, Combs, Barry, Collins and McInnis out of college, and with a little help from others, won pennant after pennant with them. But McGraw has gained his end, won a pennant, which is, all told, more profitable than going out and losing money for five or six years trying to organize a team that may win a flag.

McGraw got a queer lot of temperaments when he organized his pennant winners. Zimmerman, Herzog, Fletcher, Kauff and Robertson were all famous for their peculiarities of conduct. Zimmerman had put in some seven seasons under five different managers at Chicago and could not get along with either managers or umpires. Chance, Evers, Bresnahan, O'Day and Tinker all failed to make the ebullient Holke behave. Herzog could not get along with McGraw, Stallings and again McGraw, and had been traded back and forth like a jack knife.

Herzog had trouble getting along with himself when he managed Cincinnati and he surely failed to agree with any of some thirty-five players he employed during his two years with the Reds. Kauff had jumped many teams because he could not get along with managers and fellow-players and was so swollen with his success in the Federal League that he had become intolerable. Sallee was notoriously temperamental and had "jumped" the St. Louis club several times when he was with it. Perritt was also a famous malcontent and a double contract jumper, from the Cardinals to the Federals and from the Federals to the Giants in 1915.

Benton was a wild lad in his devious days with Cincinnati. His passion for wildly careering about the roads on a motorcycle almost led to his death and greatly detracted from his value to his club. The catchers, McCarty, Gibson and Rariden, were all sober, steady, regular fellows. So was Holke, the young first baseman.

Fletcher, the shortstop, is regarded as temperamental, too, but not to such an extent as the others. Burns is steady as a clock and a truly great ballplayer. Robertson, the young right fielder, was a peculiar sort of chap, one who was liable to do strange things at any moment. Schupp, who is as near to being a McGraw-made player as any man ever managed by the nimble-witted manager, is also looked upon as safe and sound.

Value of Odds and Ends. With this rare aggregation of prima donnas, McGraw started out to win a pennant and a world's championship. He has succeeded at last, so far as winning his pennant goes. Winning the world's championship is another thing, but we are inclined to think that he will do that, too.

There can be no sort of doubt about the merits of the odds and ends picked up. Sallee, Perritt and Benton were famed pitchers before John J. induced them to go to the Giants. Anderson was a star pitcher in the Federal League. He leads the National League pitchers in point of runs earned, but the figures are deceptive, for Anderson is not by any means as good or as effective a pitcher as Sallee, Perritt or Schupp. Nor even as Tesreau.

Rariden was a good catcher with Boston and with the Federal League, a made man before McGraw ever saw him. Gibson was a veteran of veterans. Then McGraw had McCarty, who was a star with Brooklyn before New York got him in trade for Merkle. McCarty was worth ten Merkle's, but Brooklyn was in the pennant race in 1916, and Daubert was seriously injured. Brooklyn simply had to have a first baseman and Merkle was the only available man. So McGraw stuck Brooklyn up for McCarty.

It was a good trade at the time for Brooklyn, too, for Merkle played strongly and helped the Dodgers win the pennant. When Daubert came back Brooklyn had no use for Merkle. Luck, however, broke right for Charley Ebbetts, Vic Saier broke his leg in the spring of 1917 and Chicago had to have a first sacker. Ebbetts got $13,000 for Merkle, who had been superseded on two clubs.

We have seen where McGraw organized a team of odds and ends, sewed them together and won a championship. He kept the uncertain Zimmerman in good humor by having the press boost him as the best third baseman in the world, which Zim is not, and by having the other players refer to him in all things. Zim has played a fine game for New York, but he is far from being the best third baseman in the business. He can hit and run pretty well, but he is not what is known as a "sound ballplayer." He will make the wrong play with great frequency and he is liable to throw the ball away any time he gets a fast play at any base. All the same, he is a pretty good man.

Holding Up the Players.

McGraw got great ball out of Herzog by making him captain of the team. Herzog is a great ballplayer, though he is not hitting this year. But there is grit and force and power in the man and the way he takes some of these weak-kneed New York pitchers, lifts them by the ears and holds their faces to the foe, is really wonderful. I have seen Herzog pick up Anderson, Tesreau and Schupp, when they were wavering, and by sheer force of character pull them through the game. Even if he is not hitting, Herzog is a great ballplayer. He advances men every time he goes up with a runner on, he can run bases, he can field any infield position and he fights all the time. His greatest asset is the way in which he backs up pitchers. The pitcher who cannot work with Herzog back of him must be a weak one, indeed.

Fletcher always has played good ball for McGraw and is doing well this year. He could not hit very much when he first came into the National League, but he has grown big and heavy since that time, and he has been hitting hard for the past three seasons. Fletcher is a great shortstop, big, strong, fast, a good arm. He comes in, bounding like a reed and he can cover ground forty ways from Sunday. Fletcher is not far from being the best shortstop in the game, though the minuteness of Maranville and the flash of Bancroft, have got these players more notice than given the Illinoisan. Fletcher can hit, run and field. He is a tremendous shortstop.

Holke at first is the spot on the team. He is a good fielder, but not a good hitter, though he surprised the world by leading both the International League and National League in 1916. He manages to bat 270 or so with the Giants. That means that he would hit some 240 with a club composed of weak batters. Holke bats in seventh place for the Giants. Six mighty sluggers precede him and break the hearts of the pitchers before they get to the first baseman. But Holke will render a good account of himself in the field, and with that team of sluggers will not be entirely useless at the bat.

Greatest National Player.

McGraw will have a good outfield, no matter how the game goes. He made one of the merry mistakes of his career when he let Roush get away, but he wanted to assist Mathewson and Roush at the time did not look at all as good as Kauff or Robertson. Roush came after he joined the Reds, and is now probably the greatest ballplayer in the National League, another Harry Hooper, but about 100 points a stronger hitter.

In George Burns, McGraw has a wonderful ballplayer. Burns has not been featured in the New York papers because he is not as showy as Robertson nor as good a press agent as Kauff. Burns is, on the other hand, just a quiet sort of fellow, who does all sorts of good work, and who gets no credit for what he does. Burns is, next to Cobb, about the best man playing ball. He is a first-class lead-off man and batter, runs the bases splendidly, can field and throw. He handles ground balls like a shortstop, can catch and play infield. He plays 156 games year in and year out. His conduct is perfect. Put George Burns on a team with Cobb and there is no telling where he would stop. He is truly one great ball player, one of the very best of all time.

Kauff has improved a great deal and is a very good hitter. He is a fair sort of fielder but an inaccurate thrower. Kauff's arm is strong enough but he has always had trouble getting the ball to the mark. Kauff is a good ballplayer and will not be out of place on a championship club. But he is not at all so good a ballplayer as Burns or Roush.

Robertson should be as great a player as Cobb. He is faster than Cobb ever was, can hit the ball harder and further, can throw and field, but he has a temperment. And that ends it. Robertson's wonderful flash of speed in 1916 fooled McGraw into choosing him over Roush, who is much the better ballplayer. Robertson played some ball in 1916 that was enough to make any manager like him. He looked like a better man than Cobb. He got married during the winter of 1917 and that is supposed to have lowered his effectiveness. They always say that marriage hurts a ballplayer. Yet Cobb got married in midseason and it did not effect his batting average. Many of the stars have been married while at their best. Mickey Welch, the famous pitcher of the world's champion Giants of 1889 had some ten children. So it is down the line.

Bad Breaks Ruin Him.

The fact is that Robertson is merely temperamental. If he gets away well he will play a great game. If things break bad for him he will not go so well. Things broke bad for Robertson in 1917, and he has been the disappointment of the Giants. Every one else came through. Robertson did not.

But McGraw's infield and outfield is good enough to win from any club the Giants meet.

The loss of McCarty has been a sore blow to the Giants and will be a sorer one still in the world's series. This fellow is one of the best hitters, catchers or anything else, in either league. He is game and a pretty good receiver and thrower. When he broke his leg in May, McCarty became a dead loss to the club. Had he been in the game the Giants would be eighteen not eight games ahead of their nearest competitor.

Gibson, a 42-year-old boy, broke a finger and will hardly be in the series either. So the catching will be up to Rariden, who is a good receiver and a pretty good hitter, but who is not exactly world's series sort. If the Chicago White Sox should win the American League pennant, and oppose the Giants in the world's series, Rariden will have his work cut out opposing a great catcher like Schalk.

Should Boston win the American League pennant, Rariden will hold his own with any catcher that may be produced by the present champions.

It is most unlikely that the New York pitching staff will do anything but acquit itself in most creditable fashion in the world's series. While there is not one great pitcher among the nine men that draw pay from the New York team, there are several first-class men, some of them very reliable, and all of them likely to pitch at least one great game at any time.

Schupp, who is regarded as the star of the staff, is a nice young pitcher, but far from a great one. He has one great asset, fine control of a good curve ball. He can curve that ball on the corners of the plate, an inch in or an inch out, at his pleasure. This makes him a very troublesome pitcher. For he is liable to bend a strike over at any time and then he is liable to keep the ball just far enough away from the batter to make it hard to meet it fairly. Then if the batter lets the ball alone it is liable to curve over for a strike.

Schupp has no great speed, his curve is not a wonder, but he can make that curve sit up and do tricks. He keeps the batter worrying lest it be over or a hair's breath outside. The batters, of course, are beginning to let Schupp's fast one alone and to lay for his curve ball. He has got enough speed to hold his own, but Schupp is not, by any means, the remarkable pitcher that his early record of eight straight wins and no defeats, and something like ten of twelve games won in the first two months of the season would lead one to imagine. He is just a nice young pitcher, with a well-controlled curve ball, a pitcher something like Carl Weilman was, only with a little more speed and "stuff."

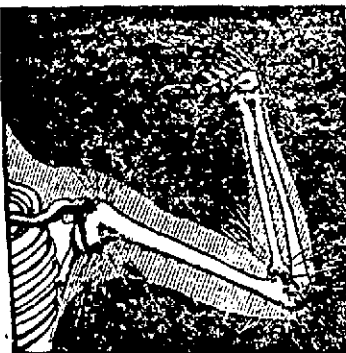

It is simply impossible to be true to one's ideal when some big, coarse, rough person comes along and knocks them all galley west.

Rheumatism

Remarkable Home Cure Given by One Who Had It—He Wants Every Sufferer to Benefit.

Send No Money—Just Your Address.

Years of awful suffering and misery have taught this man, Mark H. Jackson, of Syracuse, New York, how terrible an enemy to human happiness rheumatism is, and have given him sympathy with all unfortunate who are within its grasp. He wants every rheumatic victim to know how he was cured. Read what he says:

"I Had Sharp Pains Like Lightning Flashes Shooting Through My Joints."

"In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by muscular and inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case."

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. "Isn't that fair?" Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write to-day. MARK H. JACKSON, No. 67D, Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.

A new idea in danger signals is the checkerboard system installed by the Columbus Automobile club, Columbus, O. At dangerous intersection are placed boards three by six feet, painted in alternate squares of black and white, to attract the eye of drivers and serve as warning. The boards are to be equipped with red lights so as to be conspicuous by night as well as by day.

Deft Brand Butter Has a Five-Fold Value in Cooking

First—It's 8 per cent. volatile fat—which is the secret of its delightful flavor; gives to every dish cooked that toothsome palate pleasing touch without which no food is 100 per cent. satisfying and nourishing.

Second—The high energy value of butter makes the meal serve the needs of the family more completely—adds the necessary driving force to the muscle-building qualities of meats and other strong protein foods.

Third—The liberal use of Deft Brand Butter in cooking permits the use of cheaper foods without sacrificing nutritive value or palatability. It cuts the grocer and butter bills materially.

Fourth—Deft Butter is the only commercial fat which enables the life giving, growth providing power of the meal—so necessary to the proper development of children.

Fifth—Meals cooked with butter are more easily digested than those cooked with other fats, because, whether in natural state or cooked, butter fat is always the most easily digested of all fats.

methods of this body, which have been the product of British experience with a merchant marine many times larger than ours, may be profitably imitated by the United States shipping board.

Latin-American Trade.

"We may realize practical pan-Americanism by steadfast recognition in principle and practice of the economic ties between the United States and other American republics. Our country must continue to offer a market for considerable part of the products of Latin-America and must see to it that a good transportation is provided for the conveyance of that merchandise. The export administrative board has a great opportunity in constructive work in fostering trade with Latin-America. Once it is realized throughout Latin-America that the United States recognizes as a primary principle of its war policy the duty of supplying the needs of its southern neighbors and of maintaining uninterrupted the means of transportation a surer basis will be supplied for pan-American relations."

Shattered trees. The German defenses were composed largely of concrete and barbed wire. The Germans poured a wicked stream of bullets into the ranks of the advancing troops from concrete positions. Every little elevation and all the woods were choked with rapid-fire guns. The British encountered hard fighting at many places, but their magnificent artillery work has done much to make the first stage of their drive easier.

London, Sept. 20.—The British forces on the Belgian front attacked the German positions at 5:30 o'clock this morning east of Ypres. Field Marshal Haig reports that satisfactory progress was made and that the British already have captured some valuable positions.

The British official statement announcing that Field Marshal Haig had taken the offensive this morning says: "We attacked at 5:40 this morning on a wide front east of Ypres. Satisfactory progress is reported. Our troops already have captured some valuable positions."

Field Marshal Haig's selection of the battle front to the east of Ypres in Belgium as the scene of his latest offensive against the Germans indicates that it is a continuation of the expressed purpose of the British commander in chief to force the armies of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, from the western coast of Belgium and to cut off the German submarine and air bases on the north sea from Zebrugge to Nieuport, including Ostend.

The British drive apparently is being made in the direction of Roulers and Courtrai, from which Belgian towns, according to recent dispatches from the Dutch frontier, the German military authorities have been evacuating the civil population.

That the British offensive had been in preparation for several days was made known in recent statements of the German general headquarters staff. The Germans reported the British were maintaining a violent and destructive fire against the Tonton positions, the bombardment frequently reaching the intensity of drum fire.

TURKS IN AUSTRIAN LINE.

Rome, Wednesday, Sept. 19.—(Delayed.)—Prisoners taken by the Italians on the Carson front include several Turks. This proves, Italian officials say, that Austria-Hungary is getting reserves from every possible quarter in making a last desperate effort to stem the Italian advance.

GERMAN OFFICIAL REPORT.

Berlin, Sept. 20.—A formidable drum fire on the Flanders front early this morning, reports the German general headquarters staff, was followed at daybreak by strong English attacks on a broad front.

FRENCH SUBMARINE LOSSES.

Paris, Sept. 20.—Two French merchantmen of more than 1,000 tons and two vessels of less than that tonnage were sunk by Tonton submarines on the 19th, according to an official statement given out today by the French admiralty. In this period 980 vessels arrived and 894 cleared at French ports. Two French ships were unsuccessfully attacked.

tion of the government commissioner. Kishin, who is a constitutional democrat.

Premier Kerensky is still at Mohilev, but is keeping in close touch with the situation. The government is optimistic over the results of the conferences between Premier Kerensky and army leaders and considers the Kaleidines incident closed.

Some newspapers say the Maximalists are gaining complete control of the soldiers and workmen's delegates and that the situation promises to reach a crisis when the democratic congress meets.

Among the chief features of the program of the Moscow council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates are the abolishment of private property in land remuneration, workmen's control over production and distribution, nationalization of the chief branches of industry, avoiding all secret treaties, proposing to all belligerents a general democratic peace and the arming of workmen. Steps looking to similar usurpation of power by the councils of soldiers' and workmen's delegates in other cities is cited by M. Terestchenko in a report prepared for the new cabinet and published today. He described the position along the front as satisfactory and declared that the victory of the government over Gen. Korniloff has strengthened the government abroad and throughout Russia. But he added that anarchy was but a clue seems to have been furnished by Berlin, which yesterday reported the drum fire to be pounding the line from Houtholst wood, some five miles south of Dixmude, to the river Lys, a distance of about fifteen miles.

This would indicate the main force of the drive was directed toward Roulers and Courtrai, with the probable object of driving a wedge further into the German Flanders front and eventually forcing a German abandonment of the Belgian coast, with its valuable submarine and aerial bases. The civilian population is recently reported to have been removed from towns in the German rear along a wide stretch along this front, including the two cities named.

The Flanders operations were opened this year with the blowing up of the Messines ridge on June 7 and the capture of the Wytschaete salient by the British and was continued with the opening of the present great offensive by a combined attack of British and French troops on July 31. Progress on a notable scale continued to be made during a considerable part of August, but in the latter part of that month and during September, until now, the infantry fighting has largely been confined to local drives and extensive trench raids.

From the French front today only artillery activity is reported. The statement covered only last night's operation and the early reports today did not indicate whether the French in Flanders had joined in the renewed drive there.

Reports that continue to come from the Flanders' battle front during the day indicated the advance was proceeding with notable success, ground having been gained which if the British succeeded in holding, would constitute one of the most notable achievements in months.

The unofficial dispatches show the main drive was exerted between the Ypres-Roulers railway and Houtholst, or on a front of some four and a half miles astride the Ypres-Menin road. It was in this crucial sector that the gains were most marked. The battle of Menin road, as the dispatch describes it, is being fought over muddy ground and in the face of a wicked machine gun fire from the Germans, although the British guns had wiped out countless defenses and the British barrage was of the most effective character. This attack, however, is being made under improved weather conditions instead of during a rainstorm with the weather constantly growing worse as on so many previous occasions.

districts are made to prevail," declared Ira J. Mix, jr., member of a local dairy company. "I can see no recourse for the dealers other than to charge accordingly to the consumer. That would mean milk at not less than 13 cents a quart."

Several district associations of producers have sent delegates to the convention who will demand prices for milk on the farm ranging from $3.54 to $3.72 per hundred pounds.

A NEW PEACE PLOT.

London, Sept. 20.—The attempt made by the German press and officials to create an atmosphere of what is believed to be another peace maneuver, again is given prominence in the morning papers, which are of the unanimous opinion that there can be no peace until Prussian militarism is crushed. The Daily Mail, under the caption, "The Hun Peace Plot," declares: "The true friends of peace are the allied armies of the governments which are striving to remove the cause of all this misery, unrestrained bloodshed by destroying Germany's military autocracy."

The Mail rebukes the pacifists, saying, "President Wilson has shown how these people can be handled. He is the most scrupulous of democrats, but he knows that liberty at such a moment as this has the most to fear from its pretended friends. Peace agitation in the United States is no longer tolerated and editors of journals printed in the German language are no longer permitted to cry fretfully for peace with dishonor."

The Times says: "While the well-disciplined German press affects to maintain an agitated discussion as to whether the forthcoming reply to the papal peace note does or does not contain an offer to evacuate Belgium upon terms which would leave her in the perpetual servitude of her oppressors, the answer of the allies to any proposals of the kind reaches Germany at the same time from both sides of the Atlantic."

The Times quotes the Atlantic City speech of Secretary Lane, and adds that the war will end, as Secretary Lane says, "when Germany knows that she must give hostages" for good behavior in the future.

"The Express asserts that 'the U-boat figures issued last night are the best commentary on Germany's desire for peace,' adding 'they are the worst on record' for Germany."

Continuing, the Express says: "No peace on whatever terms can have any value unless those terms ensure the impossibility of another German attempt to wreck the world."

The Post declares that it is only by means of combined economic action of the entire allied that Germany can be taught to what disabilities prolongation of the war will subject her.

AT ONE WITH WILSON.

COUNCIL WILL PASS PASTEURIZATION LAW

Uniform Method of Treating Milk to Be Demanded for Fort Wayne.

An ordinance demanding a uniform treatment for pasteurization of milk in Fort Wayne is being framed for the city council. Members of that body have declared themselves as favoring such a law and passage of the measure is assured.

The ordinance will set out that milk to be properly pasteurized must be heated to a temperature of 145 degrees for thirty seconds. This code will insure like treatment for all milk products which are advertised as being pasteurized.

Automatic arrangements for controlling the temperature of pasteurization and a recording thermometer to register temperature of the milk will have to be installed by a few dairies who do not now have such apparatus, when the proposed law is carried into effect. The recording sheets, telling of treatment of the milk, must be carefully filed so that the city health officers may have access to the papers at any time. Inspections will be made often.

The impending law is due to the activities of the city health department which has been informed that a part of the treated milk in Fort Wayne has not been properly pasteurized.

SWEDEN REBUKES KAISER STRONGLY

Protest Made Against the Abuse of Sweden's Confidence and Trust.

Stockholm, Sept. 20.—It was announced at the Swedish ministry of foreign affairs today that after the publication by the Washington state department of the code telegrams forwarded by Count von Luxburg, the German minister to Argentina, through the Swedish legation at Buenos Aires, the Swedish government, on Sept. 10, asked, through the intermediary of the Swedish minister at Berlin, whether it was true that the German representative at Buenos Aires had dispatched, and the minister of foreign affairs at Berlin had received the telegrams in question.

When the reply was received the Swedish minister at Berlin on September 15 was instructed by the Swedish government to hand to the German government a strong protest in consequence of these incidents and to lay stress upon the fact that it had been confirmed beyond doubt, that German officials very seriously had abused the confidence of Sweden.

The communication made by the German minister at Stockholm to the Swedish minister of foreign affairs mentioned in the Swedish official statement of September 17 had no connection with the protest made by the Swedish government.

SOUTH BEND SCOURGE GROWS.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 20.—Three new cases of typhoid fever reported to the city health officers today bring the total up to 91. United States government officials arrived here today with a special laboratory car to investigate the situation. Failure of other outside experts to fix the cause for the epidemic resulted in summoning Major J. C. Cobb, of the United States public health service. He, with his assistants, will remain here until the mystery is cleared up.

NO PASSENGERS ABOARD.

London, Sept. 20.—A Melbourne dispatch to Reuters' Ltd., says that the British steamer, Port Kembla, which was sunk by an explosion near Cape Farewell, N. Z., carried no passengers, but a valuable cargo. The explosion blew out almost one side of the steamer and she sank in twenty minutes.

WILL ADDRESS MEN.

WEATHER HAS BULLISH INFLUENCE ON CORN DEMANDS ARE SLOW, BUT PRICES HIGHER Unfavorable Reports Give Wall Street Opens Well, to Strong Opening, But Reaction Comes.

Be Followed by Heaviness on Realizing.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Unfavorable weather had a bullish effect today on the corn market. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as last night finish to 3/4c higher at $1.19 1/2 to $1.19 3/4 December, and $1.16 to $1.16 1/4 May, were followed by moderate further gains and then something of a reaction.

Oats bulged with corn. Some of the buying was ascribed to seaboard interests. Wheat receipts continue relatively liberal in the northwest and scanty in Chicago.

Higher quotations on hogs strengthened provisions.

The close on corn was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 3/4c advance, with December $1.19 to $1.19 3/4 and May $1.16 to $1.16 1/4.

MANY VOLUNTEERS FOR BIG PATRIOTIC DRIVE

Men Meet in Indianapolis to Prepare for Work of War Movement.

Indianapolis, Sept. 20.—More than 100 men from all parts of the state met in the chamber of the house of representatives this afternoon and volunteered their time and expenses for the big four days organization's drive to be staged in Indiana Sept. 25-28, inclusive, by the Indiana State Council of Defense. Selected volunteers were divided into twenty-three teams to visit each county to check up on the activities of county councils of defense and bring them up to the full requirements of the state council, the war department and the council of national defense.

More than sixty meetings already have been planned for the four days drive and the others will be arranged without unnecessary delay. The organization drive will be the most ambitious effort yet attempted by the state council, which announced its necessity "in order that Indiana may carry its share of the burden" in the war with Germany.

LITTLE GIRL RAN AGAINST MACHINE

Little Hilda Mertz, aged 3, 1404 Wabash avenue, broke loose from her mother's hold on her hand and started to run across the street at the corner of Maumee and Wabash avenues Wednesday evening. The child ran against an automobile driven by E. C. Thomas, of New Haven. The girl was knocked to the street. Her face was bruised and her arm lacerated. The injuries are not serious.

ORDERED TO HATTIESBURG.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 20.—Orders for the Fourth Infantry, Col. Robert L. Moorehead commanding, to proceed at once to Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss., were issued today. The order came from the central department of the army at Chicago. The Fourth regiment is now in camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison. It is expected to leave in a few days.

New York, Sept. 20.—The demand for stocks was less vigorous at the opening today but fractionally higher prices were quoted in most instances. Copper shares developed heaviness after a narrow opening with a decline of 1 1/2 for Utah.

Renewed professional selling and realizing of profits forced the market generally below yesterday's close. The heaviness of the principal railroad shares had an adverse effect on the market.

Bonds were steady.

FRANCHISE LEAGUE NOTICE.

Mrs. Fred H. McCulloch, of the local Franchise league, announces that the polling of the city for women voters closes tonight. Fifty women have been engaged to finish up the work and are requested to meet at franchise headquarters, University club building, Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

BASEBALL LEADER DRAFTED.

Tennally, N. J., Sept. 20.—John (Dots) Miller, captain of the St. Louis Nationals, has been drafted, and although married has filed no claim for exemption, it was announced here today. Miller is a resident of Tennally. He was examined and drafted in St. Louis.

The council of women of Churches of Christ will meet in the West Jefferson church on Friday at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Doyle and her committee are to be hosts.

TELL THEM DAILY

The business man, the public stenographer, the architect, the moving man, the chiropractor and the carpenter who advertise in the classified columns of The Sentinel all know how important it is to keep their business announcements before Fort Wayne people every day in the week, month after month. They know that Fort Wayne people use these columns like they use the City Directory or the telephone book, "looking up" what they want to buy in the carefully indexed "For Sale" classification, and using the "Services Offered" column in the same way when they want to get in touch with reliable professional people. Whatever you do can profitably be told every day in The Sentinel.

LOCAL MARKETS

One Dollar Drop from Wednesday's Top Price—The Local Market.

Hay receipts were again heavy, sixteen loads being weighed at the city scales, bringing $16 to $18, one dollar less than the top price on Wednesday. Two loads of corn brought $1.90 and $1.96, and seven loads of oats from 60 cents to 65 cents.

Unwillingness of the farmer to deliver grain at the official price has been given as the reason for a threatened shortage in flour. If millers could not get wheat they could not make flour, and if the mills could not make flour the trade could not sell. The Wall Street Journal says that the explanation is simply itself. Consumers of flour now should do their part as expected and rush to buy everything in sight. In no other way can the public live up to its reputation of being an easy mark.

NO PROFIT IN $2 A TON.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Sept. 20.—Twenty-five coal mines in this city have been compelled to close within a week because the operators were unable to mine and market coal for $2 a ton, the price fixed by the government, according to a statement issued here today by Daniel Howard, a leading operator. Mr. Howard said he had reports from other counties of the central West Virginia field concerning the close of mines which their owners declared they were unable to operate profitably at the government rate.

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Edwood streets, Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious names will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Bloodless" writes: "I sign after my name 'bloodless' because that seems to be my condition. I am pale, thin and chilly all the time. My appetite is feeble, but even when I eat a great deal I do not gain in weight."

Answer: I would advise plenty of exercise and a persistent use of three-grain hypo-nutrient tablets to increase your blood and flesh. They tend to improve digestion and the proper absorption of nourishment. A gain of a pound or two a week is not unusual.

Mrs. P. G. writes: "I hesitate to ask advice as my case is so unusual. In a word, I am tired and worn out all the time. It does not refresh me. I have been married over a year and formerly did not know what it was to be tired or nervous. Sometimes I feel hysterical. I fear I will become a nuisance to my husband if this continues."

Answer: Your nervous system has been depleted. You need a tonic invigorating medicine that will aid in supplying more food-energy to your nerves. Take three grain cod-liver oil tablets regularly for several months.

NOTE: For many years Dr. Baker has been giving free advice and prescriptions to millions of people through the press columns, and doubtless has helped in relieving illness and distress more than any single individual in the world's history. Thousands have written him expressions of gratitude and confidence.

Dr. Lewis Baker, Dear Sir:—In reading your good advice to others I have found much to interest me. Please send me your "Great Guide Book, Health and Beauty," and I thank you for advice to others which so help me. May your good work go on. You will get better reward than money in helping so many who suffer and often cannot have a doctor, as there is no money to pay one. One of your many well-wishers, sincerely,
MISS C. H. WHITE,
Portland, Me.

James J. asks: "For several months I have not been feeling well. My skin is sallow, my tongue is coated, have headache, am nervous and nervous and nervous with chronic constipation. Please help me."

Answer: You need a laxative blood-purifying treatment in the form of three-grain hypo-nutrient tablets (not sallow). Overcome the tendency to constipation and gradually your good health and pure blood will return.

H. M. B. writes: "Can you please prescribe medicine which will relieve me of such distressing symptoms of kidney and bladder, as the following: Pains in small of back, soreness in region of bladder, frequent calls at night but scanty flow with pain, burning and foul odor, puffing of limbs, etc."

Answer: Those seeking relief from kidney and bladder disorders should begin taking bathroom tablets, a very successful formula sold in sealed tubes with full directions.

Mrs. N. L. writes: "Last winter I was cured of a bad case of bronchitis by using your prescription, containing neither laxative, nor have been very grateful and confident of getting good advice. I wish to know of a good, safe medicine to reduce my abnormal weight about 30 pounds."

Answer: I thank you for your confidence and advice that five grain hypo-nutrient tablets is the reliable obesity medicine which I always prescribe. In sealed tubes with directions. Any druggist can supply you.

James J. asks: "For several months I have not been feeling well. My skin is sallow, my tongue is coated, have headache, am nervous and nervous and nervous with chronic constipation. Please help me."

Answer: You need a laxative blood-purifying treatment in the form of three-grain hypo-nutrient tablets (not sallow). Overcome the tendency to constipation and gradually your good health and pure blood will return.

BATTERY'S ANNUAL REUNION.

The reunion of the Eleventh Indiana battery, which was held Thursday, was well attended in spite of the fact that the veteran battery has dwindled down during the past year. A number of machines, donated by citizens and county officials, were used to take the soldiers to the home of Charles Roy on the Coldwater road, where the reunion was held. Many who could not leave at this time were met at stop 20 on the Huntington interurban.

A new railway station costing $2,500,000 has recently been completed at Macon, Ga.

Tomatoes Were Offered for $1.50 to $1.65—Other Prices.

There were not as many customers as many farmers on city market Thursday morning as usual. There may have been two reasons, however. The season is getting late and the agitation because of the high prices prevailing on the market is causing farmers to hesitate to bring in their produce and vegetables and also causing buyers to stay away. It has been cheaper to buy from local growers.

String and wax beans ran from 10 to 12 cents a pound and from $2.00 to $2.50 a bushel. Many of them were prime and some were indifferent in quality. One farmer who offered a basket of twenty pounds for $2 of the fine cut stem beans said: "People think we ask high prices for them, but if they knew the work of cutting them in addition to the raising of them, they might not think so." And when it came to a bargain in beans he had the best one in sight both as to price and quality.

Tomatoes were mostly only fair in quality and ran from $1.50 to $1.65 a bushel, but the high price prevailed. Butter sold for 45, 43 and 50 cents a pound. Eggs ran the scale from 40 to 47 cents, everyone declaring them as "strictly fresh." Potatoes were not very plentiful and sold from $1.40 to $1.50 a bushel. Pickles, the best shown, were 40 to 70 cents a hundred. Cabbage was two cents a pound.

"There is talk of closing the market up, I hear," said a woman who has had a big patronage of city customers for several years. "If we were to sell more than the grocers we would hear a kick from them, so what shall we do?"

RED CROSS RESPONDS TO APPEAL FOR HELP

To Use Mite Box Donations to Buy Material for Comfort Pillows.

The Red Cross headquarters presented a busy appearance Thursday with every one plying herself to help set out the 500 comfort pillows in the next ten days. All other work has been dropped during this period and a concentrated effort is being made to get these out as rapidly as possible.

The money which is donated to the mite-box has been used in the general fund but for the next few days it will be used to buy material for these pillows. The people of Fort Wayne have not been helping as they should and the work of the leaders, who have promised these pillows within ten days, will be greatly aided if those desiring to help would do so.

SOAP-BOX SEDITION DUE FOR A MUZZLE

A Nation-Wide Attack on Treason Urged by Defense Society.

New York, Sept. 20.—"Soap-box sedition" was denounced by speakers at a luncheon of the American Defense society here and resolutions passed for a nation-wide campaign to "suppress treasonable orators and to suspend all treasonable newspapers whether in German, English or other languages." The resolutions declared "that a widespread campaign of disloyalty is being waged in the United States by pro-German, friends of Irish separatism, socialists, pacifists, anarchists, I. W. W.'s and all the forces of treason."

James M. Beck, one of the speakers, in asserting that it was vital that these forces should be combated, said that "on the part of uncouth thousands of American people there is a spirit of almost apathetic interest which makes fertile soil for the growth of the noxious weed of sedition." The society voted to hold a mass meeting here on the subject.

GARDEN SUPERVISOR CALLED TO COLORS

Fred W. Gray Leaves With Second Contingent for Camp Taylor.

Fred W. Gray, who has been in charge of the work of the local relief committee in Fort Wayne and official supervisor of the city garden movement here, left Thursday for his home in Terre Haute, preparatory to going to Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., Friday. Gray could have postponed his leaving for the army until October 3 or later, but preferred to get in earlier and stand a chance for advancement because of his previous military training.

Mr. Gray has been here since June in the interest of the local gardening project. He was employed in similar work for a short time to come here at Indianapolis. Gray is a graduate of the Purdue university school of agriculture. The Purdue work here has elicited favorable comment from all parts of the state. Under his direction much valuable produce has been raised on vacant lots in the city which have never before been under cultivation. The city garden plan was thoroughly organized and put on systematic basis by Gray during his stay here and much benefit was gained by city gardeners through his scientific knowledge.

Gray served as a member of the Purdue battery of the Indiana national guard in the Mexican border campaign and is eminently qualified for army service.

The work of the food relief committee of which Frank H. Higman is chairman, will now be in charge of M. Chastell, a practical farmer and gardener, who has been assisting Gray with the campaign here.

F. J. MORSCHES OFFERS USE OF HIS AUTO

Room for More Members to Boost Suburban Day Events.

F. J. Morsches, 229 Masterson avenue, has volunteered the use of his car for the advertising trip which will be made by the local recruiting officer, Augustus C. Kaftan, Friday. The trip, which is the second to be made this week for the purpose of advertising naval recruiting, will entail visits to Kendallville, Garrett, Auburn, Huntertown, Swan, Avilla, Lisbon and the other neighboring towns.

Mr. Morsches said in offering the use of his car that he wished to do something, and that he was not eligible for other kinds of service. The car for the first trip was furnished by L. M. Hallenstein, of West Berry street. The local recruiting officer received instructions from the state recruiting headquarters at Indianapolis Thursday saying machinist mates for the aviation corps would no longer be accepted. Cooks and bakers may as well have been discontinued in naval reserve.

Enlistments as apprentices seamen are now desired most by the navy according to the local officer.

OTHERS TO JOIN IN SUBURBAN DAY PLANS

HOW TO JOIN ASSOCIATION.

These merchants, hotels, motion picture houses, bakers, manufacturers, tailors, photographers, realtors, automobile dealers, garages, and others who wish to join in the Suburban Day Trade movement, should apply in person or by phone (3098) at the association headquarters, 300-301 People's Trust building. Membership is available to all who are willing to co-operate unselfishly to make Fort Wayne a greater city of real, warm-hearted people, by cultivating and exhibiting those social and business qualities which attract and hold worthwhile friendships.

There is still room for a number of real live-live members in the list of boosters of the Fort Wayne Suburban Day plan. The way to join, together with the qualifications, is outlined above. The good beginning which was made Wednesday is but the beginning of greater things for the future, a fact realized by all who are interested in the movement. The greater success of Suburban Day Trade is based on a constant development of the popularity of the Fort Wayne stores and the places of entertainment to which the outside people are invited.

Many of the people who came to the city yesterday were from Ohio towns, a large percentage being from the neighborhoods of Van Wert, Wayne, Convoy, Willshire, Antwerp, Paulding and Oakwood.

Perfect weather conditions and splendid facilities for travel added materially to the success of the first Suburban Day. It was found that many made early purchases of Christmas remembrances, chiefly for the boys at the front or in the training camps.

Early preparations for the second Suburban Day are now in progress, and with the development of the idea, greater things are promised down through the weeks and months to come.

WOMAN'S QUESTION GOT THEIR NERVE

Rhum Players Reported to Police and One is in Wrong.

"Are you men gambling?" was always the greeting interrogation when a woman, of the reforming type, entered the cigar store, managed by Frank Hill, at the corner of Lewis and Calhoun streets.

"No we are not gambling," was always the brief answer by Hill and no effort was made to give a soothing effect to the words.

The woman frankly admitted to the circle of her conscientious friends that the card playing, in a corner of the cigar store, did not appear right to her although she knows not the difference between a royal flush and two pairs with a disconcerting six.

Each week brought one or more untimely and jarring visits by the woman. The abrupt approach of the questioned ruined the sense of isolation for the card players. In desperation Hill appealed to Police Chief Lenz, a week ago.

"How can I keep that woman out of here?" Hill wanted to know. "We are playing only for amusement, but she has my nerve."

Chief Lenz told Hill that the law placed no barriers between card players and scrutinizing women.

Then the chief began to ponder over the situation and finally arrived at the conclusion that maybe a woman's intuition is to be trusted. A watch was kept at the cigar store.

The name of Frank Hill appeared on the police blotter, Thursday morning. He is charged with operating a gambling house in which cards are played for money. He is at liberty under bond for trial on next Thursday.

Police claim that they have proof that Hill was allowing a rum game to be operated in his place and that he took mule in the sum of five cents per game.

More to Follow.

Police will make a careful investigation of the case of Thaddeus Skeer, 15, and Carl Axt, 16, who pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing an automobile tire, in city court, Thursday. The boys told that they removed a tire from an automobile in front of the Palace theater, earlier in the week and that they hid the tire in the basement of the Metropolitan restaurant.

The boys testified that Skeer had once before given an automobile tire to Anthony Tonscoona, jitney line operator, and that they had told him of the theft, of the second tire. Police think that this may not be the first offense of the lads.

Both boys were fined $1 and costs and sentenced to 120 days at the state farm by Judge H. W. Kerr upon the petit larceny charge. Parents of Carl Axt, who were in court and who shed tears when the sentence was read, will appeal his case. They put up $300 bond for the boy's release until time for a second trial.

Other Police Court Cases.

Charles Baarst was fined $20 and costs on an intoxication charge. John Smith and Steve Ray were released.

WOMAN AGENT MEETING.

Friday at 1:30 p. m. the chairmen of the various women clubs throughout the country will meet in the assembly room of the court house to plan for the employing of a woman agent to direct the work of the women in the county. This meeting was postponed from Wednesday. The plan is to have the woman agent take the same place among the women as the county agent has among the men and direct their work.
